GUARANTEE OF QUALITY AND PURITY

Copenhagen Snuff is made of the best, old, rich, high-flavored leaf tobacco, to which is added only such ingredients as are component parts of natural leaf tobacco and absolutely pure flavoring extracts. The Snuff Process retains the good of the tobacco and expels the bitter and acid of natural leaf tobacco.

CHURCHES FERRY

(From the Sun.)

Sheriff McLean was up from Devils Lake Tuesday on official business. Miss Inga Solberg left Saturday on a short visit to friends at Williston. Miss Simpson, the new music teacher of Cando, has been instructing her music class in this city this week. Cashier Ringler of the Spare State Bank, returned Tuesday from a few days visit with his family at Rindorf, N. D. Miss Bernice Thompson, teacher in the White Earth school, returned home Sunday to spend the summer vacation. Miss Bertie Pixley left this week for Minneapolis where she will reside hereafter. The household goods were packed and shipped this week. O. A. Sattre returned Saturday from a prolonged visit to his farm near Turtle Lake, this state, where he has been superintending the seeding of his land. Miss Minnie Thompson and Ade McCormick, teachers in the Bishop school, returned Monday for the summer. Miss Ada has been engaged to teach in the Devils Lake schools next year. Miss Klier of Bishop is the guest of Misses Ad and McCormick and Minnie Thompson this week. Banker Hansen left Tuesday for Minneapolis and Wisconsin points on a week's business visit. A brother of Martin Swenson arrived Wednesday from Norway for a visit with Martin and family. Joseph Kindahl returned home from Northfield, Minn., Wednesday, where he has been attending St. Olaf college. Miss Etta Nichol entertained the members of the M. E. choir and a few other friends, at six o'clock dinner Wednesday. Master Harold Flath accompanied his father to Church's Ferry on the latter's return from a professional visit to Stanley. Miss Maude Esavage, one of our teachers, left Friday for Grand Forks to visit her sister who is attending summer school in that city. Mrs. Fending and Miss Myrtle returned Monday from a few days visit with Mrs. Fending's daughter, Mrs. Guy Morris, at Cando. Edwin Phillips and Master Maynard Steig left Thursday for Whitehall, Wis., the former returning to her home and the latter to a visit to her grandparents. A game of ball between the local and the Cando aggregation was scheduled Monday afternoon, but for some unknown reason the Cando bunch failed to put in an appearance, much to the disappointment of a large crowd of spectators who assembled to witness the battle. Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Stradness left Thursday for the east, Mr. Stradness expecting to stop in St. Paul to attend the convention of pastors of the United Lutheran church, while Mrs. Stradness will continue her trip to Ridge-way, Iowa, where she will visit at her old home. Mr. Stradness expects to be absent about a week.

HAMPDEN

(From the Guardian.)

Mrs. M. A. Knutson returned from a short visit at Grand Forks Thursday. Rev. Norberg left for Wilmar, Minn., Monday to attend the annual Lutheran convention. Magnus Peterson returned from Minn. Thursday where he had been called by the death of his brother. K. T. Gordon is improving the appearance of his place east of town by the erection of a new barn 32x72. Mrs. Fred Thompson of Fairdale, visited with her sister, Miss Edna Merriam, the latter part of the week. Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Reese returned from Grand Forks Sunday where the former had been as a delegate to the Old Fellows grand lodge. Mr. and Mrs. Franz Anthony and son mother and brother of Mrs. A. B. Brandt, arrived Monday for a few days visit. Bart Webber was down from Weaver Tuesday trying to organize a Yeoman lodge. We understand he got enough applicants to make the lodge a go and they expect to organize soon. H. P. Hanson, the Devils Lake photographer, was here Tuesday putting faces on cards. He reports business as being good despite the fact that he was not advertised. He expects to be here again in about a month. Mrs. C. A. Morton received the sad news of the sudden death of her niece, Miss Bertha Koppang, which occurred in an auto accident Monday afternoon. It seems that Miss Koppang and her father were out in the auto when it suddenly turned turtle, instantly killing Miss Koppang and seriously injuring her father. Both parties are well and favorably known here and this sad news was received as a great shock. Mrs. C. A. Morton visited friends at Devils Lake the latter part of the week. Mrs. Martin Olson returned from Lankin Monday after a week's visit with her mother. Mrs. Wm. Cole left Monday for Moosejaw where she will visit for a few days with her son before joining Mr. Cole on their claim. Leo Knoke received the sad news of the death of his father Monday, and left via Alton for his old home in Wisconsin to attend the funeral. Last Sunday at the Lutheran church a class of 13 were confirmed, Rev. Norberg performing the ceremony. The church was taxed to its utmost capacity and they could not accommodate all who wished to attend. Last Thursday morning the barn on A. N. Hagen's farm south of town was struck by lightning and burned to the ground together with two horses. There were ten horses in the barn at the time it was struck, all of which were burned more or less, three of them dying since. There was no insurance on the barn, but the horses belonging to Aanstad Bros., who have the place rented, were insured. We understand that Mr. Hagen will rebuild as soon as possible. ### COMPOUND CALLOUSES

Tells Splendid Cure for Them and All Foot Troubles.

A compound callous is the secondary stage when it grows inward and presses on the nerves, causing intense pain. Callouses never cure themselves but always get worse, sometimes irritating the whole nervous system. The following is a most effective and speedy cure "Dissolve two table-spoonsful of Calcolide in a basin of hot water. Soak the feet in this for full fifteen minutes, gently massaging the sore parts. (Less time will not give the desired results.) The soreness will disappear immediately and the callous can be easily peeled off. Repeat this for several nights. A little olive oil rubbed into skin is very beneficial."

This Calcolide is a very remarkable preparation for all foot ailments. Bunions, corns and ingrowing nails get instant relief and are soon cured. Bad smelling and sore feet need but a few treatments. Calcolide is no longer confined to doctors' use. Any druggist has it in stock or will quickly get it from his wholesale house. A twenty-five cent package is usually enough to put the worst feet in fine condition. It will prove a blessing to persons who have been vainly trying ineffectual tablets and foot powders.

INTERESTING DEVELOPMENTS IN EXAMINATION OF LUMBER BARONS IN SOUTH.

In view of the investigation that is now being conducted in the Northwest to ascertain if there is any evidence of black hand at work, the following dispatch from Kansas City is of especial interest:

Kansas City, June 13.—In an attempt to show that the Southwestern Lumbermen's association had a so-called "Customers' list" which it sent to all the members for the purpose of blacklisting wholesalers and manufacturers who sold lumber direct to consumers, the state called Henry A. Gersuch, secretary of the Southwestern association to the stand today in its suit to oust the so-called lumber trust from Missouri.

Mr. Gersuch admitted that there was such a list, but said it was merely a sort of business guide for members. He said he did not recall ever sending out lists blacklisting wholesalers.

Charles H. Keith, president of the Central Coal and Coke company of this city, was the only other witness examined today. He started his hearers with the statement that the cost of producing yellow pine had increased 88 per cent from 1898 to 1908. He said it was so cheaply and demand and not the price list issued by the yellow pine manufacturers association that controlled prices. He said that only curtailment of output by the association was that of 1904, mentioned yesterday by R. A. Long of the Long-Bell Lumber company.

Mr. Keith explained that there were business reasons for a complete curtailment of its output, citing failure to get sufficient transportation facilities.

Mr. Keith denied that there was any agreement to fix or control the price of yellow pine, or to limit competition in the state of Missouri.

Replying to a question by the states attorney Mr. Forsuch admitted that the Southwestern association had a so-called "customers list" and continued:

"It contained information of value to the retailers. It kept them advised as to the business methods of the wholesalers and manufacturers. If a wholesaler persistently shipped lumber of inferior quality, or had the habit of passing up old orders and filling new ones after there was an advance in the price of lumber, that information was dispensed. These were some of the many purposes of the customers' list."

"Did you ever send out blacklisting names of wholesalers who sold directly to retailers?"

"I recall doing nothing of the kind."

Mr. Gersuch testified that the wholesalers and manufacturers of lumber were members of the Southwestern when the membership was restricted to retailers. He said the wholesalers were permitted to attend and participate in their annual meetings, but had no votes.

LAW WAS REFERRED TO GOVERNOR EBERHART BY THE U. C. T.

The new hotel inspection law in Minnesota was signed by Governor Eberhart on April 18. As soon as the law was signed and recorded the governor appointed as chief inspector under the law, Alex. W. Crozier, former secretary-treasurer of the Minneapolis Council No. 63, U. C. T. Brother Alex will enter upon his duties at once. The law was distinctly a U. C. T. measure from its first inception. A delegation of members of the order from the twin before the legislative session and urged the manner of proper regulations and sanitation of hotels to such good purpose that the governor strongly recommended such a law in his message to the present legislature. The law was not unopposed by certain hotel interests but with the endorsement of the administration it had a steady progress through both houses to its final passage. The law embraces all of the strong points of the hotel inspection laws of the several states; in fact many of the best points in a number of the other state laws were taken from the first Minnesota law, which failed on account of a lack of proper provisions to put it into effect. Without working hardship on any man, the laws of Minnesota will shortly be in much better condition under the provisions of this law administered by a man so able and broad minded as Alex. Crozier.

DEAN M. A. BRANNON OF GRAND FORKS TO HOLD SERIES OF INVESTIGATIONS.

The following from the Grand Forks Herald will be of interest to local people:

Dean M. A. Brannon of the university will leave early next week for the biological station at Devils Lake, where he will spend the summer in charge of the rapidly growing experimental work that is being conducted at the station. There will be summer school courses offered at the station this summer and several men will be kept in the field gathering specimens and conducting other work necessary to planned. Marshall Brannon leaves today for Devils Lake to begin the work of the summer.

The experiments begun last year to determine if possible what kind of fish will live in Devils Lake will be continued. Fish are being obtained from the government and the experiments will be continued. The branch of the work also necessitates considerable work of investigating plant and other animal life in the lake.

ROLETTE COUNTY MATTER TAKEN UP YESTERDAY WAS CONTINUED UNTIL JULY 15.

The case of McGill vs. Rolette county, which was brought before Judge Cowan yesterday afternoon was not completed, final arguments in the matter in which McGill is endeavoring to prevent the county commissioners from building a road over his property have been set to come up in district court before Judge Cowan July 15.

DROWNED.

Stillwater, Minn., June 19.—Overcome in the St. Croix river in a vain attempt to save Le Roy Bergquist, the 6-year-old son of Ole Bergquist, Holton, Wis., a sawyer at the stillwater mills, from drowning, C. H. Dobson, 60 years old, of St. Paul, was drowned Saturday evening. Both bodies were recovered.

TURTLE MOUNTAIN INDIAN BE TAKEN CARE OF IN MONTANA COUNTRY.

Choice land in Coteau county, Montana, has been secured for the Turtle Mountain Indians according to John F. Armstrong special allotting agent for the Indian department of the United States Government who returned last evening from his western trip.

A six days drive behind a team of plodding farm horses, interesting experience with the old timers who delighted Mr. Armstrong with their tales of the early life and a glimpse of what he declares to be one of the best tracts he has ever seen in Montana made his trip a unique one.

The Havro Plaindealer tells the story as follows:

"There will be added to Coteau county some bronze denizens of the plains, whom Irving painted in Addisonian prose as a kindly people, and Longfellow immortalized by his Hiawatha, but whom, some of the older settlers of this country better acquainted with the characteristics of the red men would put into the debit margin of both the social and commercial ledger of Coteau county.

Mr. John F. Armstrong, special allotting agent of the government spent several days in the city this week at the local land office looking up land upon which to locate the remnant of the band of Turtle Mountain Indians. There are some 1,700 of these settlers who were located in Valley county, 250 went into Miles City land district and something like one hundred went into the district north of Harlem near the Canadian line, and lands have been selected for the balance of them, perhaps 150, some 12 miles south of Hingham. In speaking of them Mr. Armstrong said:

"Most of these people are breed children and they are as good a class of Indians as are to be found in the country. They are thrifty, clean, sober, industrious and intelligent. They have been generally educated at the Fort Totten, N. D. Indian Industrial school and their work will compare favorably with the work in similar schools for the whites.

"It is the policy of the Indian department to permit the old Indians to sell their lands in North Dakota and come out and live with their children. These lands often bring large money and many of them invest a portion of it in buying steam plowing outfits and they have held their own with neighboring white farmers where they have worked side by side in Dakota. These old Indians will bring many of these steam plow outfits to this country and will do their part in the development of this great and fertile valley, perhaps the richest in the world.

"These lands cannot be leased or purchased from the Indians save under federal authority. Stockmen or others who lease these lands without having first obtained federal approval of the transaction are subject under the law to a heavy fine. A trust patent extending for twenty years is given by the government to the Indians. In case the owner of the land dies, the land to which deceased had a trust patent may be sold under the inherited act."

EXPERTS IN VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS OF SCOUTCRAFT HAVE CONTRIBUTED CHAPTERS.

The new handbook of the Boy Scouts of America is out. It is thoroughly American, and many of the objectionable features of the first, which was an adaptation of the English handbook, have been eliminated. Besides it is much more complete, giving information in a number of subjects which were not attempted in the first edition.

The book is divided into nine chapters, scoutcraft, woodcraft, campcraft, tracks, trailing and signaling, health and endurance, chivalry, first aid and life saving, games and athletic standards and patriotism and citizenship.

A List of the Contributors.

It has been compiled from contributions by experts in the various subjects. The chapter on scoutcraft is by John L. Alexander, executive secretary of the Boy Scouts of America. The chapter on woodcraft is most extensive, covering nearly a third of the book. The contributors to this chapter are Ernest Thompson Seton, National Association Audubon societies, Dr.

F. T. FOX

William Healey Hall and Dr. Leonard Stejneger of the National museum, the United States Bureau of Entomology, Dr. Hugh M. Smith of the Bureau of Fisheries, Dr. William Leland Stowell, Honorable George Otis Smith, director of the geological survey and Dr. L. C. Corbett of the Bureau of Plant Industry.

Hiking and overnight camps is described by H. M. Wilson, boys' secretary of the Massachusetts and Rhode Island Y. M. C. A., and canoeing and sailing by Arthur A. Carey.

Mr. Seton is also the author of the chapter on tracks, trailing and signaling. Health and endurance is described by George J. Fisher, M. D.

John L. Alexander is author of the chapter on chivalry, while that on first aid and life saving is by Major Charles Lynch of the American Red-Cross, and Willert E. Longfellow of the United States Life Saving corps.

Mr. Seton and Mr. Alexander also contribute to the chapter on games and athletic standards, as well as Lee F. Hamner, director of the child hygiene department of the Russell Sage foundation.

The chapter on patriotism and citizenship is by Waldo H. Sherman, the author of "Civics—Studies in American Citizenship."

The outline of the whole Scout scheme is given in the first chapter, together with cuts of the various articles of Scout equipment, flags, uniforms, badges and merit badges.

Will Boost Scout Movement. Scout masters will find enough suggestions in the handbook to keep their boys busy for a long time, or at least until the handbook for Scout Masters is published in August. Troops which have been holding back waiting for the official handbook will now be able to go ahead with their work, and the movement will be given a decided impetus all over the country.

Advance proofs of the book are now off the press, and copies will soon be obtainable from the national headquarters in New York, and from the regular dealers who sell the Boy Scout equipment.

JAMESTOWN AND VALLEY CITY BACKERS ANXIOUS TO GET MATCH WITH LOCALS.

If the plans which germinated at the County Auditors convention are carried into effect Devils Lake will meet the aggregations from Jamestown and Valley City in the near future.

Auditors Blewett of Jamestown and Nelson of Valley City are both baseball fans. They have the bug right and naturally believe that they are each backing a team that stands alone in the state. Auditor Biee was equally positive that the World-beaters could clean up anything they ever ran against, so that when the trio had concluded and the smoke had cleared away, articles of agreement had been signed, sealed and delivered and all that is waiting now is the sanction of the management of the three teams.

The series would be one worth watching with either team and the local fans trust that the arrangements go through.
