Mr. and Mrs. Trout Surprised.

Last Sunday, as Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Trout at their home nine miles southeast of Minot were quietly passing their time away, reading and writing, they were interrupted by the rattle of a wagon, and looking out they saw a half dozen or more rigs driving into the yard. Soon their little home was full of people and baskets of eatables. In a few moments the ladies had coffee made and we all sat down to a repeat fit for a king. Mr. and Mrs. Trout were presented with a beautiful white and gold dinner set. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Groethe, Johnson, J. Hagen, Platsen, Mrs. Olson, Tapsley and Grandma Hagen and Mrs. Nump and Misses Theresa Sundquist, Mathilda Hunt and Mabel Henderson and Messrs. T. Hogen and Gustine Olson. Mr. and Mrs. Trout wish to express their thanks with these lines: So we thank you, dear kind neighbors, For the kindness you have shown, And we too, wish each one of you, Many blessings for your own.

Wm. A. Carlson, a thrifty Deering farmer, was in the city Monday.

Judge Wallace, the Burlington coal baron, paid the Independent a call Monday. Ira Sweet has gone to Scooby, Mont., where he will file on a half section of land. The first car load of lumber for the new eight-room school building for Minot arrived Monday. Ed Cain has gone to Williston to accept a position with the Herald. He accompanied Editor Ferries home Monday. Glen Kerr, a New Rockford farmer, seeded timothy March 12 and 13. The snow that followed will insure him a fine crop. Gov. Devine went to Crosby Monday to address a big meeting of the Better Farming Clubs of that section of the state. Mr. Jerome, who was engaged in newspaper work in Minot for several months, has gone to Kenmare, where he has accepted a position with the News. W. G. Broyles, secretary of the East Kerkelle Farmers' Club, was in the city Saturday. This is one of the largest clubs in the county, having 22 members.

BILLY WISE WRITES THE PROFESSOR.

Dear Dad: Your nice, sarcastic letter reached, but you were right. I have hauled four hundred posts from the Rogers yard and I hope your rest nights now will be more peaceful. You sure did lose a lot of sleep over those fence posts. Now I am ready to put a lot of holes in the landscape for said posts. You are correct. I haven't got much time before seeding for I've got some fencing to do.

I was over to John Olson's today and he was building a thing that looks like a cross between a smoke stack and a wooden bird cage with ambitions. I knew it was a silo, but I thought I'd kid John a little. "What are you making," says I, "a round barn for those ring-boned horses of yours?" He says, "No, this is a road roller."

"Well, what's it on end for?" asks I. "It means it's a high roller," John says, "anybody is a high roller who feeds enough cattle to have one of these little towers."

"I don't see no automobiles," says I, "around here."

Just then John hits his finger a lick with the hammer and before he answered he spoke a few cuss words real serious and determined.

"If some of you guys," he says, "would get one of the Wisconsin Silo plans from the Rogers Lumber Co., and not ask fool questions, I wouldn't knock off a thumb and you'd have an automobile sooner." And he goes back to work and I goes home.

Say dad, that silo is some machine, believe me, and I'm going to get the Rogers Lumber Co.'s plan for it. Olson says this silo costs about half what any other kind does.

Your son,
BILLY WISE.

For the Stomach and Liver.
I. N. Stuart, West Webster, N. Y., writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Tablets for disorders of the stomach and liver off and on for the past five years, and it affords me pleasure to state that I have found them to be just as represented. They are mild in their action and the results have been satisfactory. I value them highly." For sale by all dealers.

Thos. Poole of Bismarck is spending a few days in the city looking up political powder. One of the state editors referred to "Tommy" as the man who swept out the state capitol and wrote the decisions of the supreme court, but it seems that he did not include his other numerous "lines" of work.
