

If You Could Watch Ten Years

If you could watch a prepared roof for ten years—see the effect of snow and hail and ice and heat and frost and wind and fire, you'd certainly know whether that was the roof you wanted or not.

You can do it. In ten minutes time you can determine the effect of ten years of severe wear on any prepared roofing. We've embodied six tests—tests which correspond to ten years of the hardest kind of wear—in a book. It is yours for the asking at our dealer's. The information it contains will enable you to absolutely settle the question of which prepared roofing will last longest and require least repairs.

When you make the tests, include a sample of

Vulcanite Roofing

We know that Vulcanite will carry off the honors. That is why we furnish the tests. We are content to let Vulcanite Roofing sell itself. It is good enough and worthy enough and reasonably enough priced to be its own best salesman.

Sixty years ago, the first Vulcanite Roof was marketed. Every succeeding year has seen the Vulcanite label covering a better piece of goods. Today it stands alone as the best prepared roofing obtainable at any price. Mind you—the way to prove this statement is yours for the asking.

Ask our dealer for the book. Just say, "I want to know about Vulcanite." He'll do the rest.

Rev. A. G. Bailey arrived from Devils Lake Sunday and conducted services in the afternoon; his original intentions were to remain and continue the revival meetings every evening this week the same as last but owing to the death of Ernest Haig, son of Supt. J. A. Haig of the county schools he was obliged to be back. He returned here Tuesday however, and the revivals were continued that evening up to and including Friday evening. Special illustrated lectures by the pastor have been tendered the pupils of the village schools every afternoon.

Alexander Jacobson was an arrival last week from Buffalo, New York. Mr. Jacobson has been absent about a year and a half and during that time has visited almost every portion of the globe. At the time of leaving here he went to the Pacific coast where he spent some time in the larger cities. Later he enlisted with the able bodied sailors and from that time up to last fall he was abroad most of the time, visiting Europe, South America, Asia, many of the islands, and in fact portions of most every land inhabited by human beings. He relates some very interesting experiences of his travels and further states that he intends to return to the navy in the fall.

CHURCHS FERRY

(From the Sun.)
