MINOT OPTIC IN HANDS OF A RECEIVER

The Grand Forks Herald commenting on the present trouble of the Minot Optic says:

On application of the Second National Bank of Minot, in an action to foreclose a mortgage, Judge Fisk yesterday morning appointed R. C. Sanborn as receiver of the newspaper property. Heiner & Palmer, owners of the newspaper property are cited to appear in the district court Saturday and show cause why the receivership should not be continued.

When the present owners of the paper came in possession of the property, a second mortgage was given to the Second National bank for $3,800. M. S. Williams holding a first mortgage for $1,200. The indebtedness to the bank has grown to something like $5,000 and a conservative estimate of the material places its value at a thousand dollars less than this amount, not taking the circulation and good will of the Daily and Weekly Optic into consideration.

The Optic was established several years ago by Marshall McClure and since that time has had several proprietors. Palmer & Heiner have made a good newspaper out of the Optic, but the claims against it held by the bank and Mr. Williams will probably mean that there will be a change of proprietors. There is little done at Minot but has some political significance, but what this presages in a political way does not appear by the proceedings so far.

New Millinery Store.

Mrs. L. B. Heritage who bought the Cochrane millinery store is here and is preparing for a big millinery opening some time next week. She is making extensive improvements about the place and will have one of the finest establishments of the kind in the Northwest. Her announcement will appear later. Mrs. L. B. Heritage has a record for making fine hats and will no doubt sustain her reputation.

Miss Van Tuyl Wins Piano.

Miss Mae Vant Tuyl daughter of Midot's contractor, won the handsome Wesley piano given to the most popular young lady. She had 650,000 votes, while her nearest competitor, Miss Luella Connely had 224,000.

Minot Schools Open.

The Minot schools opened Monday with the greatest attendance in their history. Many of the rooms are in an overcrowded condition and will remain so until the completion of the new building.

Baby Dies.

Andy Botz's month old baby died and the funeral was held today. Mr. and Mrs. Botz have the sympathy of their many friends.

THE BEST BUTTER IN THE STATE

The Minot Creamery was represented at the state fair at Grand Forks last week by the manager, Mr. Thompson, and the sample of fine print butter carried off the second prize over competitors from all over North Dakota and Minnesota. A Minnesota butter maker took the first premium. The Minot creamery was the only one in the state which secured any recognition at all. The butter maker at the creamery Mr. Knudson naturally feels a little proud over the fact that his butter ranked so well, it averaging 93½ per cent. Minot should appreciate her creamery.

AN INTERESTING ANNOUNCEMENT.

In this issue appears the big advertisement of the Keavin Department store, a business that will be run according to metropolitan ideas, which of course means steady advertising and plenty of it. The announcement is interesting for in it, Mr. Keavin tells just what he intends to do with the public.

PRINTER'S INK.

P. V. McCoy finds that his jewelry business is so rushing that he has engaged a second jeweler, C. I. Walls, from St. Paul. He has been compelled also to add an extra druggist, F. P. Taylor, from St. Peter, Minn. Mr. McCoy advertises exclusively his jewelry and drug business in the INDEPENDENT, which fact is a moral in itself. In this day and age of the business world, the man who is not afraid to use the printer's ink, is the man who does the business. Less than three years ago Mr. McCoy started his business with one clerk and now employs six.

Smith's Baby Dies.

One of Clerk of the Court Smith's four year old boy twins died of cholera morbus Saturday morning at 6:40 o'clock after a short illness. The funeral was held Sunday, the little one's remains being interred at Surrey.

The Oldest Mason.

R. W. Davidson is at Cream, Minn., where he went to bring his father with him back to Minot. The old gentleman is 95 years of age and very spry for one so old. He is the oldest Mason in the state of Minnesota and one of the oldest in the United States.

"Whiniver annybody offers to give ye something f'r nawthin' or something f'r less thin its worth, or more f'r something thin its worth, don't take anny chances. Yell f'r a policeman."—Mr. Dooley.

We are not offering something for nothing, neither are we offering goods for less than they are worth. But we do offer high grade goods at reasonable prices.

Our stock is overflowing now with appropriate gifts in silver, cut glass, china, fine clocks and jewelry at the lowest prices consistent with high grade goods.
