AROUND ABOUT THE CITY

A. P. Slocum returning from the Burlington picnic, stopped to fix his automobile, and left his auto tools along the side of the road. He would like to have the finder return them to him.

John Drummond, our old Burlington farmer friend, was a visitor at the Independent's banquet Saturday. John says he has a colt that is going to win the blue ribbon at the county fair in September.

W. J. Evans of Calgary, Alta., arrived to visit his sister, Mrs. G. D. Colcord and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans. Mr. Evans owns considerable land in the famous Alberta wheat district and recently erected a large business block at Klamath Falls, Ore., where he engaged in the real estate business two years.

Elias Preskey was in from his Glenburn farm Saturday. He says that all he will have to do till fall is to watch his 400 acre crop grow. He says Nic Roles of Glenburn, has a fine 1000 acre crop.

J. J. Beeghly, a north prairie farmer has a field of Minnesota Special No. 163 wheat that will ripen the last of July. This is a strain between the Veiva Chaff and the Fife and Mr. Beeghly says it ripens earlier and yields four or five bushels more than the ordinary kind.

The nineteen months' old son of E. M. Puarica of Reeder, N. D., was drowned in a stock water tank.

Senator Simpson, the eloquent attorney from Dickinson, was in Minot Saturday, looking after his Congressional duties that he would be at the head of the list, with Devine second. Blais dell third, Norton fourth and N. Davis fifth. At this writing, we don't know whether the Senator's prognostications were correct or not.

Winter rye is one of the dependable North Dakota crops when put in right. C. Auriand, who will begin cutting his magnificent crop of winter rye in about another week, says he put it in according to instructions from the agricultural college, although he was ashamed of his work at the time he was doing it. The rye was sown on stubble, covered fairly well with thistles. These held the snow and the rye was given an early start this spring. The farmers who sowed their rye on plowed land didn't do nearly as well.

H. L. Glazer came in from his Makoti farmstead. He is building a business block at Makoti, and will soon open an up to date general store. With his ability as a merchant, he ought to give that section of the country a store they can feel proud of.

The Prison Reflector appeared on yellow paper last week. Editor Noah will establish a reputation as a yellow journalist if he isn't careful. In perusing the columns of the paper, we note that Bert Conroy, one of the Sawyer bank robbers, has been given a position on the paper as local editor. It is presumed that Conroy's business will be to chronicle "comings and goings" of the inmates. Robinson, another Sawyer bank robber, has been given the contract of erecting the grand stand for the base ball park. The prisoners are going to celebrate the Fourth and the prison nine will play the Bismarck team. The population of the penitentiary has dwindled to 174, two of the inmates being women.

The supreme court decided that first and second choice votes were optional with the voters.

A seven and a half pound boy was born to Editor and Mrs. Smart Sunday.

Jim Kennedy, our national committeeman, made a hit (we don't think) down at Chicago last week, when he voted to seat the Taft delegates in preference to those honestly chosen for Roosevelt. Jim Kennedy's political sun has set.

Wm. H. Radcliffe, a cook, who had a claim near Gladys postoffice, died from injuries received in a street fight in Williston during the firemen's tournament. Radcliffe disputed a bill and his antagonist broke his jaw.

It is claimed by those who have tried it right around Omamee that holding grain too long after harvesting, expecting a raise in price is a losing proposition. There may be a little slump in price when the bump or crop is ready for market but if you see profitable returns drop it into your bins and you know where you are at. The demand for good barley this year is going to be brisk as the pure food law requires purity in its products.—Omamee Herald.

W. A. Stickley passed thru Minot Friday enroute to Grand Forks, from Kenmare. "Stick" is making good on the Times as his friends all predicted he would. Mrs. Stickley who is still at Kenmare is not gaining very fast. She was up and around until recently when she fell sustaining serious injuries.

Mrs. Frank Roach was called to her home, Arcadia, S. D. by the serious illness of her father.

Mrs. Jos. Roach and Gladys Roach left for Lakeville, Minn., where they will spend the summer at the beautiful lakes.

Walter W. Madden, of Plaza, one of the Berthold reservation homesteaders, visited Minot Monday and added his name to our list. His former home was Ferguson Falls, Minn.

F. C. Neuman of Max, visited Minot friends Monday. There are three of the Neuman brothers living near each other at Max, all of whom are prospering mightily, and they deserve it, too.

John O. Underdahl from Plaza, transacted business in Minot Monday. John says the crops look even better around Plaza than here, and the farmers are jubilant for they harvested very little grain the past two seasons. He says he noticed farmers around Berthold still seeding.

The Economy Drug Co. appears in the Independent this week, with an attractive new advertisement, something special. The Economy has secured some very classy advertising matter that will interest our readers from week to week.

Hart Swalstead, the up to date jeweler, has secured some very attractive new cuts for his advertising, which will appear in different form from week to week. Our advertisers are bound to get their money's worth and then some, if they will change their ads. frequently.

Gordon Bros. inform us that their big clearance sale has far exceeded all expectations. When a merchant does just as he agrees, there's always bound to be a lot of satisfied customers.

Dr. Louis Kane, who is an interne in a Chicago hospital, arrived Tuesday morning to attend the wedding of his sister, Miss Beate Kane, to Edmund Schullenberg. He will be the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Kane while here.

The fastest time made by any pacer this year, was made in Minneapolis last week by Don Densmore, D. A. Dinnie's five year old pacer. The time was 2:06. Don will be entered in the free for all in the grand circuit, and will start at Grand Rapids, Minn. July 8.

Dr. Frank A. Brugman, who has been connected with the Illinois Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary for the past year, will arrive in Minot soon to visit his many friends. The doctor's wife is visiting at her old home in Iowa City, Ia.

J. P. Barrett of Minneapolis, former captain of the Minneapolis fire department, was a Minot visitor Monday, talking Johnson hose to our city fathers. Mr. Barrett, who was one of the bravest firemen in the city, was so badly injured a year or so ago that he has been unable to fight fire since.

The First National Bank of Fargo offers $300 in prizes to the farmers of the state for the best corn grown. No tract to contain less than an acre. The prizes are to be given under the auspices of the Better Farming Movement.

Two Dogden lads, 17 years old, Adam Bighouse and Nick Deshlevy, have confessed to the robbery of Lakka's store. Goods with the cost marks were found in their possession. The reform school for them.

Mrs. J. M. Hazlett of Deering, was operated upon at St. Joseph's hospital Friday for gall stones. She seems to be recovering nicely.

W. E. Mitchell, editor of the old Norwich Pioneer, now engaged in the newspaper business at Shelby, Mont. was married last week to Miss Ruth Harper. The newly married couple visited Norwich and Granville friends several days.

PAINT

It takes no longer to apply good paint to your house, barn, carriage or automobile than it does a poor one. In fact, it takes much longer, and, as labor is the most expensive part of painting, it always pays to buy the best.

LION BRAND HOUSE PAINT

has been made for the past forty years by one factory, and has the approval of all who have ever used it. Lion Brand Paint is known for its great covering capacity and wearing qualities. Insist on your painter using Lion Brand Paint, and keep gasoline and benzine away from it while it is being put on.

FLINT'S ELASTIC RED BARN PAINT

is made of the best English Venetian Red, ground in oil instead of mixed by hand. The oil and pigment are thoroughly incorporated and will not separate as with hand-mixed paint. One gallon of Flint's Elastic will cover as much surface as one gallon and a half on other paints costing very near as much.

Fourth of July and the races are coming. Your buggy needs painting. A coat of Permanent Carriage paint will make it look like new.
A quart will cost you but $1.00

Your Single Buggy Harness may be quite badly worn. You can get a new one at one-fourth off the regular price.
