

I have never yet had to apologize for my appearance

WHEREVER I go, whatever the occasion, I am always perfectly secure in the knowledge that the coat or suit I happen to be wearing is, in elegance of appearance and in perfection of taste, entirely in harmony with the environment.

I've had that comfortable feeling ever since I first started wearing a PRINTZESS. I used to spend so much time when I intended going any place where I wanted to be particularly sure of my appearance, looking over my wardrobe and trying to select a suitable costume. It just always seemed that I didn't have anything to wear. I fretted and fussed and fumed, and when I finally did select something and go, half the pleasure of the occasion was marred by a feeling of insecurity about my dress.

But now I simply slip on my PRINTZESS and go smiling and serene in the confidence that I am dressed beyond the criticism of even the most critical. And with less worry and less preparation I enjoy myself all the more.

For those who are particularly careful about their appearance we offer PRINTZESS Suits and Coats in a greatly varied assortment of styles. So many different materials and colorings are represented that you can easily select a garment that will be just the thing for any occasion that may arise. You will always be proud of your appearance and we know that whenever you wear one of these PRINTZESS garments you will remember with pleasure the place where it was bought. That is why we extend you a hearty invitation to come into our garment department and permit us to help you select your Fall and Winter Coat or Suit.

THE FAIR

MINOT and VICINITY

John Sveen has returned from a business trip east.

Editor Knudson of Ray was in the city Saturday for his welcome weekly visit.

Mrs. Thomas Vincent and daughter, who have been visiting friends at Fessenden, returned home Friday.

Minot high school's second team defeated the Mohall team Saturday at Riverside Park by a score of 40 to 6.

A small fire occurred at the New York Cafe Tuesday, but before the fire department had arrived one of the waitresses had dashed a pail of water on the flames and the services of our fire ladders were not needed.

Paul V. McCoy has gone to Minneapolis and will possibly visit New York to buy stock before returning.

E. Ellison has returned from Washington, D. C., where he attended the National Encampment of the G. A. R.

Anton Mortansen reports the theft of a fur robe and his overcoat, stolen from his auto in front of his Kozy Cafe Friday night.

The Minot degree team went to Grand Forks Saturday to assist in initiating a large class of candidates in the Knights of Columbus council.

Among those who made the trip were Attorney J. J. Coyle, Jos. Hodgins and Wm. Mulroy.

W. S. Moran was in from his Simcoe farm Saturday. He is stacking his grain, doing his own cooking, and he needs a cook badly.

Attorney Karl Stoudt has returned from Seattle, where he attended to legal business and visited a short time at the home of an aunt.

Dr. F. J. Brugman has returned from Chicago, where he spent two weeks attending clinics at the Illinois Eye and Ear Infirmary, with which institution he was formerly connected. He attended a class reunion and visited at his old home, Davenport, on his return home.

D. Miller from north of Granville, transacted business in the city Tuesday. He says that threshing is practically completed in that vicinity.

J. Goldberg, of the Minot Department store, has returned from a visit of several weeks in the east, spent in selecting bargains for the Minot Department store.

The Independent printed sale bills for F. E. Cook of Logan this week, who will hold a big farm sale Nov. 4. We omitted to mention that the sale will start at 10 o'clock and that there would be a free lunch at noon. This would be taken for granted by anybody who knows Mr. Cook, but we make the correction for fear that some might think they would be in danger of going hungry.

The Minot high school football team lost their first game of the season Saturday, when they were defeated by the fast Grand Forks high at the Forks by a score of 20 to 0.

A large number of the Masonic fraternity, their wives, and members of the Eastern Star enjoyed a social evening at the Temple on Friday night. Dancing formed the main diversion, following which the company were served a delicious luncheon.

Jasper Baker has returned from Minneapolis. The aged warrior started for Washington, D. C., to attend the National Encampment, but his physical condition was such that when he reached Minneapolis, his physicians ordered him to terminate his journey.

Charles Lowell, a prominent attorney from Hastings, Minn., was a visitor in this city today. He had been looking after legal business at Makoti and left this afternoon for Tower. He is an old time friend of C. F. Truax and he made this office a pleasant call.

W. Schaffer, from south of the city, showed the Independent man a check for $167 and some cents which he received from the sale of two 2-year-old steers. In addition to having a few steers to turn off every fall, Mr. Schaffer is an extensive farmer.

The Fargo Courier-News has offered to exchange with the weekly newspapers providing they will run an advertisement amounting to the difference in the subscription price. This seems like a fair proposition and the Independent is going to fall for it, anyway.

Our old friend John Andersson writes from Triple Lake, Sask., that the farmers have grown a bumper crop this year and threshing is about half done. His wheat averaged 28 bushels, oats 30 and barley 25. He reports several fields where wheat has gone from 45 to 46 bushels.

W. A. Miller of the Western Realty Co., has returned from Glasgow, Mont., where the company maintains offices which are in charge of his brother, J. M. Miller. He reports threshing farther along in Montana than here. While some of the yields have been phenomenal, North Dakota has raised a better crop on the average.

Matt Johnson—6088—publisher of the Omeme Herald, was in the city on business Tuesday. Matt says a week will clean up the threshing in that section of our commonwealth. One threshing rig that had a hard time getting a crew has pulled in for the winter and several have moved down into the Hurd and Lansford countries.

The Minnesota state board of pardons has granted a pardon to Charles Currie of Grafton, whose father, 96 years of age, recently visited the Stillwater prison begging for clemency for his son. The young man was sentenced to serve five years for stealing a keg of beer at Oslo, Minn. The father explained that he needed his son to do the work which he was no longer able to look after.

Elder D. T. Dierdorff of Surrey hired two men Saturday to help him thresh. They could not work that afternoon and that evening a third laborer came along and was hired. The next day was Sunday and they enjoyed life at the Elder's hospitable home, remaining until after breakfast Monday morning. Last seen, they were hiking off across the fields towards Minot, having put away a large quantity of the Elder's most delicious viands. Mr. Dierdorff recognized the men in Minot Tuesday and had a notion to have them arrested for beating their board bill.

William Gibb of Brookbank was a visitor with his son, W. C. Gibb, of this city, forepart of the week. Wulie's father is one of the early pioneers of this section of the state and endured long wif his gudewife mony of the hardships that gang wi' settlin' up a new kintrae. Every year along about this time he ships Gallo-way cattle an' Clydesdale horses tae the Windy Ceety, gettin' gran' prices for his kye an' fancy figgers for the feathery-fitted Clydes. We think he is on one of thae annyul trips the noo. He usually veeits the sanktum-sanktorum or holy o' holies o' the Promoter when he ca's in by oor toon, ut this time he hes apparently forgot. He says this is a graun' and glorious kintrae for the bona-fide hame-maker, but nae place for the kid-glove tender-fit. Aweel, sae let it be. I'm no daein' rale justice tae ma brither Scot, an' why for no because—He rarely speaks wi' the awkward awksent—noo I come to think o't.—Stanley Promoter.

BE A GOOD FINANCIER

In a certain home there was a 10c fine for each spot on the table linen. One day Johnnie was mysteriously rubbing the tablecloth with his fingers. His sister hastily said "What are you doing, Johnnie?" "I'm making two spots into one", said the financier.

We do not claim you can make your dollar go twice as far by dealing with us, but many make it go a third to a half farther. We have many financiers dealing with us regularly and we earnestly solicit your business as well.
