BRIEF STATE NEWS

Napoleon is to have a new fire-proof school building at an approximate cost of $18,500.

There's a married man in this town who's so henpecked he don't even know it. No, not you.

Editor Barnes of Dickinson took the trouble to explain that Reporter Barnes, who left town in a hurry, was no kin of his'n.

A Minnesota automobile thief, who has made a name for himself in his chosen profession, was nabbed at Jamestown last week.

Two N. P. locomotives collided in the Mandan yards last week, and were reduced to scrap iron. Fortunately, the men escaped injury.

A "stay in Dakota" letter was received from Spokane, Wash., by the editor of the Drake News and the writer was Herman Drake.

Buildings to be constructed by the Equity Packing Company, the Co-operative Packing industry to be established at Fargo by the North Dakota Society of Equity, will cost approximately $300,000, and the plant will have a daily capacity of 1,000 hogs and 200 cattle.

Editor Montieth of the Finley Beacon mixed a right front fliker with press gears, but being a southpaw, the paper appears to tell the story.

Harvey announces a big minstrel show under the auspices of the band boys, with a big street parade and concert preceding each performance.

A Sargent county man has been taken to the Jamestown Asylum for the third time. They knew he was crazy by the amount of booze he put away.

The Harvey Herald and Advertiser has been purchased by J. F. Richards, owner and publisher of the Harvey Journal, and are consolidated into the Harvey Journal.

Governor Frazier is to be one of the speakers at a huge convention in New York City. He will show how terminal elevators can play an important part in the battle against the high cost of living.

C. J. Woodruff, a farmer living near Alexander, recently brought to market a valuable load of seed, netting him over $700. The load consisted of 51 bushels of sweet clover seed worth $14 a bushel.

Some of those Valley City visitors would steal the spectacles off your eyes if given a chance. At least they stole the new lights from the High Line depot the next day after they were installed.

The Douglas Herald editor paid his compliments to the Manhattan "Comedy" company that appeared there last week. He says the company is a public disgrace and should be driven from the boards.

Two wolves were killed by Ben Kitzman, a mail driver at Upham, last week, and he says there are more that follow his trail. Herman Breibach purchased one of the animals and will have it mounted.

R. S. McGuire, bricklayer at Grand Forks, inventor of a device for the wireless control of the course of a torpedo, is said to have been offered $650,000 for his patent by the United States government.

Harrigoan, the forger, who was arrested and brought back from Tennessee some time ago, pleaded guilty before Judge Barr, and received a sentence last week of one year in the penitentiary at Bismarck.

Matt Finland, a transfer man, after falling down a stairway, was placed in jail at Bismarck, apparently little the worse for the tumble, but the next morning he was found dead. An inquest showed that death was accidental.

Chas. Stone, arrested for maintaining a liquor nuisance at Deering, entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to serve 100 days in the county jail, and pay a fine of $225 and costs, with ten days additional in default of payment of fine and costs.

H. R. Donahue was arrested Monday by Deputy Sheriff Drinkwater of Bowbells for allowing gambling in his place of business. He appeared before State's Attorney Hanson of Bow-

CLOSED CAR

The coach work in the Sedan is so unusually good that it will bear the closest and most critical examination.

This applies equally to the perfect matching of the panels, the unbroken surfaces, the beautiful finish, and the really rich upholstery.

Besides being almost instantly convertible (by dropping the windows and removing the pillars) it is a car of uncommon beauty.

It will pay you to visit us and examine this car.

The gasoline consumption is unusually low.
The tire mileage is unusually high.

The price of the Sedan or Coupe, complete, is $1185.

bells that evening and was allowed to return on his own recognition to appear at a later date. A detective in the employ of the North Dakota Enforcement League swore to the complaint.

Carl R. Kositzky, state auditor, recently received a patent on a collapsible, or knock-down, banana crate, to be manufactured of metal. The collapsible crate will save shippers large amounts in freight charges on the return of empty crates, and it will last indefinitely.

The high price record for beef cattle for Stutsman county and very probably for the whole state was broken at Jamestown by the purchase by the Dakota Meat company of 43 head of cattle for $4,667. The cattle weighed 46,670 pounds live weight, the price per pound being 10 cents. The cattle were shorthorns.

In quite a number of towns the boys, and in some instances the girls, are preparing to plant vacant lots to potatoes. This is a good idea. It will not only afford them healthful exercise, but in all probability bring them a good income. It will also give the towns a better appearance than to have the vacant lots grow up full of weeds.

A number of homesteaders on the reservation are selling their land and getting good prices. One quarter near Van Hook sold for $35 an acre. Another homestead of 120 acres sold for $4,000. A quarter near Parshall was sold for $5,500. One Benedict farm brought the homesteader $6,000. It says to take claims while the taking is good.

Ole Opum, a bachelor residing about three miles north of Havana, was found dead in a field near his home Saturday afternoon. Mr. Opum had been missing since Feb. 3rd, at which time he was last seen by neighbors from whom he had purchased a jar of butter, which he still had in his hands when found. It is thought that he lost his way in the storm while going home and froze to death.

The Garrison Advance tells how some more are coming back: A Nelson, who has a fine piece of land near Blackwater, arrived from Minneapolis with his car of household goods Saturday and will commence the erection of buildings at once. His family will come as soon as he gets things in shape. Mr. Nelson left there about 11 years ago, but not finding anything that looked as good as North Dakota, has come back to stay.

Warden Talcott, of the state penitentiary, is a princely and accommodating gentleman, and always makes it a point to give each new prisoner a chance to do the work with which he was familiar—if the penitentiary dealt in his line—but the other day he ran up against a poser. A Jewish tailor named Levinski arrived and it was ordered that he be employed at that trade if there was an opening. There wasn't. He was then asked if he was adapted to anything else. "Yes," he replied with a smile, "I am a crackerjack traveling salesman."

to the extent of several thousand dollars by fire on Wednesday of last week. The fire was discovered a little after 5 o'clock in the morning and evidently had been smoldering for several hours. The fire department responded promptly and by rapid and systematic work the flames were extinguished by the new chemical engines and the bucket brigade. The stock was valued at $15,000 and $9,000 insurance was carried. There was also $1,000 on the building and $500 on the fixtures. The Powers Clothing Company has a store at Beach also, the Beach store being in charge of Tom Power and M. W. Power has the management of the Killdeer store.
