WARD COUNTY MEN INDUCTED INTO ARMY

Thousands Gather Monday to Pay Departing Soldiers a Fitting Tribute.

One hundred and twenty-eight young men from Ward county were inducted into the military service of the government, entraining in Minot over the Soo early Tuesday morning. They gathered in the city Monday and reported at the county auditor's office in the afternoon. They marched to the Normal school campus at 7:30 that evening, where an unusually impressive dress parade was given by the young men of the city, who expect to be called in the draft soon, and who have received training from regular army officers stationed here for recruiting purposes. Although these young men have been trained but a few weeks, they made a splendid appearance. The music for the occasion was furnished by the Musicians Union Band.

Atty. John E. Greene gave a very scholarly patriotic address which was heard by a crowd of several thousand who gathered. "We are sending you as our ambassadors to negotiate peace for the entire world," he told the young men. "We have trained but a few of the struggle until both the bloody hands of German Kultur are withered. They are going on a solemn and glorious mission to conquer and to learn. He referred to our army as the brainiest and most resourceful fighting machine in the world and stated that it would return as the new Grand Army of the Republic, honored by all. These young men will guide the destiny of the nation upon their return. They will have earned the right to become our leaders. As the young men listened to the address with rapt interest, they did not do any shouting, but there was a look of unmistakable determination on their faces, for they had come to a full realization of the importance of the task before them.

In the evening, a splendid street dance was arranged on the pavement on Main street, the band playing from the balcony of the Leland. For an entire block, the pavement was jammed with the merry-makers. The young men wearing the white registration badges, were shown every honor. Hundreds of people from the countryside were in to remain with them until the moment of departure. Fathers and mothers, brothers and sisters, wives and sweethearts, as well as neighbors, remained with the young men until the early morning hour when the train departed over the Soo.

Boys Hike Away from Home to Join the Army

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Mann of Lone Tree were in Minot Tuesday, signing enlistment papers for their son, Waldo, 16 years of age, who was so determined to enter the army that he went of his own accord to Devils Lake, enlisting in the Marines. Waldo has been trying for a long time to get the consent of his parents to enlist in some branch of the army, but they tried to persuade him to wait till he was a little older. A week ago Sunday, Waldo and Daniel Luke, the 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Luke of Berthold, came to Minot and walked all the way to Towner, 40 miles east of this city. They went to Devils Lake, where Waldo enlisted. Daniel Luke tried to enlist in Grand Forks, saying he was 18 years of age, but he forgot when he was filling out his enlistment blank and wrote in 1903 as the date of his birth. He was sent home.

These lads have the right stuff in them just the same and will be heard from.

John K. Sveen Visits Minot.
John K. Sveen, who was a prominent businessman of this city for many years, was in Minot several days the first of the week, enroute to New York City, where he is employed. Mr. Sveen, who is one of the National Trustees of the Sons of Norway lodge, was returning from the national Sons of Norway convention at Great Falls, Mont., and stopped in Minot for a short visit. It will be good news to Mr. Sveen's friends to learn that he is contemplating returning to Minot in a short time.

Radio Expert from U. S. S. Pennsylvania Visiting Parents.

Henry Blaisdell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Blaisdell, arrived from the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, where he is stationed, and is enjoying a ten day furlough in this city.

Mr. Blaisdell was first trained at the Great Lakes Training Station and later completed a course in Radio work at Harvard. He has been in training on the Pennsylvania for about a month.

"The ship is the very finest in the Atlantic Fleet," Mr. Blaisdell says. "I am not permitted to say the number of men it carries, but it's the flag ship and believe me, it is some little old boat."

Henry says it seems more like home to him now and after he has been on shore, it seems good to get back to the ship. The Pennsylvania is in dry dock for an overhauling and before long it will be on its way—wherever that is. Life on the sea evidently agrees with Mr. Blaisdell. He weighed 142 pounds when he went into the service and now he tips the scales at 158. The best cooks in the world are to be found on the ships and Henry appears to be getting his share of the "eat." He says one man on the ship has his rifle and is given bayonet practice and other military drill.

CLARENCE LEE CALLED BY HIS MASTER

Thirteen-year-old Son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Lee Died Sunday After Week's Illness.

Clarence Lee, aged 13 years and 5 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Lee, who reside at 800 Third Street N. W., passed away Sunday evening at 11:15 o'clock following an illness of one week from diphtheria, which caused paralysis of the heart.

Owing to the nature of the disease, no funeral could be held at this time and the remains were interred in the Lutheran cemetery on the north side, under the direction of J. D. Van Fleet & Co. Funeral services will be held later.

The little man is survived by his parents, three younger sisters and one brother. Clarence was born at Mohall where he lived until two years ago, when he accompanied his parents to this city. The father is a well known contractor and builder.

Clarence was an exceedingly fine, manly lad and was very bright in his school work. His death is generally regretted and the members of his family have the sincerest sympathy of all.

MINOT STAGES DEMONSTRATION

News of Continued American Military Successes Caused Magic City's Cup of Joy to Overflow Tuesday.

When the reports of American successes continued to arrive in Minot Tuesday, our citizens became so enthusiastic that they staged a mighty interesting little celebration which was entirely spontaneous and reflected the spirit of our citizens.

The Musicians' Union band, which has appeared almost daily at patriotic functions for months, dropped their work, closed up shop and was soon out on the street playing "Keep the Home Fires Burning" and other appropriate airs. The Town Criers' Million Dollar Drum Corps soon joined in. President Shaw of the city commission secured a huge flag and headed the procession which marched thru the principal streets. Hundreds of citizens left their work and got into the line of march. The procession led to the G. N. station where scores of incoming people joined in the jollification.

S. J. Doyle, democratic nominee for governor, who happened to be leaving on the afternoon train, was invited to make a short address. He stated that our hearts thrilled with joy when we received the glad message from over there. We have sent our best blood over there and our boys are giving the answer to the German Junker autocracy. They now know they can't insult our flag and "get away with it." There are a lot of things happening in France of more importance than the ambition for any office, he stated.

Norman Black, an outgoing passenger, bound for his home in Fargo, spoke a few words. "There's not another town in the United States where such a celebration could have been gotten up in five minutes and with the mayor at the head of the procession," he said. Mr. Black concluded by singing "Sammy." Both speakers were enthusiastically received.

Geo. State helped in the celebration by announcing thru a megaphone the latest war bulletins. The whistles throughout the city were blown and the bells were rung.

It was learned that a similar demonstration was held that afternoon in St. Paul and other live cities. We want our boys over there to know that the home folks are with them and that they appreciate their noble work.

WEALTHY MINOT MAN GAVE ALL TO CHARITY

Ole H. Peterson, Who Dropped Dead Yesterday, Leaves Fortune in Trust for Charitable Purposes in Minot

Ole H. Peterson, aged 75 years, and without a relative in the United States, dropped dead in Dr. Overgard's office in this city at noon Wednesday. He had complained of not feeling well and had gone to the home of Mikel Oen, asking that he be taken to the hospital. Mr. Oen placed the man in his car and proceeded to Dr. Overgard's office. Mr. Peterson had walked up the stairs and the doctor being engaged for a short time, the two men sat in the office. Mr. Peterson complained of pain about his heart, and before the doctor could arrive at his side he fell to the floor dead.

The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Hauges Lutheran church, Rev. Theo. Lund officiating. It will be held under the direction of J. D. Van Fleet & Co.

Mr. Peterson made a will just a year ago to the very day before his death, leaving all of his possessions, worth fully $10,000 to Minot charity, and named as trustees, Mikel and Severt Oen. This money will be used by the Oen brothers as they see fit to alleviate the sufferings of Minot's needy. The funds could not have been placed in better hands.

Mr. Peterson came to America from Norway and settled in Ward county 31 years ago, living here ever since. He died on a homestead south of Minot in the early days, his old farm now being a portion of the Seaton farm. He was employed by the Great Northern for a good many years and lately had been giving his attention to his Minot interests. He possesses four good houses and lots just north of the G. N. depot, besides some cash and other property. He was a kind old gentleman and while quiet and unassuming, had done much for the poor people of the city. He leaves no relatives in this country.

MAKING NEW INSURANCE MAP OF MINOT

Lew E. Werner, Prominent Twin City Insurance Man Begins Important Work Here—Comes With Proper Credentials.

Lew E. Werner, who is permanently located in St. Paul and Minneapolis, arrived in Minot and is now engaged in preparing a new insurance map of the city of Minot, in the interest of all fire insurance companies. Mr. Werner, who took up this branch of the work nearly thirty years ago, made a special trip here to continue the work which was started in May by Fred C. McCarthy, who has been drafted into the army before the work could be completed.

This work which Mr. Werner has in charge is very important and is nothing new, but naturally the maps must be revised from time to time. It is necessary to secure information in reference to the construction of buildings, the thickness of walls, windows, etc. Mr. Werner's duty is to inspect and take measurements of buildings in the business district and to note location of residences in the residence districts.

It becomes necessary for him to enter the business and naturally he is supplied with all of the proper credentials, as he comes with the full sanction of the government. At this time only 100% Americans can handle this class of work and they must be men of the strictest integrity.

The Independent makes this explanation on behalf of Mr. Werner and his important work, and when he visits your place, don't become alarmed and fear that he is going to carry off your valuables and betray any secrets to the enemy.

Mr. Werner, who is a life member of the Austin, Minn., B. P. O. Elks Lodge No. 414, has met a large number of local Elks at the Minot Home, who are doing what they can to make his hard task as pleasant as possible.

LEVICH-BADER WEDDING SUNDAY

More than 200 Guests Enjoy Festivities at Unusually Large Nuptial Affair at K. P. Home Sunday Night.

A wedding of unusual interest was solemnized at the Knights of Pythias Home at seven o'clock Sunday evening when Miss Lena Bader, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bader, became the bride of David Levich, a prominent young Minot grocer, until recently, a resident of Sioux City, Ia.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. I. Diamond, of the Jewish Synagogue of this city, in the presence of more than two hundred friends and relatives. The wedding was performed strictly after the orthodox Jewish custom, and never before has there been such a pretentious nuptial event in Jewish circles in this section of the state.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion, with the Stars and Stripes and the red, white and blue electric lights forming a conspicuous part.

An aisle down the center of the room had been arranged with white and pink streamers resting on potted ferns. The K. P. room is one of the most beautiful halls in the city and an ideal place for an occasion of this kind.

As the guests arrived, they were given seats about the hall and were provided with candles which were lighted according to ancient Jewish custom, just before the bridal party entered the room. The men all wore their hats in accordance with the Jewish wedding custom.

Miss Zella Gordon, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Gordon sang, "O Promise Me," just before the bridal party entered. She was accompanied by Miss Ella Banks.

As Rev. Diamond entered the room taking his place at the altar, Petrucelli's orchestra struck up an appropriate strain. Rev. Diamond was accompanied by his choir and as the groom entered with Abe Bader, of Council Bluffs, Ia., as best man and with the youngest relatives present, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rozen, together with the eldest relatives, Mr. and Mrs. M. Levich of Sioux City, Ia., parents of the groom, and Mrs. Ida Rozen of Sioux City, Ia., the choir started singing its Hebrew chant. The groom's party were accompanied by six lady attendants, all attired beautifully in white and carrying corsages of flowers, as follows: Miss Esther Levich of Sioux City, Ia., as maid of honor, and the Misses Ella Banks, Zella Gordon, Leah Feldman, Sara Levich, and Belle Fryman of this city and Miss Sophie Harris of Williston. After the groom had taken his place before the altar, the young ladies returned and escorted the bride into the room. The following little flower girls, each carrying a basket of beautiful flowers, preceded the party into the room: Adeline Rosen, Isabelle Epstein, Ruby Glazer and little Zella Gordon. The bride entered the room accompanied also by her father and mother and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Glazer of Council Bluffs, Ia.

As the bridal party reached the front of the hall, the bride and her maids marched around the groom seven times, the groom standing under the Jewish canopy, held by four boys, Rev. Diamond singing a chant in Hebrew during this period. Prayers were offered as the groom placed the wedding ring on the bride's finger.

The wedding contract as signed by the couple was read in Hebrew by Rev. Diamond and the translation in English was read by Edw. Rozen. The contract was witnessed by C. H. Feldman and A. Baker. After another prayer, the couple drank of the wine, the goblet being broken in accordance with the Mosaic law, immediately.

Following the ceremony, congratulations and best wishes were then offered, after which the Grand March took place. At the completion of the march, the guests assembled in the banquet hall where covers had been laid for two hundred. The wedding feast included all of the noted Jewish dishes and was thoroughly enjoyed. Short talks were given by President Shaw of the city commission and Ira D. Wight.

Following the banquet, the guests enjoyed several hours of dancing. The bride appeared especially beautiful in a gown of white tulle and georgette crepe, all hand embroidered, with long tulle veil caught with lilies of the valley. A shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and bride's roses completed her costume.

The couple departed early Monday morning for the Twin Cities, where they are enjoying their honeymoon, after which they will return to Minot, where the groom has prepared cozy apartments.

The bride is the daughter of one of Minot's prominent merchants. She has grown to womanhood here and by her sweet and unassuming ways has won a host of friends.

The groom has lived nearly all his life at Sioux City, Ia., where he was associated in the wholesale grocery business with a brother. He came to Minot recently and is proprietor of the Chain Grocery. He is a hustling young businessman and very successful.

During the evening 102 telegrams of congratulations were received from friends living at points all the way from New York to San Francisco, which were read later.

Not a thing was overlooked that would have added pleasure to the wedding.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Miss Fannie Scutt, Dogden, N. D.; Miss Esther Rawitcher, Williston; Miss Mabel Greengard, Mrs. R. Garrison, M. N. Garrison, Harry Rawitcher, Dave Greengard, Mrs. R. Garrison, M. N. Garrison, Harry Rawitcher, Dave Greengard, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Glickman, Sam Greengard, Sam Booth, all of Williston; Celia Meritsky, Devils Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Rosenberg and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Rosenberg of Ryder; Mrs. Cohn and family of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. H. Levich, Sioux City, Ia.; Miss Esther Levich, Sioux City, Ia.; Mrs. M. H. Mushkin, Mrs. J. Rosen and Mr. M. Visit From F. L. Sherman and Family.
F. L. Sherman and family arrived from Glasgow, Mont., the first of the week and are spending a week with old Minot friends. Mr. Sherman, who located at Glasgow, two years ago, is manager of the Glasgow Flour Mill Co. He says the crops around Glasgow are very poor and the crops in the vicinity of Minot look like bumper ones as compared with what the Montana farmers have grown this year. Mr. Sherman is able to keep his mill running by shipping in wheat from Washington.

Mr. Sherman was formerly secretary of the Minot Commercial Club and he was always regarded as one of our city's liveliest wires. This is his first visit to Minot since he left and many old friends are enjoying a good visit with him and his estimable family.

PATRIOTIC PAGEANT AT NELSON LAKE

Historical Characters in Costume Represented at Splendid Red Cross Entertainment.

Miss Maud Phifer, teacher of Harmony School No. 2, District No. 151, gave a patriotic pageant and drill on the shores of Nelson Lake, July 19.

The program was one that can never be forgotten by any one who was privileged to be present.

The beautiful natural setting among the trees with the silver sheen of the water dancing thru the trees, made one feel that it was almost an enchanted place.

The historical characters with the proper costumes for their time lent a charm indescribable.

Walter Dawn as George Washington drilled the army so efficiently that the "Father of His Country" would feel proud to live in this age.

Minnie Larson as Martha, was exceedingly good in her interpretation of her important place in American history.

Mr. Pete Erickson, as Uncle Sam, made you feel that you were glad you live in the land you live in.

Miss Hilda Bunker as Columbia, was simply beautiful. Her costume was perfect. The vision of the beautiful Columbia, as she gave her tribute to the flag, to Lafayette and to France was a picture of art.

Mr. Clark Streeper, as Marquis De Lafayette, was just at home, and the gallant Marquis himself, could not have been more at ease at the French court than Mr. Streeper.

Miss Belle Benson as his partner, in the drill was a perfect French lady in her manner and costume.

The tribute of honor given to Lafayette in the duet of "Joan of Arc," by Mrs. Travis and Miss Hilstead, was a living picture. Lafayette, Paul Revere, and George Washington standing with drawn swords, Columbia's flag and the flag of France floating over them.

Arthur Holmes as Paul Revere, looked the part and acted it to perfection. He and Miss Minnie Senna led the drill and never once faltered in the intricate figures or made one mistake.

Paul Revere, resplendent in gold lace and a perfect colonial costume accepted in his pleasing colonial manner the tribute of that famous poem, Paul Revere's Ride, by Minnie Senna, and a second tribute to Paul Revere, to make the second ride was given by Miss Phifer.

Mr. Roy Pettys as Admiral Dewey, was the "Real Sea Man." He told his hearers how he fought the battle of Manila so successfully.

Mr. Bennie Senna, as General Pershing, was the perfect representation of that general.

Mrs. Senna as Lady Pershing, did her part well.

Mr. Zorn as President Wilson, gave a talk worthy of our great American.

Mrs. Streeper and Mrs. Cole Larson as Red Cross nurses, did their parts perfectly.

The other characters were James Morse and lady, Mr. Oliver Hangberg and Miss Hilstead.

Benjamin Franklin and lady, were Morris Gregerson and Mrs. Thorwald Larson.

Alexander Hamilton and lady were Mr. Incas Holmes and Miss Zorn.

James Monroe and lady were Mr. James Gregerson and Miss Zorn.

U. S. Grant and lady were Mr. Henry Haugeberg and Miss Hilstead.

Thomas Jefferson and lady were Mr. Thorwald Larson and Miss Holmes.

James Madison and Dolly Madison were Mr. Ingwald Holmes and Miss Alta Neff. Mr. Holmes was one of our boys who was called to the colors.

Alex Sanders as Secretary McAdoo was another hero who will soon leave for the front.

Secretary Baker and lady were Mr. Zorn and Rose Benson.

Two American citizens were Master's Travis and Spencer Gregerson.

Our first Americans were represented by "Chief Rain in the Face" and Princess White Star Minnieaukon."

Mr. and Mrs. Halverson did their parts well.

Chief Rain in the Face, as he smoked his peace pipe and prepared for the great war and flag drill of the "Kind White Father," President Wilson. He directed his squaw the "Princess" to her place in the pageant.

These two were favorites of the audience in their perfect interpretation of the Indians.

The little girls representing the angels were Gladys and Grace Gregerson, Mary Nelson and the Misses Travis, Olen and Holmes.

The parent home and young America was represented by Mrs. Frank Pettys and baby acting the part of mother.

Mr. Ira Senna was a navy man. He wore the regulation navy suit. The army was represented by four boys, Russel and Delman Pettys, Albin Gregerson and Milton Haugeberg. The Sassa orchestra played patriotic pieces during the program.

Dr. Archie McCannel gave an interesting talk on Red Cross work. The entire program was appreciated by the entire audience as many requests have come for us to take it to help other Red Cross societies.
