says the Good Judge

Men who know tobacco, chew the best without its costing them any more. They take a little chew and it's amazing how the good taste stays in a rich, high grade chewing tobacco. For lasting tobacco satisfaction, there's nothing like a small chew of that rich-tasting tobacco.

DISCHARGED SOLDIERS AND SAILORS—TIME TO RETURN TO HOMESTEADS

Circular No. 656.
Department of the Interior, General Land Office, Washington, D. C., September 10, 1919.
Registers and Receivers,
United States Land Offices.

Sirs:
The Act of July 28, 1917 (40 Stat. 248), provides that in connection with homestead claims, initiated prior to entering the service, the military or naval service of the claimant shall be "equivalent to all intents and purposes to residence and cultivation for the same length of time upon the tract entered or settled upon." In view of this provision, the soldier may, promptly upon his discharge, file in the U. S. Land Office in which his entry was made, notice of his intention to take the five months' absence allowed in each residence year (or such lesser absence as he may be entitled to in that residence year); such period will be counted as residence and a contest on the ground of abandonment will not be permitted until the expiration of six months in addition to the absence taken under such notice.

Under this ruling, where the discharge occurs five months or more before the end of the residence year and proper notice is given, the entry will be protected from contest for eleven months after discharge.

The residence years referred to in this circular are computed in periods of 12 months each, dating from the soldier's enlistment or entrance into the service, or from the date he established residence upon the land if he did so prior to entering the service.

Very respectfully,
D. K. PARROTT,
Acting Assistant Commissioner.
Approved:
ALEXANDER T. VOGELSANG,
First Assistant Secretary.

Lone Tree Farmers Claim They Captured Feroocious Beast

H. E. Mann and John McIsaac, two sturdy Lone Tree farmers who are not afraid of anything, made a capture of some sort of a wild beast one day last week, which was surrounded in the woods on the L. D. Mann farm.

A graphic description of the exciting hunt has been written for the Independent by an eye witness to the affair.

The wonderful capture of a ferocious mountain lion made by H. E. Mann and John McIsaac of Lone Tree. There had been quite a scare in the vicinity of Lone Tree about a lion that was reported to have devoured all kinds of stock from a two-year-old steer down. All the people in that part of the country can now rest secure, as the wonderful beast has been captured. As Mr. McIsaac was coming in from plowing he spied Mr. Lion on a stock bottom and he proceeded to chase the lion a number of miles with five horses and a gang plow, but finally lost him in the heavy timber on the L. D. Mann farm, so gave up the chase until the following morning.

The hunters then organized a company armed with high power guns and proceeded to hunt out Mr. Lion's stronghold, which was found on the farm of D. B. Shotwell in a shell hole, or pot-hole, rather. At nine-thirty, the zero hour, they went over the top, charging the hole with fixed bayonets, and after a terrible battle succeeded in making the beast yell "Kamerad" or something like that. After making the capture, they could not decide what in the world they had caught. H. E. Mann declared it was a wild boar. Mr. McIsaac said it was a Scottish Mountain Lion. L. A. Mann, who is an expert, was called in and he pronounced it a mangy coyote. As the hunters did not bring in any evidence of their capture, the neighbors suspect that it might have been Shen or Collie that had been sheared to keep him balmly and cool during the hot August days, but as L. D. Mann once captured a ground hog, we will take it for granted that it was just a mangy coyote. So boys, bring in the goods next time.

Old Tires Bought and Sold
We have gone into the automobile tire repairing business, and have installed a plant and machinery separate from the shoe repairing for this purpose. Our method of tire repairing consists of sewing with linen thread two old tires of the same size together—the inner being a road-worn tire and the outer a rim cut or blown-out tire, with a good tread. No wire or rivets are used. Look up and ship us some of your old tires. We can save you some money. The machine is used for sewing tires only.

A Little Knowledge

is a dangerous thing if it makes a man believe that any old policy means insurance. All policies read practically the same in blank form—it's when properly filled out and signed that they give full protection.

This is particularly true if it is a Hartford policy for the very name "Hartford" means protection. If you want full protection, remember you get consultation without obligation.
