T. T. Jacobson, of Wittenburg, Wis., is spending a few days in the city on business and visiting with old friends. Mr. Jacobson is accompanied by his three fine sons, Irenus, Isador and Sofus, all of whom were born in Minot. Mr. Jacobson was one of the pioneer hardware merchants of the city.

Mrs. G. D. Colcord is improving from a slight attack of pneumonia at her home, 412 Fifth St. S. E. While visiting in Missouri recently, she contracted a cold which developed into pneumonia last week. She is under the care of Miss Catherine Seed, a trained nurse, who has just returned from the Agricultural College at Fargo, where she is an instructor.

Miss Jennie Thompson, who has taught in the Minot schools during the past twelve years, left for her old home, Deer Park, Wis., to spend the summer vacation. She will not come back to Minot next year as she will take up special primary work. Miss Thompson is a sister of A. M. Thompson, former Minot attorney. She has taught in the same room during the twelve years under the late Supt. S. H. Wolfe, Supt. Francis and Supt. L. A. White and has been very successful.

Perry Stockwell, pioneer Burlington settler is in Minot today, and is naturally smiling on account of the heavy rain that has been falling all day. Perry was short of feed in the spring, but managed to put in 25 acres of corn, 15 acres of potatoes and some small grain by feeding his horses nothing but grass, working them three or four hours each in the forenoon and afternoon. He said that last year his wife raised $97 worth of turkeys from tree turkey hens and a gobbler.

In these practical days when the material side of life appeals, it is interesting to learn that some of our educational institutions are concerned with the grasses and polish that add so much to the welfare and happiness of mankind. At the closing exercises of St. Agnes parochial school of Kenmare Master Stanley McKone, son of Mrs. Florence McKone, a student from this city was awarded the honors for being the most polite, genteel and accomplished young gentleman in the school. Would that more of our schools recognized these accomplishments.

Fay N. Fullert formerly head of the Fuller Motor Co. of this city is spending a few days in the city. He informs the Independent that he has traded his Grand Forks property for a section farm at Emerado, fifteen miles west of the Forks and may turn rancher himself if his present plans materialize. The Fuller family are living in Los Angeles and will remain there until the close of the school year after which they will come back to North Dakota, for the summer, at least. Miss Jean Fuller who is with the Keith Orpheum circuit playing in Cleveland last week is in Pittsburg this week. During her stay in Cleveland she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hubbs. Mr. Hubbs was formerly with the Dodge Brothers of Detroit but is now president of the Grant Motor Co. of Cleveland.
