"JACK" POWERS COMMITTED SUICIDE AT HIS MOHALL FARM

"Jack" Powers, prominent farmer residing between Mohall and Sherwood, committed suicide Monday evening by eating poisoned oats, used on the farm as gopher poison. Mr. Powers walked into the kitchen where his granddaughter, Miss Ruth King of Donnybrook was at work, and spitting some of the poisoned oats onto the floor told her to be careful not to put them into the slop bucket as it would kill the hogs. Walking into the adjoining room, he died before relief could be given him.

Mr. Powers was in Minot Friday and Saturday attending the Pageant, and returning to his farm home, he declared Monday that that would be his last day on earth.

Three sons, William, Thomas and George had left that morning by auto for Winnipeg to visit a married sister, and an effort has been made to notify them of their father's death.

Mr. Powers came to Ward county in 1887 and for several years lived in Minot. Later he moved to Donnybrook where he owned the townsite. He owned several lots in that city at the time of his death. He conducted the Powers House in Donnybrook during the early days.

He is survived by his wife and a large family. Mr. Powers was one of the most prominent among the old timers. Many interesting stories are told by other pioneers of the part he took in the life of the early period of Ward county. He was a man of wonderful physique. He came to the States from Canada. His father took part in the Reil Rebellion and was imprisoned in the same jail with Scott, who was executed. His father was given his freedom. Powers as a lad carried food to the two prisoners. Powers was a great friend of Lord Strathcona, during the days when the latter took a prominent part in the development of western Canada.

During the days when arguments were settled in the good old fashioned way, Powers and Jack Shipton fought with bare fists for four hours. The battle was declared a draw. They were the two most powerful men in the west.

Standing in front of where the Leland department store is now located, was a 90-foot well, four feet across. Powers once picked up the late "Rosy" McJannet and dangling him over the well threatened to drop him in. The crowd stood breathless until finally the man dropped McJannet to the ground.

Powers in spite of certain peculiarities, was a likeable man and wonderfully interesting. He had had financial reverses and this is probably the cause of his rash act. He was 71 years of age.

Railroad Commissioners in Minot Tuesday

Frank Milholland and Mr. McDonnell, members of the state railway commission, were in Minot Tuesday, enroute to Kenmare for a hearing of a telephone company. They will hold an electric light hearing at Columbus and had been at Ray Monday where they held a hearing of the Williams County Mutual Telephone Co., a concern that owns 350 miles of line, relative to rates and practices.

They found excellent crops everywhere and state that the best crops in the state are to be found in places where they are needed the most. With a 10 per cent crop reported in Oklahoma and 30 per cent in Kansas, Mr. Milholland says the prospects in North Dakota are especially bright.

Mr. Milholland states that in his opinion the railway strike should be settled at once, and he believes that if the strikers show any sign of weakening, the other railroad bodies will not lose much time in joining them.

Association Launches Advertising Campaign

An advertising campaign aimed at reaching every town and city in southern Minnesota, northern Iowa and a large part of Wisconsin, was launched yesterday by the Minot Association of Commerce for the purpose of securing the thousands of men wanted in northwestern North Dakota to harvest this year's bumper crop and thresh it. Advertisements have been placed in scores of papers and dodgers mailed to several hundred business and professional men in this section of the state with the request that they be mailed to friends in the territory reached by the campaign with the suggestion that they be posted in conspicuous places. The Association of Commerce has mailed several thousands of these dodgers to northern Iowa, Minnesota and parts of Wisconsin. The railroad fare of $5 to Minot from Duluth, Superior, St. Paul and Minneapolis is featured on the dodgers, together with the assertion that there is four months work ahead of laborers in northwestern North Dakota and the wages and board are good.

A particular effort is being put forth to interest farmers and farmers' sons from the territory reached to come to northwestern North Dakota on the low railroad fare, work a few weeks and pay their expenses and thereby see the country. Prospective home seekers who have been reached thru the "100,000 More" campaign are being circularized and urged to come with their neighbors.

At the meeting of the board of directors of the Association of Commerce Tuesday, it was decided to devote the energy of the Association's office to the task of bringing in harvesters and threshers. If the situation becomes critical, a representative will be sent to the Twin Cities to work with the railroads and the federal employment agency.

Thousands of Harvest Hands Wanted in N. W. North Dakota

The Minot Association of Commerce had a large number of circulars printed to send to points east, urging young men to take advantage of the $5.00 fare between Aug. 1 and 15, from the Twin Cities and Duluth to any point in North Dakota. The Association learns that thousands of harvest hands are needed at once through northwestern North Dakota. Good wages are offered, much better than are paid in the middle western states, and any young man can come to Minot for $5.00, secure plenty of work during the fall, enjoy the finest kind of a vacation and return with a good sized bank account.

Hans Hovind's Ghost Story

Hans Hovind, deputy sheriff, has never believed in ghosts, but he came pretty near doing so the other night. He was awakened from a sound sleep and looking over onto the dresser in his bedroom, he saw his collar in an upright position, moving back and forth. He finally learned the cause of the strange sight. A big rat with the collar in its mouth was standing on his hind legs on the dresser. Hans grabbed a pillow and sprang from the bed for the opposite corner of the room, intending to plug the hole thru which the rat entered, but the rat had made his exit before Hans was half way across the room.
