

NORTH DAKOTA NEWS

The little son of Ole Sagen, a Plaza farmer, suffered a fractured arm. The Irvin hotel at Kenmare is planning a 25-room addition which will probably be built in the spring. The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Thompson of Kenmare fell down a stairway and broke an arm.

The city of Drake gave 181 votes to Nestos and 59 to Gov. Frazier, and it is there that the state is operating its first mill.

The Velva police force rounded up the "bad boys" who played Halloween pranks and made them straighten things out.

Stanton Covell, who farms north of Granville, shipped 50 bushels of choice Grimm alfalfa seed grown on his farm the past season.

The Granville turkey raisers have begun shipping their poultry. The Herald tells of one woman selling $1,600 worth of turkeys last year.

Editor Farrell of the Granville Herald is a consistent booster for diversified farming and he has any number of successful examples in that vicinity.

The Glenburn Advance made a little error recently in a marriage report getting the right woman hooked up with the wrong man. This very frequently happens.

Charles Miller, 19, of Mandan, who wrecked the inside of the jail there about $1,500 worth while full of home brew, has been sentenced to the state industrial school for two years.

Kensal hunters saw two antelope along the James river. Antelope used to be a common sight along that river but these were the first seen in years and they were probably from the western part of the state.

John Sloan, a Bowbells farmer, is held charged with shooting horses owned by R. F. Hawden, who asserts that horses grazing at large under the terms of the herd law returned from Sloan's place peppered with shot.

The case of Lawrence Larson, former Burke County Treasurer charged with embezzlement in connection with his conduct of the conduct of the office, which came up at the November term of district court here was transferred to McHenry County.

When Deputy Sheriff H. D. Clintworth of Hazen went to the Christain Wendt farm to serve replevin papers, Wendt assaulted the officer with a neckyoke. He was clapped in irons and brought to the city and was sentenced to 15 days in jail for resisting an officer.

Rev. T. S. Stockdahl of Makoti, returning from Moosejaw, Sask. last week, was surprised when a revenue officer located four bottles of gin in his berth. This might have looked bad for the minister only for the fact that gin was found secreted in four other berths. The porter was held.

The Hon. P. J. McCumber seems to have learned that we recently had a recall election out in North Dakota. In the mean time the independents have demonstrated that they can get along very nicely without him, and if we understand matters correctly will let him entirely alone in the next election.—Cavalier County Republican.

Three car loads of high grade Holstein cattle from tested Wisconsin herds have been shipped to Granville during the past week and sold to the farmers on contracts of five cows each. The farmers will pay for them in 36 payments, with 6 per cent interest. The cows were secured thru the good work of W. A. Christianson, who has done much for the Granville community.

Henry Williams, near Grafton, working under the instructions of the state game and fish commission, recently took 25 pheasants to Park River, where they were released along Park river, and on the following day he went to Lisbon with 50 birds, which were released near the Sheyenne river. Durnig the past season Mr. Williams raised about 700 pheasants, most of which will be released. The big storm of June 20 caused a loss of nearly 200 chicks. Besides furnishing good hunting in future years it is known that a single Chinese pheasant will devour a bushel and a half of grasshoppers in a single year.

Down in LaMoure County there is a township named "Swede." This particular township was a league stronghold and in 1920 gave Frazier 131 votes and O'Connor 1 vote. At the late recall election Swede again turned in a vote of 127 for Frazier and 1 for Nestos. On that showing it has been figured out that if the independent voter in that precinct lives and sticks and the leaguers lose 4 each time that in 67 years Swede township will show a vote of 1 to 9 for the independents. In the meantime if there are any more Airdale pups to be given away Swede township should be remembered.—Cavalier County Republican.

Slowly, but as surely as the great Missouri rolls the silt of its waters toward the sea, North Dakota is losing its Indian population. At the beginning of this century almost 7,000 aborigines were within the confines of this state. Ten years ago the figures stood at 6,486 and in the days since then 232 Indians have moved to other parts or drifted to the happy hunting grounds of their race. Now, for the first time since statistics have been kept of North Dakota population, the Indians number less than one per cent of the total population, the 6,254 members of the race being just a little short of one per cent of the 646,872 population accorded the state by the figures of the 1920 census.

Ted Byfield of New Rockford, had both legs broken in an auto truck accident on the St. Johns branch of the Great Northern northwest of Devils Lake city Wednesday when the army truck he was driving was struck by a passenger train on a crossing. The train struck the rear of the truck, and Mr. Byfield either jumped or was thrown in such a manner that both legs were broken and it was found necessary to amputate the one just above the knee, the broken bones having been driven clear thru the heavy boot he was wearing. The other leg was also broken between the ankle and the knee, but the surgeons were able to save it. Reports from the hospital yesterday morning were to the effect that while he is in a precarious condition as a result of the shock and the loss of blood, he would recover.

70 Bottles of Gin Found at Portal Under Floor of Sheep Car

Harry Gill and Deputy U. S. Marshall Scott from Portal, were in Minot Monday, the latter taking a well known Weyburn, Sask., stockman to Fargo where he will appear before Judge C. F. Amidon, charged with transporting intoxicating liquor.

Officers had been warned that some Canadian gin was being hauled from Estevan to Portal in a sheep car and when the train arrived at North Portal, the car was searched, but nothing was found. Later the car was taken across the line to Portal, N. D. and the sheep unloaded, still no liquor could be found in the car. A further search was made later and after the floor was searched, it was found that two holes, about a foot square had been cut in the floor and 70 bottles of the best Geneva gin had been carefully secreted in an enclosed I-Beam girder which runs the full length of the car under the floor. The pieces of the floor had been carefully sawed in a slanting manner and replaced perfectly. The gin, worth on the market, more than a thousand dollars, will be destroyed.

Last of Nonpartisan Stores Closing Out

The last of the Consumers United States company, organized by leaders of the nonpartisan league in 1917-18, which went into voluntary receivership in March, 1921, and which has been struggling along in Minot since, will soon be history. The Minot store, the last in existence in North Dakota, or any other state, opened its receivership sale here last week, with the announcement that everything would be sold, including the stock and fixtures. Thus ends one of the gigantic schemes which the league proposed to put across in North Dakota.

MILWAUKEE BOTTLES FIRST MEDICINAL BEER

Milwaukee, Nov. 11.—Once famous the world over for "the beer that made Milwaukee famous," Milwaukee came into its own again here when the first bottle of real "medicinal" beer was bottled. Today at the Schlitz brewery, one of the first in the United States to obtain a permit to manufacture medicinal beer, the first bottle was filled, sealed and labeled and not long after the first case of beer under the new regulations was ready for the market.

DISLOCATED JOINT PUT BACK BY AUTO MISHAP

Larimore, N. D., Nov. 11.—The Ford car has been put to a new use—that of reducing a dislocated joint.

When Solvig Tvedt, a 9 year old child near here, dislocated his shoulder while at play, her father put her into his Ford and started for medical aid. Enroute, he ran into a ditch and upset the machine. When the girl crawled out from under the overturned machine, her shoulder joint was in place again.
