SUCCESS

It must be pleasing, indeed, for a young man to return to his home town, as Capt. Howard Huston did this week, and receive the plaudits of thousands of old friends. Howard Huston has endeared himself to his home folks. It is a splendid thing to go into a foreign land and win a place in the world thru one's own efforts, and it is finer still to know that one has so deported himself back in his old home town in such a manner that the folks will not say that he's just an accident. North Dakotans are entirely familiar with the story of how Howard Huston, a poor farmer lad, carved out his own career. They remember how he came to Minot without funds, determined to get a high school education. They remember how he washed dishes for his room and board. He didn't let the lack of funds stand in the way of getting an education. He must have envied the lad who always had spending money in his pockets and who could afford to wear better clothes than he did. The very fact that he had to get along without these things is one of the reasons why he has succeeded so well. He built up a strong character by overcoming seemingly insurmountable obstacles. The writer recalls how Mr. Huston spent weeks traveling thru the state of South Dakota in a humble Henry buying seed corn, hoping to make a little money to see him thru the University of North Dakota. The venture did not prove a success. He bought plenty of corn but he failed to realize a profit on it—in fact there was a deficit that would have discouraged many a young man entirely. He managed to get thru the University somehow, and later "dug in" and earned the money to make up the loss.

The writer was driving thru the streets of Minot with Capt. Huston Monday afternoon and pointing to a boarding house he remarked: "There, where I picked forty chickens one Saturday forenoon, when I was attending school here". And it is not necessary to remark that he did a first class job at picking chickens.

Today Capt. Huston is Executive Secretary of the League of Nations, with headquarters at Geneva, Switzerland. He worked his way up by doing little things cheerfully and well. When greater opportunities presented themselves, he was ready for them.

Any young man with the right determination can forge his way up to the front. If he lacks money, so much the better for him.

There are any number of farm hands walking the streets looking for work and there are any number of farmers anxious to employ these men, but they can't agree on price. The farm hands want $40 per month, board and washing and the farmers declare they are unable to pay this price, considering the price of produce. Many a farmer, who has gone thru a series of lean years will be compelled to tie up an extra outfit, rather than pay exorbitant wages. These men ought to be reasonable. The laborer is entitled to receive all that the farmer is able to pay, but he should remember that the farmer must have some assurance of making a profit. During the past four or five years, the farm hands have had all the best of it. The farm owner would have made money, exchanging places with his hired hand. A farm hand can go out onto a farm and he is certain of a substantial pay check at the end of the month. The independent believes that the farmers ought to have something to say about the price they are going to pay for their hands and if they will stick together, they are certain to get them at a fair price.

MINOT SLOGAN

Minot has adopted officially a slogan to be used during the present year. It was concocted in the fertile brain of John F. McGuire. The Association of Commerce has given its official stamp of approval.

"Put it Through in Twenty-two" is the slogan. It has reference to the "100,000 More" neighbors movement, the improvements to be made by the Great Northern, who are spending $2,000,000 in northwestern North Dakota this year; extensive improvements to be made by the Northern States Power Co.; the completion of the $235,000.00 Minot sewage disposal plant; the $59,000.00 park dam; the $135,000.00 new school building, bonds for which have been sold, and some needed paving and other street improvements, to say nothing of considerable other building which has been contemplated in Minot for some time. "Put it through in Twenty-two" is a good slogan.

Minot merchants never felt the need of good roads more than they did during the past winter. For several weeks Minot was practically cut off from its trade territory by the cold weather and snowy roads. Business was necessarily dull during that period. Our merchants "rot by" but just as quickly as the roads were passable, autos from 50 and 100 miles away made journeys to Minot. Business has come back in a remarkably pleasing manner and many of our merchants report that their sales are averaging up well with former years. With a good roads program about to be put into effect, Minot will soon be linked up with all of the principal cities of Northwestern North Dakota and our trade territory will be extended.

President Harding is to be congratulated for shaking things up in the Bureau of Engraving down at Washington. The old time employees who have been under civil service regulations for many years, figured that even the president would not dare to remove them from office. Harding is a successful businessman. He demonstrated this when as a poor printer, he took charge of the Marion Star and built it up into a going concern that made him money. He evidently believes in applying these principles to the government's business. He learned that the Bureau of Engraving has not been kept up-to-date. It does not compare favorably with private engraving concerns. Modern machinery has not been installed, perhaps because it might throw somebody out of a job. If the president will go right on down the line and cut out some more dead timber, he will receive the sincere thanks from an overburdened people.

As usual, the roads leading into Minot are without hardly an exception, in a very poor condition. The roads outside of the city are in much better shape than some of the streets at the outskirts of the city. Valley street might be cited. A farmer motoring to town is given a severe shaking up just as he reaches the city and he has a similar experience when he leaves. This gives him plenty of food for thought while he is in town and as he drives towards his home. It doesn't do his disposition any good. He gets plenty of exercise on the farm, so he doesn't need that sort of physical training. Scolding doesn't do any good. Timely action on the part of the proper authorities might prove effective. We have plenty of road machinery, drags, etc. Why not use them?

Fifteen Ward County Delegates Leave for Jamestown

Fifteen Ward county delegates left Tuesday for Jamestown to attend the republican state convention. These delegates were either selected at the county convention held Saturday, or went as proxies:

George Reishus, John J. Lee, Mrs. Geo. A. Dickinson, Vic Corbett, Dr. Geo. D. W. Carr, Mrs. John Nelson, F. C. Upton, K. E. Leighton, L. J. Palda, Thos. Murphy, M. R. Porter (Mr. Wolseth's proxy); Mrs. C. B. Bach (H. A. Foss's proxy); W. R. Bund, (W. Bray's proxy); all of Minot; Ed Kamerud, Makoti, Hans C. Miller, Ryder.

The McCumber delegates were Messrs. Palda, Murphy, Miller, Upton and Leighton.

The others were anti-McCumber, favoring Gronna, or some new candidate, or being in favor of the state convention endorsing no senatorial candidate.

McCumber Shocked at Attitude of Voters

Senator P. J. McCumber returned to the state from Washington, remaining at Fargo for a few days, pending his political fences.

Before returning to Washington, the Senator made a statement in which he said he was shocked to find on his return to North Dakota to find that he is being attacked by the men and women who are working along the same lines of sane and sound government, as he declares he has been doing.

He states that he took no part in the candidacy of Frank White for the U.S. Senate which resulted in the election of Ladd, the nonpartisan candidate. He explained that he supported Mr. Miller for federal judge because he came from the western part of the state which had received but few votes. He is against the recall in principle, therefore in the recall election in 1921, said he favored neither.

Democrats Name Burns and P. Johnson for Legislature

The Ward county Democratic committee have named John H. Burns of Surrey and Peter Johnson of Minot for candidates for the legislature from the 29th.

The Democratic candidates will be endorsed by a committee of five republicans who are to be named by George Reishus, who was chairman of the republican county convention, it is expected. This committee will select two republican candidates for the legislature, one from Minot and one from some point outside of Minot, according to present plans.

Four-Fair Circuit to be Considered

Carl E. Danielson, president of the Association of Commerce has been authorized by the board of directors to name a committee of three to attend a meeting called by Commissioner of Agriculture Kitchen in Bismarck next week for the purpose of considering the advisability of forming a four-fair circuit for North Dakota.

Ward county has purchased its fair grounds and will soon start improving them. Mandan has first class grounds and Fargo and Grand Forks have been holding state fairs, turn about. The state appropriates $10,000.00 a year for state fair purposes and this money has been used in building up the Fargo and Grand Forks fairs. There is no good reason why the Ward county and Mandan fairs should not participate in a similar subsidy.

Venus Chapter Holds Memorial Services

Venus Chapter No. 14, O. E. S. held a memorial service Tuesday evening, which was attended by a large number of the members, and the Masons and their friends. The beautiful Memorial Ritualistic services were given. Mrs. Anton Olson, Worthy Matron, was in charge of the exercises. Miss Bertha Stewart sang a pleasing solo and appropriate remarks were made by Rev. Wm. C. Hunter and others. The Chapter was instituted in 1893, since when seventeen of its members as follows have passed to the Great Beyond:

Rosa Truax, James W. Truax, Pauline Couley, Annie Skinner, Diana Johnston, Sadie Foot, R. W. Davidson, John McJannett, Dr. J. D. Taylor, Harry Edwards, Catherine Ross, Mary Mansfield, May White, Iva Nicholson, Fanny Havel, Evald Kvam and Allie Lockman.

SURREY NEWS ITEMS

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Kauffman the night of April 17. Mother and daughter are reported to be doing very well. Surrey can not be accused of race suicide to judge from appearances and reports. Those who attended the children's program at the Brethren church can bear witness to the above.

We'll be glad to hear the voice of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kauffman in the chorus the next time there is a public gathering.

The entire community turned out Monday evening at the school house to hear Capt. Howard Huston, secretary of the League of Nations, give a talk on his experiences during the last five years. Seldom is a returned son given a more hearty, cordial welcome than was Howard Huston, and seldom is it our privilege to hear a talk as interesting and instructive and at the same time so thoroughly in tune with the sentiments and emotions of all the old friends of his who had come from far and near to hear him. He told us first that he had given a lecture to the same gathering and in the same room at least fifty times during the past five years. In speaking of the changes that had taken place in the meanwhile he mentioned Mrs. Huston and their little daughter. Their home is in Geneva, Switzerland, at the present time. They were unable to come with him, which we all regret, as it would have been a privilege to meet her. He referred to those whom he missed of the friends he had known and paid a glowing tribute to Raymond Stake, who gave his life in the war, a service not excelled, if equalled, by any other man who has gone out of Surrey. Then he took us with him on some of his travels thru Europe—to London, Rome, Spain and Geneva; and finally he told us of the work in which he is at the present time engaged, that of the League of Nations. Many of us look more kindly toward that organization now than before. Perhaps we feel with him that eventually, if not immediately, our place is beside the other nations who are making this effort primarily with the purpose of preventing future wars. Not a soldier in his audience but what was in perfect agreement with him that war is soon shorn of all its glamor, and is, at least, revolting, drudgery and slavery. It is worth our noblest efforts and self sacrifice to prevent it in the future if we can. Needless to say the opportunity given after the lecture to shake hands with Howard was eagerly accepted by every one present, and we all went home feeling that we had an experience worth preserving in that store house which "moth and rust doth not corrupt."

BLAISDELL

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Olson, March the 10th.

Prof. Geo. Luchsinger spent the Easter vacation at his home in Surrey.

Henry Bruhn purchased a new Ford car in Minot.

Mrs. Claude Fenton is in Whitehall, Wis. where she went to be present at the fifth wedding anniversary of her parents.

Mrs. Max Nettleton arrived here last week from Chicago, Ill., for an extended visit with her mother, Mrs. Kate Fulton.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Gulso have moved in town for the summer and are comfortably located in the Thomas Leon house.

John Rock drilled in wheat April 17th.

WILLIS TOWNSHIP

Mrs. E. E. Diehl took her son Tracy M. Palmer back to Sawyer for his school work, and attended Easter services at one of the Sawyer churches.

Lowell Emerick was in Minot Wednesday with a four horse load of potatoes and brot home a load of shelled corn for feed.

Wm. Klimpel was the first man to finish sowing wheat, beginning April 25th and finishing on the 15th.

E. B. Bings and sons are making preparations toward the planting of 80 acres of corn, they intend digging a pit 10 ft. under their silo, and already 10 feet on the top, as they already have the material on hand. They have ensilage now on hand to run them until May 15, besides 8 or 10 loads of fodder left over.

Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Brown and Forest Hunsley of Minot took supper at the E. E. Diehl home Tuesday evening on their way home from Mrs. Brown's school in Newman township.

Harvey H. Gadbar and family motored to Minot last Friday.

Claude Irwin has moved back to the farm from Minot.

Guy Bevins and Douglas Beighle attended the teachers' institute in Minot going down Wednesday and returning Saturday via the Minot Max taxi to the South Prairie store, and then walking the remaining three miles.

Frank Long was in Minot with wheat Wednesday and exchanging it for his summer supply of flour.

The rye crop is certainly looking fine for this time of the year.

Mr. Swenson of Minot along with his family took Sunday dinner at the A. W. Louis home.

Andrew Knapstead moved from the Everett Bunker farm, back onto his own farm last week.

Leonard McNoll, who has been taking treatments with Wood and Wood of Minot for appendicitis since April 1st returned home April 15, feeling very much improved.

Eugene Williams of Minneapolis, Minn., spent a few days visiting in Surrey, and then departed for Burlington, where he will take charge of a road grading outfit, after visiting friends at Norwich for a few days.

Cecil Walker found it impossible to find a job as a farm hand, so he leased a quarter of land just at the edge of the city limits of Sawyer and will resume farming again.

Logan Lowe and chum of Minot were in this township the week end skinning horses that had died on the prairies during the winter. Friday morning they had taken off 15 hides and had 12 more in sight for that day, and $150 for the smaller ones.

Homer Chambers transacted business in Minot Friday.

Sylvester Brown and his brother-in-law Forest Hunsley of Minot, took Mrs. Brown back to her school Sabbath afternoon, in Mr. Brown's Ford.

Carl Swenson, wife and daughters, were in Minot Wednesday with farm produce. Clyde Nelson and M. H. Putney were also in the city the same day.

Gregg Riley says this late and wet spring is a very dead sure sign of a bountiful crop, as he is an old timer and knows, calling at his farm Saturday afternoon we saw him right up in the bits like a three year old, trying to do three or four odd jobs at once, but most trying to keep warm from that cold northeast wind which was sure blowing thru whiskers.

Joe Gadbar was obliged to take and burn 100 acres of summer fallow land on the Al Simpson quarter, which contained thistles and pigeon grass to such an extent that he could not operate his tractor and Tandem disc. Mr. Gadbar vows corn cultivating is far superior to summer fallow as a farmer has some heart to work, when he knows he is sure to get from 35 to 50 bushels of corn to the acre, besides tons of fodder.

Anton E. Roseback, the Raleigh man of Sawyer was out with his Ford Thursday selling extracts to his many old customers as well as many new ones. Mr. Roseback says the Sawyer writer hasn't a very warm spot in his heart for him any more, just because he used to belong to the Nonpartisan League, he should overlook such little things as that.

Wheat sowing is now in full blast, but the acreage is being cut down desperately this season, farmers that sowed 275 acres last year are only putting out from 60 to 90 acres and say that is too much. Chas. Taylor and sons have one-half section in rye, and we dare say there is not a farmer in this township but has from 50 to one and two full quarters in rye, but what are we going to with it since Uncle Sam placed the lid.

We are very sorry to have to say that our Scotch Collie dog business came to a very sudden end just recently, after they had killed a big fat goose and a very fine top knot Drake for the Mrs. ... They went the strychnine route, but a little warm lard applied just in the nick of time, saved our favorite male Collie (Bob). As it happened this was not their first offense and begging off was no longer possible, as we have an order to fill for a male Collie pup to a young farmer, Harvey Peterson of Ryder, and no dogs available, so if any of the Independent readers have anything in this line, we wish they would come forward and fill Mr. Peterson's order, as we made this promise in St. Joseph's hospital in the city of Minot during September 1921. We don't wish to break it.

Carl F. J. Schmidt, Afton Township Farmer Died Friday

Carl F. J. Schmidt, prominent farmer, residing in Afton township, five miles southwest of Minot, passed away at his home Friday after an illness for a year with cancer of the stomach and complications.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rev. F. E. Brauer delivering the sermon. The remains were interred in Rose Hill cemetery. A large number of friends attended the rites.

Mr. Schmidt was born in Germany where he married and resided until 32 years ago when he came with his family to America. He farmed at Fontanelle, Ia., for eighteen years coming to Ward county in 1908, having purchased a farm in Afton township. He was 62 years of age on Feb. 6, last.

Mr. Schmidt is survived by his wife and one son, Carl John F. Schmidt, who resides on the home farm. Four children died in infancy. He leaves three step daughters, Mrs. Schroeder of Loveland, Colo., Mrs. Funk of Greenfield and Mrs. Zietlow of Minot. Three sisters and two brothers also survive. Mrs. John Miller of Ward county is a sister.

Burleigh is 36th County to Hire Extension Agent

John R. J. De Jon, former assistant state dairy commissioner, has accepted a position as county agricultural agent for Burleigh county with headquarters at Bismarck, the county commissioners at their last meeting concurring in his appointment effective April 1.

Mr. De Jong came to the United States from Holland twelve years ago and enrolled in the agricultural course at the North Dakota Agricultural College, finishing his degree in two years. In addition, he studied in several of the leading universities in his home country before coming to the United States. He was employed as assistant state dairy commissioner for several years and for the past year has been engaged in the state hail insurance department.

Burleigh county has been without the services of a county agent since the resignation of G. W. Gustafson a year ago last January. Mr. Gustafson left to take up county agent work at Boulder, Mont. A total of 36 counties in the state now employ county agricultural agents.

Potato Production Largest and Most Economical in Agent Counties

Potato production in North Dakota in 1921 was nearly double that of 1920 according to figures collected at the office of the federal statistician at Grand Forks, while reports received from field extension agents indicate that the 1922 acreage in this state will be nearly double that of 1921.

Federal figures give the production for 1921 at 11,520,000 as compared with 6,557,000 in 1920. Cass county led the state last year with a production of 1,995,000 bushels, Trail was next, then Walsh and Grand Forks counties, each producing in excess of one million bushels. Walsh county led the state with an average production of 93 bushels to the acre, Grand Forks and Pembina tying for second place with 91 bushels to the acre. The next highest counties in production per acre were Richland, Trail, Eddy, Benson, Cavalier, Nelson and Steele, averaging from 83 to 80 bushels per acre.

Surrey Honors Howard Huston

A large number of old friends of Howard Huston gathered at the Surrey high school Monday night where they held a reception in his honor. John H. Burns was chairman of the meeting. Many of those present were former students of Mr. Huston when he taught in the Surrey schools. An enjoyable solo was sung by Prof. Anderson, superintendent of the Surrey schools.

For more than an hour Mr. Huston spoke, telling many interesting things about his experiences in Europe. It was one of the most enjoyable of all the celebrations held in this vicinity for Mr. Muston.

J. B. McEwen and family of Minot attended the affair.

The Normal Baby

The normal baby or a 100 percent baby, should come up to the following standards:

There should be a steady gain in weight after the second or third week. There should be a regular bowel movement of normal color and consistency.

There should be a good appetite and clean skin with bright wide-open eyes.

There should be alert muscles which respond readily to any stimulus.

There should be a contented expression and very little crying, with quiet, unbroken sleep with eyes and mouth closed.
