

"You'll Always Find"

says the Good Judge

That you get more genuine satisfaction at less cost when you use this class of tobacco.

A small chew lasts so much longer than a big chew of the ordinary kind. And the full, rich real tobacco taste gives a long lasting chewing satisfaction.

Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.

Put up in two styles

W-B CUT is a long fine-cut tobacco
RIGHT CUT is a short-cut tobacco

RELIABILITY

is made up of two things: The disposition to be fair and assets ample to meet all demands.

MINNEAPOLIS MAY BE ELKS' NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS

Action Would Mean $1,500,000 Building in Minneapolis Loop District.

Minneapolis may be the home of the Elks' national headquarters soon, which would mean a new building in the loop district to cost $1,500,000, if a committee of two Minneapolis Elks, in conference with a subcommittee of the grand lodge committee on national headquarters in Chicago today, is successful in its efforts.

The Elks have no national headquarters, but the grand lodge has decided to select a site in a centrally located city and begin erecting a building, if the committee's decision is indorsed at the annual meeting of the grand lodge in Los Angeles next July. St. Paul Elks are backing Minneapolis, but Chicago, St. Louis, Dubuque and Indianapolis are strong contenders for the prize.

The claim of Minneapolis is being pressed by W. C. Robertson of the grand lodge auditing committee and E. T. Fortier, chairman of the trustees of Minneapolis lodge No. 44, who are at the committee meeting with John K. Tener, former governor of Pennsylvania, chairman of the subcommittee on national headquarters, and Joseph T. Fanning of New York, its secretary.

Mr. Robertson said before leaving for Chicago that Minneapolis has been indorsed by Elks lodges in many western and northwestern cities and he expressed confidence in getting the headquarters for this city.

Chas. Wisen Writes Letter From England

Chas. Wisen, prominent Berthold farmer, who left Minot last fall accompanied by his wife has written the independent an interesting letter from England. The Wisens will spend nearly a year visiting Mrs. Wisen's relatives in England and at Mr. Wisen's former home in Sweden. The letter follows:

84 Weldon Crescent, Middlesex, Harrow, England.

The Independent, Minot, N. D.

Dear Friends: When I left Minot you made me promise to write to you. I have been very slow in fulfilling my promise. Really, I have seen so many interesting things since I left I don't know where to commence. We had a fine trip all the way across, but I have seen very little of the sun since leaving North Dakota. We were on the boat from one Saturday to the other on the "Olympic" of the White Star line. We landed in Southampton about 3 o'clock p. m., but it took till after 8 before the special train left the station for Waterloo station, London. All baggage had to be taken care of first and then our passports had to be examined again and a landing card issued to each passenger and the customs to go through.

We had time to send a telegram to friends in Harrow to meet us at Waterloo, and when we arrived they were right there. We had to take a bus to Baker street station to get a train for Harrow. We got here at 11 o'clock p. m., all tired and hungry, and we had had nothing to eat since noon. But we soon had a splendid meal.

Harrow on the Hill (as it is called locally) is noted for its splendid schools. It is a city of about 27,000 inhabitants and on a hill 400 feet high a mile long and a quarter mile wide. One street called the High street, where all the schools are. It is really nice and picturesque up there. A good many of the men in Harrow work in London. They go by train morning and night. They buy season tickets, which is much cheaper. Harrow is 9 1/2 miles from Baker street station, that is well in London, but if one wishes to go farther one must take either the street car, bus or underground railway, which they call the tube. By the way, there is a wonderful underground system. They have no conductors on the trains. One buys a ticket, goes either to the lift, "elevator," or escalator, "moving stairs," where a guard stands to punch the ticket. The tube must be all of 75 feet deep, as it goes under the river Thames—and what a rush to get in the trains. They have what is called the inner circle and all lines lead to it. It was a woman from the country some time ago rode on the inner circle, and every time she tried to get off she was pushed in again. She rode around seven times before she finally got off. I fully believe the story is true.

As London is an old city there naturally are many places of historic interest, which I might speak of one at this time, "The Tower of London," a castle founded by William the Conqueror in 1078; it covers 12 acres of ground, by the banks of the river Thames. As we walked along the river we saw the "Traitor's Gate," in the white tower are kept old armors, swords, guns, in fact war material of all descriptions and in the "bloody tower," where the prisoners were beheaded, were instruments of torture of all kinds, and at another place are the crown jewels.

We have been to quite a few Salvation Army doings and I like to speak of one festival; there were 11 bands present and they certainly tried to outdo each other, about 200 bandmen and they played emmasse, too. I never have heard anything like it. It was grand. I could not help but think if they can produce such wonderful harmony here, what will Heaven be like?

We are enjoying our visit and as our relatives live in different parts of London we get around quite a lot. We get the independent fairly regular, altho sometimes we miss a copy. It is like getting a long, newy letter from home.

Very respectfully yours,
CHAS. WISEN.

Not His Turn to Lead
Brother Verne Stenerson plays cards occasionally. He also goes to church regularly, which doesn't hurt him any. He had been out late on Saturday night and sat dozing in church. "Bro. Stenerson, you may lead," the pastor said. Verne sat up with a jerk. "Taint my lead—I just dealt," Verne said.
