FORMER RESIDENTS IN NEW SOCIETY

FORMER DEVILS LAKE RES-IDENTS JOIN NORTH DAKOTA
CLUB IN OREGON.

Devils Lake people will be interested in an account of the organization of a new society in Roseburg, Oregon, of which several former residents of Devils Lake are charter members. The former Devils Lake people who are members are Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fancher, Miss Hazel Fancher and Mr. H. R. Fancher.

Roseburg, Ore. News: A very enjoyable reunion of residents who formerly lived in North Dakota was held at the Eagles' hall in this city last evening, at which time an organization to be known as the "North Dakota Association" was formed. Eighty adults were in attendance, and all agree that it was one of the most enjoyable occasions held here for years.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. L. A. Ueland, formerly of Edgeley North Dakota, who calling the session to order, Mr. Ueland spoke briefly and simply informed those assembled of the benefits that would be derived through the formation of an organization in this city.

In order to get down to business Mr. Wells moved that a permanent organization be effected, the officers to consist of a president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and an executive committee. The motion was carried and the officers will serve for a term of twelve months.

A motion also carried empowering members and render the workings of the association efficient.

The members then extended a vote of thanks to Messrs. Ueland and Gifford for the manner in which they labored to bring about the formation of the association.

The work of perfecting a permanent organization was then taken up and the following men were elected to the several offices: Mr. Ueland, president; Mr. Gorthy, vice president; H. Guest, secretary and treasurer. The executive committee was then given instructions to call two meetings annually, one to be held in January and the other in mid summer.

At the conclusion of the business meeting a number of recitations and brief addresses were delivered, all of which was enjoyed immensely. A delicious luncheon followed.

Following are the members of the association and their former residences in North Dakota:

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Beall, Williston; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Holloway, Park River; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thomas, Bottineau; Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Gifford, Valley City; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fancher, Devils Lake; Mr. and Mrs. H. Guest, Erie; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Ueland, Edgeley; Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Page, Westhope; Mr. and Mrs. George J. Post, Cayuga; Mr. and Mrs. George Maciver, Carrington; Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Perrin, Sanborn; Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Grannis, Sanborn; Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Lucas, Williston; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Is No Better.
Latest reports from the bedside of Ernest Haig show that his condition has remained practically the same since his recent relapse. His many friends here hope for a decided improvement within a few days.

The Bird Table.
In the old countries of Europe the bird table may still be seen in the rural districts. A bird table is made by driving a short stake into the ground and fruitly gilling a shallow wooden box on top of it. The box generally measures two by three feet and has a number of holes in the bottom to drain it of rain or snow water. It is always high enough to be beyond reach of any cat that might try to leap to it from the ground. Care also is taken to select a spot far enough from fences, trees or buildings to prevent cats from pouncing down on it when the birds are feeding. Into the bird table go scraps from the house table and kitchen, pieces of stale bread and cake, strips of fat meat, potato parings, carrot ends, bits of any kind of table greens, apple skins and cores and cabbage leaves. All kinds of non-migratory birds come to feed at the bird table, and many a song bird has been saved by it from starvation when a deep snow has covered the ground and seed grasses. An English naturalist counted twenty-seven species of birds at the bird table in his garden in a single morning after a heavy fall of snow.

Callini's Quick Cure.
Benvenuto Cellini when about to cast his famous statue of Perseus, now in the Loggia dei Lanzi at Florence, was taken with a sudden fever. In the midst of his suffering one of his workmen rushed into his sick chamber and exclaimed: "Oh, Benvenuto! Your statue is spoiled, and there is no hope whatever of saving it!" Cellini said that when he heard this he gave a howl and leaped from his bed. Dressing hastily, he rushed to his furnace and found his metal "melted." He ordered dry oak wood and fired the furnace fiercely, working in a rain that was falling, stirred the channels and saved his metal. He continues the story thus: "After all was over I turned to a plate of salad on a bench there and ate with a hearty appetite and drank together with the whole crew. Afterward I retired to my bed, healthy and happy. For it was two hours before morning, and slept as sweetly as if I had never felt a touch of illness."

The Need of Dressmakers.
Recently a number of earnest women who make clothes for the members of their sex congregated in Chicago from all over the country, principally south and west, to discuss matters concerning their trade.

From all sides came the same old cry: "We cannot get help to do our work. There are very few women to-day who are expert fitters, designers, or even hand sewers. Girls do not take up dressmaking as they did a few years ago; they are more interested in wearing clothes than making them. Our schools do not teach, either in precept or in practice, the importance of the education of the hands."

A smattering of what some people call culture gives the average boy or girl a distaste for homely craftsmanship so necessary to the comfort of living.

The trade school should be established at once, and it should be a place where more than a theoretical education of the trade may be obtained. The ethical side of the question should be taught carefully. The man or woman who makes clothes, who takes care of a home, who makes furnishings for that, who by educational hands turns a beautiful thought into a practical help in the real art of living, has done more for humanity than he who just voices the thought.

We do not impress upon our children the importance of this great principle. All work is not only necessary, but most honorable. It takes brains to make dresses, but remember this—you can conceive the most beautiful gown in the world, but only you or someone else with trained hands can turn that thought into the perfectly finished design.

Everywhere was voiced the demand for a museum of textiles and costumes such as one finds at Lyons, where our designers may study the history of dress and get ideas which may be converted into American modes.

The Museum at Lyons is supported by the Chamber of Commerce, as that astute body of tradesmen has learned the commercial value of such an institution to a city. From all over the continent, costumers and manufacturers visit this city to brush up their historical knowledge of design at the museum.

There is no reason why similar institutions should not be established in our different trade centers—and the Chicago Dressmakers' Club, with rare unselfishness, is trying to do this in Chicago. Many of its members, especially its president, Mrs. Beatrice Howard—are giving much time to this laudable project and at the recent convention of the club they at last succeeded in interesting the vice-president of the Chicago Association of Commerce and one of the commissioners of the public schools.

Trust the women to put through an endeavor when they get started!

The establishment of a trade school and its attendant museum of textiles and costumes should be pushed by every man and woman in Chicago who has the welfare of the American child at heart. If the child can be interested in utilitarian pursuits early in life, while its mind is pliable and its energy untiring, chances that the girl or boy will go wrong will be much lessened.

Held Meeting.
A very enjoyable meeting of the Study Club was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. B. Page on East 4th St. The Club has been spending some pleasant afternoons in reading and studying Shakespeare. King Lear was finished at this meeting. Senate Bill No. 73 relative to Woman's Suffrage was discussed and all present signed the petition. Few men or women realize the debt of gratitude that is due the early workers for the suffrage cause, for they not only worked for political rights but to secure for women the social, industrial, educational and legal rights enjoyed today.

The women of Massachusetts worked for fifty years to secure the law for equal guardianship of children upon their statute books. This was one of the just laws relative to women, that was passed in Wyoming, Utah, Idaho, and Colorado, where women vote.

An enlightened woman is now put in the same class with idiots, criminals and minors, and thus deprived of true citizenship, although she must pay all assessments and taxes without any voice in the reflection of public officials.

Lucretia Mott said: "The question is often asked: 'What does woman want more than she enjoys? What is she seeking to obtain?' Of what privileges are withheld from her?' I answer: 'She asks nothing as a favor but as a right. She wants to be acknowledged a moral, responsible being. She is NOT to be governed by laws in the making of which she has no voice. So far as Woman's ambitions leading her to act the man, she needs all the encouragement she can receive by the removal of obstacles from her path, in order that she may become the true woman." Mark Twain says: "I should like to see the ballot in the hands of every woman." There is not one argument against woman's suffrage that does not apply to make suffrage—and simple justice demands that the franchise be extended to woman.

Newspaper Plant Burned Out.
Williston, Feb. 6.—Fire broke out in the Williston State office Thursday night about 9:30. The alarm was sent in but owing to the heavy snow it took some time to get water turned onto the flames. Owing to this little delay the fire got considerable headway and the type and cases are a total loss. The machinery and other contents of the building were damaged to such an extent that it is a question as to whether they can even be rebuilt. The building was also badly damaged. Mr. Whitehead carried $1,500 insurance.

BALL LEAGUE
MANAGERS OF NORTH DAKOTA
TEAMS MAY JOIN WITH CANADIAN CLUBS.

The agitation of Manager Shuster of the Moose Jaw baseball team for the formation of a baseball league is being favorably considered on this side of the line, and if plans materialize the people on the circuit will see an article of the great game the coming summer that will make them sit up and take notice. Manager Shuster's plan is to form a league comprised of Moosejaw, Regina, and Saskatoon, in Canada, and Valley City, Fargo, Devils Lake, Bismarck and Minot in North Dakota. The salary limit would be placed at $1,500 and a regular schedule would be arranged. A league of this kind would be an excellent thing for this section of the country and by paying good salaries some excellent players could be secured. The sentiment in Devils Lake is strong for the league and it is hoped that Mr. Shuster's plan will work out in the desired results. As far as baseball in Devils Lake is concerned the coming year should be a banner one as far as enthusiasm is concerned. Already letters are being received from applicants for positions on the team here.

To Give Dance.
No little interest is being shown in the city in the Firemen's dance, which will be given Feb. 14th in the skating rink. The department deserves the support of every citizen and everything possible should be done to make the occasion a successful one.

P. S. Chamberlain of Doyon was in Devils Lake Wednesday attending to business matters.
