Around the Town

Mr. John Kiblinger, the deputy sheriff of Benson county spent the fourth in Warwick looking after business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Grover of Tokso autoed to town to take in the celebration here the fourth.

Miss Berna Williams has been visiting with relatives at Gardner, N. D. for a few days.

Miss Katherine Murphy visited with her sister, Miss Vera, last week.

The greatest celebration this side of the twin cities took place at Warwick the Fourth of July. There were about five million people in our village. We ought to be proud of the splendid way everything took place. The street parade was as good as Fargo could produce. A very appropriate speech was delivered by Hon. A. J. Gronna. Dr. Asher of Minot spoke at 3 o'clock p. m. and the talk was one to be remembered by all. The horse races was an enjoyable sport for all. In general the celebration was the greatest success ever known of a town this size. We can all be called a citizen of Warwick.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron King and family autoed to Warwick in their new Overland car to spend the fourth, and were the guests of the Richardson's over Sunday.

Misses Mary and Marie Crommett are visiting with friends in Starkweather this week.

Hail Insurance

The present crop outlook justifies every farmer in protecting himself against a loss by hail. No business man can afford to be without insurance to protect himself and his creditors, and as the farmer depends entirely upon his crops, he cannot afford to be cleaned up by a hail storm and have no Hail Insurance.

When you insure against hail you should select a good company. George Juergens of Devils Lake is the man to talk with about this as he has written insurance for years and he will insure you in the best companies doing business in the state today. Don't delay, but call, or write, or phone him now and be protected. You will sleep better nights. He also writes Fire, Lightning and Cyclone Insurance.
