MARY PICKFORD AT THE GRAND

Mary Pickford in "A Girl of Yesterday" at the Grand, Saturday Matinee and Night.
"A Girl of Yesterday", one of the most novel screen offerings ever presented, is the first motion picture romance to embody all of the phases of courtship of a generation gone by in contrast with the most modern of romantic auxiliaries—the aeroplane, the palatial steam yacht, the tennis court, the golf course, and many other adjuncts of the present-day sport. As the prim and unsophisticated reincarnation of our grandmothers, and, later as the center of attraction in the modern world of society with all the pomp and luxuries of the elite of today, Mary Pickford achieves an unusual double triumph. In the course of the production, Glen Martin, the world famous aviator, makes his first appearance in motion pictures and Mary Pickford takes her first aeroplane flight.

Dear Sir (or Madam):---

Five years ago Thomas A. Edison set himself to the task of producing an instrument that would re-create sound so perfectly that the re-creation could not be detected from the original. In the earlier stages of his research work when he had produced only a few instruments and records, a large manufacturer of sound reproducing devices remarked more or less scornfully: "Yes, the result is wonderful, but it is a laboratory product and cannot be produced in commercial quantities."

Edison determined to do what it was said could not be done, namely, to turn out a product of laboratory excellence in unlimited quantities. Today his big Orange factory has been converted into a gigantic laboratory. Edison Diamond Disc Records are a laboratory product which is now being produced in unlimited quantities. There are weekly issues of these wonderful new Laboratory Re-creations of the world's finest music.

We should like to have you call at our store and hear some of the latest examples of Edison's new art of music re-creation.

Yours truly,

Devils Lake Drug Co.

E. ENGBRETSON, Manager.
