TREES - - North Dakota Grown - - TREES

SHRUBS FOR HEDGES - EVERGREENS - SMALL FRUITS

CARAGANA—The Siberian Pea Tree—The best by test for hedges in the Northwest is a sturdy, thick-growing, upright shrub and largely used for Hedge Planting. We have a large stock of Caragana as well as other hedge-plants such as Honey suckle, Dogwood, Buckthorn, Lilac, Spiraea, Russian Olive and others that we have grown and propagated.

EVERGREENS—We raise by the millions from seed collected specially in the Black Hills and Rocky Mountains. They have grown here unprotected and have been twice transplanted, insuring a beautiful root-system. They are acclimated and hardy and we recommend them for ornamental and permanent plantings.

SMALL FRUITS—Currants, Gooseberries, Raspberries and Junberries are raised in large quantities by us. We propagate our own stock and sell only extra-size plants of the best quality.
