Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sigman motored to Velva Thursday.

John Bostow left Saturday for Grand Forks to take up his studies at the University.

BERTHOLD NEWS

On Thursday of last week, J. S. Hornberger, a farmer and thresherman who lives about nine miles south of town, had to a painful accident. In short, he actually had one foot in the "hot place" not in the hereafter but in "hot" right now and here. He was operating a gas tractor while threshing on O. M. Rackness' farm, which is two miles east from the Hornberger home, and while saturating the engine with gas and oil, it seems that he saturated his trousers leg with the same fluid. He happened to notice that the stubble near the engine had taken fire, in all probability from a spark from the engine, when he jumped off the engine and began to stamp the fire with his feet when his right trousers leg took fire. Then yelling, calling, pawing the dirt, running circles, high jumping, help signals, etc., was the program. The crew responded to his plea for aid, tearing two pairs of overalls off of him and finally extinguishing the fire in the stubble and on the engineer. The man who had had "one foot in Hades" for a short time was taken to town for medical aid. He is now laid up at home waiting for repairs to grow on his foot and ankle. Mr. H. says that if the place we read about in the Good Book is any more tormenting than the one he has just experienced, that he shall strive hard to keep both feet out of it.

The bulk of the threshing will be finished this week in this neighborhood.

A. K. Anderson, formerly of Berthold but now living at Everett, Wash., is here looking after business matters.

About three years ago Mr. Anderson sold his farm to Eugene Bernard on the crop payment plan, but Mr. Bernard informed us yesterday that he had turned the farm back to Mr. Anderson.

Mr. A. has a large number of friends here who would like to see him move his family back to this neighborhood.

Potato digging has begun and we find that the hot weather in August reduced the yield fully half of what was expected. Prices for picking have not yet been regulated, except for 80 bushels or better yield has been set at five cents per bushel and board.

A large number here during the past month have suffered with an ailment which the physicians call "summer flu," but as the weather grows colder its effect is less noticeable.

Two Gunmen Escape From County Jail

Lee Bradley, alias Morris and Ray Williams, colored, made their escape from the Ward county jail late Saturday afternoon. Bradley was held on a charge of first degree robbery and the colored man was arrested at Berthold recently, for carrying concealed weapons. They escaped thru the main door while the jailor, B. F. Simpson, was at work in his office. It is possible that someone on the outside slipped a key to them.

W. E. Organ's Carpenter Shop Burned

Fire at seven o'clock Wednesday morning burned the carpenter shop of W. E. Organ, on Third St. N.E. the wood working machinery and other contents being an almost total loss. The building was badly damaged before the firemen put the flames out, the roof being partially burned. The cause of the fire is not known. Mr. Organ carried a small amount of insurance.

D. H. Gregg, a banker from Winona, Ill., is a business visitor to the city this week coming here to look after some of his real estate interests.

Fat cows are reported to be very low in value. Several Minot farmers have been offered but $15 or $20 each for their fat cows for butchering purposes.

Miss Kate Mitchell will not teach in the Townser school this year. The Farmers Press says this will be the first term she has missed teaching in Townser for thirty-five years.

P. W. Hamilton, staff photographer for the Minneapolis Tribune, took several pictures of Minot from an airplane and the Tribune will publish the picture in about two months.

E. H. Heacox and family of Deering were in the city Saturday. Mr. Heacox has been a rural mail carrier out of Deering for many years and is popular with every patron on his route.

A farmer three miles east of Minot, who had a "hunch" that rye would be a low price, cut his field green, baled it and sold it for hay, realizing $14 an acre by that method.

B. F. Gibson from near Norwich, was in Minot Saturday. He is preparing to buy potatoes grown in that vicinity and leaves soon for Illinois and other states to look up a favorable market.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Devo of Fargo who were called here Wednesday by the death of J. P. Wallace, returned home Tuesday. Mr. Devo who was formerly located in this city, is now manager of the Economy Drug Co. of Fargo.

Dan Smith who is travelling auditor for the S. J. Clark Publishing Co., returned Tuesday from a trip to Detroit, Mich., and will leave Monday for Portland, Ore. Mr. Smith's duties take him into practically every state in the Union.

C. H. Osgood of Presque Isle, Michigan, who has been here for the past two months looking after his financial interests, returned home Wednesday. Mr. Osgood was delighted with our climate and soil and predicts a wonderful future for North Dakota.

A wedding of unusual interest took place at the court house at Bowbells, September 11th, when Sarah E. Blough of Kenmare, aged 77, and Jacob M. Fike of Fessenden, 79 years of age, were united in marriage. The entire court house force was present at the ceremony.

On the Road of Good Intentions

H. S. Coles, formerly manager of the Stevenson Collection Agency of this city, later moving to Washington is visiting old time Minot friends here this week.

Wm. Nevills of Hamilton, Ontario, who has been the guest of his daughter, Mrs. D. M. Smith, 412 Fifth Ave. S. E., for the past week, returned home Tuesday. This was the first time the father and daughter had met in 38 years.

G. P. Borene of Montevideo, Minn., is the guest of his brother, W. E. Borene and family this week. Mr. Borene conducts an exclusive shoe store at Montevideo and his visit at this time is connected with the sale of some real estate which he owned at Jamestown.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Davis and family returned from an auto trip to Minneapolis and Wisconsin. They left Minot Sept. 1 and visited with Mr. Davis' brother at Red Wing, Minn., and with relatives at Portage, Wis. Mrs. Davis is the critic teacher for the third grade at the Minot normal.

C. E. Colcord county auditor from Renville county was in Minot today enroute to Mohall on his return from Minneapolis, where he was a delegate to the annual convention of the National Tax Association. He made a journey to his old home in Whiteside county, Ill., where he visited relatives for a week.

Oscar Gilbertsen of Douglas, was in Minot on business Wednesday. He reports that if the present favorable weather continues, the Douglas threshing will be completed in about three weeks. The Douglas elevators are full practically all of the time, but have been able to get enough cars to keep the grain moving fairly well.

The E. P. Moorhead ranch at Anamosa is "some" farm. The ranch contains 2,000 acres and there was threshed this year, 20,000 bushels of wheat, 9,000 bushels of oats, 1,500 bushels of rye and about 1,000 bushels of barley. Aside from this crop there are 120 acres of potatoes and 200 acres of corn.

C. O. Ronning of Fargo, district supervisor for the De Laval Cream Separator Co., was in the city Tuesday conferring with his local representative. Mr. Ronning says that North Dakota is developing by leaps and bounds and predicts that within the next decade will have passed Minnesota as a dairying state.

Max Korich a transient, was arrested Saturday, charged with carrying concealed weapons. He accuses Ruby Hayes, colored, of robbing him of $100 and the woman was arrested. Korich purchased a gun and stated he was going to get his money back or "clean house". The woman was released on $75 cash bail.

L. A. White of Sherwood is another victim of the Cadillac thieves. He turned his car over to the officials at Minot last week they having established the fact that it had been stolen in another state and brought to North Dakota for sale. Mr. White has had a good share of auto grief, as a car was stolen from him last year.

Dr. Wood, well known chiropractor, has returned from Stewart, Alaska, where he has been for three months, looking after his gold mining interests. He is well pleased with results. On his return, he joined his wife and family in Minneapolis, who accompanied him to Minot. While away, his office was in charge of Dr. Strand of Minneapolis.
