

Devils Lake Inter-Ocean.

VOL. II. NO. 13.

DEVILS LAKE, NORTH DAKOTA, TUESDAY, JULY 10, 1900.

PRICE, FIVE CENTS.

Use Our Dark Room.

We have a handy dark room for the use of amateur photographers. It was constructed for your convenience and we ask you to use it as freely as though you owned it. "You," in this instance, means everybody; visitors to the Assembly are doubly welcome because a convenience of this sort is always needed by photographers away from home.

If You Need Cameras or Camera Supplies

We shall of course expect to supply them, not because you use our dark room, but because we have a perfect assortment and the prices are right. You're just as welcome here when you come to use the dark room as when you come to buy.

Chautauqua.

The Woodmen are here in large numbers and are a disappointed lot. Their speakers have gone back on them. Head Consul W. A. Northcotte promised to be here, but at the last moment word was received that he could not come. Hon. E. E. Murphy and Hon. C. W. Hawes, both prominent in Woodmen circles, were expected to be present and deliver addresses, but they, too, have failed to put in an appearance, so that the members have been left to entertain themselves as best they can. This, happily, they are capable of doing, and the meeting will by no means be a failure because of the absence of the big guns. Still many came especially to hear them and the pleasure of the occasion would have been greatly enhanced by their presence.

The log rolling contest, which was to have taken place at 10 o'clock, had to be postponed because of the roughness of the lake. It will come off after the ball game this afternoon, provided the wind goes down.

The grand entertainment in the auditorium began at 2 o'clock and the ball game between the Milton and Devils Lake clubs is scheduled at 4.

This evening the regular Chautauqua program will be carried out and the entertainment promises to be one of the grandest of the season. W. I. Nolan, the funny man, will make a special effort to please the Woodmen, and all the rest of the talent intend putting the best foot forward.

Tomorrow will be Farmers' day and a splendid program has been arranged for the occasion. In addition to the entertainment, to be furnished by the Chautauqua talent, there will be addresses by Asst. Dairy Commissioner E. E. Kauffman, Professors Sheppard and Bolley, Miss Bertha Dahl Laws, and others. The farmers will also hold sway on Thursday.

The meeting under the auspices of the Woodmen yesterday afternoon was a disappointment. The crowd was there, but speaker and entertainers were conspicuous by their absence. Dr. May explained that neither Mr. Northcotte nor Prof. Nolan had come, and that the Scandinavian quartet had reached Devils Lake, but could not get to the Chautauqua grounds owing to the breaking down of the railway engine. There was, therefore, no speaking and but a brief entertainment. What there was of the latter, however, was very good. The Lyric Ladies' quartet gave a fine selection and responded to an encore. Prof. James rendered a selection on the piano and Dr. May, by request, recited how "Ruby Played the Piano." The Lyric Ladies' quartet sang again, responding to an encore, this closing the exercise for the afternoon.

The entertainment at the auditorium last evening was enjoyed by a vast crowd, among whom were many Woodmen, a large number having arrived on the evening train from Devils Lake. There were no addresses by members of the order but the amusement furnished by the Chautauqua talent supplied all the entertainment the people desired. W. I. Nolan, the humorist, was on hand, as was also Mr. Hill and Miss Whitaker, and Prof. Richards, the scientific lecturer, so that the management was able to present new and varied attractions, all of which were good.

First the Ladies Lyric Quartet led off with "Little Orphan Annie" and were encored, responding with another selection. Still the crowd wanted more, and the same thing happened to W. I. Nolan, the funny man, and to Mr. Hill and Miss Whitaker.

All these people are uncommonly good. The Ladies quartet is composed of the most accomplished singers and an audience will never tire of them. Nolan is also an artist in his line and few competitors can equal or excel him as an entertainer, while Hill and Whitaker are, to use a slang phrase, simply immense.

The illustrated scientific lecture by Prof. Richards was truly interesting and instructive. He gave the audience a little talk before proceeding to make the experiments in which he summed up "science as the art of doing a thing properly. The cook who understands the culinary art thoroughly is a scientist, and so is the barber who knows how to shave and cut hair well. The first experiment made by the professor was given with a view to showing the two sides of air, oxygen and nitrogen. The experiment was a success, but some of the young men who have not made a study of science looked aghast when Prof. Richards declared a 145 pound girl was composed of 96 pounds of water, a large percentage of oxygen, 27 1/2 pounds of fat, 7 or 8 pounds of lye, three ounces of sugar and three pounds of albumen, or as the professor termed it, white of egg. They evidently had no idea that angels were made of such a compound. Prof. Richards gave quite a large number of experiments illustrating scientific truths, at the close of which Mr. Hill and Miss Whitaker did some banjo and coon dialect business, and Nolan appeared in another one of his funny sketches. This closed the exercises for the evening.

NOTES.

Mrs. S. M. Bates, of the Grafton News and Times, returned home this morning after a ten days stay on the Chautauqua grounds.

The bathing was excellent yesterday afternoon and a number of persons took a dip in the brine.

The majority of the Press Association have returned to their respective homes and are now busily engaged in getting out the week's edition of their respective papers.

E. L. Richter is chuckling over the Larimore Pioneer's "scoop" on Rev. Gibson's denial of his alleged death bed confession of complicity in the murder for which Durant was hanged.

The southern boys worked up a presidential boom for Fred Falley on the train, but the Kent sentiment was too strong for them. Fred doesn't know yet what a narrow escape he had.

Editor Sibley, of Grandin, was accompanied by his charming wife and the pride of the household.

Editor Lindstrom spent Sunday on the farm near Oberon, where he deposits the surplus profits of the Langdon Republican.

Professor Crocker, of Lisbon, has been enjoying the delights of the Chautauqua, getting acquainted with the newspaper boys and taking in the summer school on the side. Mr. Crocker is county superintendent of Ransom county and publishes the Rotary and the Westland Educator from the only horsepower print shop in North Dakota.

W. C. Taylor, of the LaMoure Chronicle is paying his regular annual visit to the Chautauqua and visiting relatives in the city.

Prof. Crocker says his father was a printer before and behind him. Geo. Wilson's stories about early morning swims across the lake were generally taken as tales to off-
