LOGAN MURMURS.

Mr. Will Forbes, who was a Tasker visitor last week end, reports an interesting trip.

The Samaritan Ladies' Aid will be entertained by Mrs. J. J. Murphy at her charming residence on Riverside avenue on Thursday, Sept. 15. A cordial invitation is extended members and friends.

We are informed that Mr. J. D. Bell, one of our own pioneer settlers, is suffering sadly with typhoid. The community generally extends the wish sincere, that recovery may be speedy.

Mrs. Alfred Stredwick entertained the members of the Latter Day Aid on Thursday last. Many members and many friends contributed cheerily to the afternoon task, and an enjoyable visit was brought to a conclusion by the serving of a luncheon, dainty, delicate and delicious. Two new members were enrolled.

Elder Sparling of the Latter Day Saints preached to a large congregation on Sunday evening at the school house. On Sunday, Sept. 12, at 7:30 p. m., Mr. Sparling will conduct service at Logan.

Rev. Reynolds, Presbyterian minister from Surrey, preaches each Sabbath afternoon at the school. An invitation, cordial and sincere, is extended to all, and an eloquent and scholarly interpretation of the Divine Word awaits those who seek Truth.

Miss Merne Hecker and Miss Iola Horning were visitors recently to Burlington, the guests of Mr. William Graham. To appreciate the picturesque beauties of Logan, an occasional visit to less favored spots such as Tasker or Burlington helps considerably.

Mrs. McCutcheon of Drake is enjoying a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Tabler, of North Prairie.

Mrs. Ira Oard, who for many months has sojourned 'neath the sunny skies of Cuba's charming clime, will shortly resume her residence at Logan.

Pete Greenburg is again endeavoring to navigate the local freight twixt the Magic City and McEwen's. His efforts, though well meaning, are blessed with but poor results. When all but dissipated bats had retired to roost, Pete groped his way through our town to arouse from well earned slumber friend Egan. Jim, being tough, is naturally obliging, and ere the day dawned had hauled to obscurity a relic of primitive automobile eccentricities. A pleasant Sunday evening for Pete.

The young folks of the district are looking forward to the re-opening of school, which has been fixed for Monday, September 13th. We understand that a nine months' term will be adopted this session.

Mr. Ed. Mostad, who represents Prosperity on South Prairie, spent several days at the Twin Cities during the last week.

Mr. Sundquist, who has resided during the past five years with Mr. Swen Johnson, left during the week for Minneapolis, where he will visit with his daughter.

Mr. Art Morey is again back on the farm after spending several days at Minot, where his son has been undergoing treatment at St. Joseph's Hospital. We were glad to learn that the boy is making satisfactory progress.

Messrs. Bowman, Havelena and Blocker of Sawyer paid several visits to our growing town during the past week. Mr. Bowman completed to his entire satisfaction a deal in local real estate, and was more than surprised at the value of business lots in the town that is to be. These cannot be bought for $3.20 back taxes.

Misses Mabel and Sarah Henderson who have been visiting at West Point, Iowa, and Eau Claire, Wis., are expected to return in the course of a few days. Miss Sarah Henderson will have charge of a school near Voltaire.

Gordon Wulph has had quite a crew busy with excavation work for the basement of the new business block at the corner of University Avenue and First street. Gordon has acquired an interest in the livery barn, and bids fair to be known as the "Phil Meyers" of Logan. He intends to open a modern cafeteria, and the basement is to be converted into a pool hall and bowling alley.

Mr. Judd Gilletta arrived with a car load of horses from Clear Lake, Minn., on Saturday. The old scout looks younger than ever and will operate two threshing rigs in this vicinity this fall.

Brother Humphreys' illuminating dissertation on the subject of life insurance enabled the local lean policy peddler to appreciate the wisdom of the ancients, who decreed that some things pass some men's understandings.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Oard and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Oard and family journeyed by auto to Balfour last week end, enjoying a pleasing visit among old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Putney, J. W. Putney and Henry Beck were business visitors last week end. Mose Putney and Will Putney were also taking in the sights of Main street.

John Bolden, who with his brother Frank has just completed the harvesting of 210 acres of excellent crop, was a business visitor.

Mrs. J. O. Brien is, we are glad to learn, now convalescent.

Mrs. C. P. Lee of Bellingham, Wash., and her sister, Miss Agnes Nedrud, who have been visiting at the A. C. experimental farm in the valley, took leave of Logan and vicinity last week end.

Every Friday evening a religious meeting is held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Stredwick. Each and every good neighbor is cordially invited to enjoy these meetings.

Mrs. Werner will entertain the members of the Latter Day Aid on Thursday, Sept. 9th, and will be glad to welcome all.

Burlington's fame needs electrifying occasionally. Wandering threshing rigs from that vicinity are trekking to the parts where crops grow, and between rust, poor soil and farming, it is well that nature endowed Burlington and vicinity with a product which man has not to cultivate, but merely dig.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Kuchenbecker were week end visitors at Columbus, where K. Secundus has established a nice business in the automobile and implement line.

Burlington is making great preparations to celebrate the inauguration of the electric era in that vicinity. Brother Jim refuses, however, to make known just exactly what delicate tints are to illumine the shades of that much vaunted village. But Logan will visit you on the opening day.

Dr. Darland was a business visitor on Monday evening. Doc is a keen judge of a good hunting dog, and has a pup of great promise to introduce to chickendom on the 7th.

Mr. Jesse Giles of the Cozy Cafe is among the enterprising of our commercial circle, and his establishment has now become the most popular resort for visitors from the Magic City.

The growth of Logan during the past month has been phenomenal. The recently completed elevator erected for the Minnekota Co., makes an imposing addition to local business houses, and typifies all that is modern in equipment. With a storage capacity of 30,000 bushels, crop prospects in this vicinity, bid fair to tax this to the uttermost. Mr. J. I. Brady, as buyer, is known to, and esteemed by the majority of farmers, and we venture to predict that his unflinching energy will secure a patronage which will arouse the envy of moles in the Sad Village east.

The Farmers' Store at Logan is a busy center, the services of four clerks being necessary to handle the customer orders. The foresight of Mr. J. C. Oard in maintaining through the lean years, a first class stock of merchandise, has been proven beyond question, and today Logan possesses a departmental store, which comes as a boon and a blessing to man and his frau.

The Hotel Metropole has registered many celebrities in grain and railroad circles during the past week. Mr. Anderson, general auditor of the Minneapolis Elevator Co., has been a frequent visitor, and the Soo representatives have been busy surveying the new spur track to J. J. Brand's potato and cabbage farm. Host Bean is planning the erection of a twenty room addition.

Mr. H. C. Kuchenbecker has for many years bought grain at the Farmers Elevator, working during the season like a Trojan. Competition today has to be faced, but this will disturb not the equanimity of the genial Herman, whose appetite for pure unadulterated work has never been satisfied. A natural business aptitude, blended with a keen desire to give to all service and an affability of manner, will attract from each compass point those who appreciate fair treatment. Logan is now in the position to handle promptly the immense crop this territory promises, and is destined to emphasize her importance as a grain center.

The First State Bank of Logan will in the course of a few days, be ready for business. The institution under liberal management should prove a convenience to many.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Forbes Ross have acquired several lots in the best business block of our town and will enter the commercial field in the course of the next few weeks.

Mr. J. J. Murphy is expecting to marshal his crew on Monday next and will be busy threshing during the balance of the season. Joe has a good rig and a clean cut crew.

Mr. Fremont Cook of Oak Grove Farm was busily engaged filling the capacious silos on Wednesday. He expects to have a record crop threshed by the last of this week.

Mr. Kiffe, with his crew of carpenters, who have just completed the erection of the Minnekota elevator at this point, left on Tuesday for Braddock. Mr. Kiffe, though resident but three weeks in our midst, is blessed with the happy knack of making friends, and his departure is regretted by all. Possessing a natural talent for music in every phase, he afforded the natives each evening a vocal and instrumental program, assisted by Mr. Fred Mahler, which delighted all. A ready wit to which an inexhaustible fund of pleasing patter is added, a sunny smile for all, pathos and humor in song and verse, giving to Logan an entertainment elevating and interesting, and to K. and his crew we would say, come again.

Logan is the garden spot of North Dakota. And in every garden weeds will creep. But First street West is red with a growth of weeds rank and unsightly. Those who have cultivated land adjoining would give evidence of civic pride did they at once arrange for the removal of this blot upon an otherwise fair landscape.

Mr. Elmer Cook was among the first to get busy in the country with the corn binder, cutting a fine crop for Fremont's silo. Two car loads of lumber are being unloaded for the local yard. Mr. Humes has erected a commodious shed wherein to store the new stock of finishing material and is now in a position to handle promptly and courteously the patronage of those who contemplate building.

Mr. J. J. Murphy recently acquired four lots on Main street and contemplates the erection of a business block in the near future.

Logan affords an excellent location for a capable blacksmith, and a man possessing energy and enterprise, will not find a better opening along the Soo system.

Mr. and Mrs. Erenfeldt of Anamoose were visitors on Wednesday, en route by auto, for the Heavenly Sphere. Mrs. Shaw accompanied them to Logan.

"No Hunting Allowed" signs may be procured at the Independent office in small quantities for ten cents each. Rates on larger quantities.
