and girls' clubs and organizations. The direction of this program will be in the hands of David E. Sonquist and George W. Gustafson of the University of Chicago.

These demonstrations will be conducted among the girls and boys in camp during the Chautauqua and will prove to them one of the rarest treats of the entire program.

Rural Games and Play Demonstration

Among the many movements abroad at the present time in the realm of rural life betterment that dealing with better recreation is receiving major attention. It will be the privilege of the Chautauqua management to offer an afternoon demonstration of the rural games and play features which have been found most valuable for general use in connection with schools, boys'

The John Howard Quintette

The John Howard Quintette will offer to their audience a great program of the best composer's efforts. The selection of the program will be such that all will enjoy hearing them, and their printed program annotations and short descriptive talks by Mr. Howard will make the whole program most enjoyable and interesting.

The instrumentation of the Quintette—first violin, second violin, flute, cello and piano—makes possible the rendition of many delightful numbers. The Quintette will also carry a harmonium, a type of reed organ, and when this is used in the place of the piano the effect of a woodwind section is obtained. The soloists are very capable and add delightfully to the program.

Fourth of July

Chautauqua is planning to entertain everybody on July 4th. In addition to a strong platform programme, there will be something doing every minute.

There will be Water Sports, including Boat Races, Diving and Swimming Exhibitions.

Two Ball Games will furnish ample exhibitions of the national sport.

The band will play one great, big, continuous concert the whole day long.

In the evening there will be a great display of Firework including pieces never before shown in North Dakota. The fireworks programme is under the management of E. J. O'Reilly and L. D. Snell, which guarantees its completeness.

Pres. Geo. E. Vincent

Of the University of Minnesota, recognized from coast to coast as one of the greatest platform speakers in America. President Vincent's address last year was the feature of the assembly. He should be heard by thousands.

It's a Message from A Master Mind

Some Folks Say:

That "Frank Atkinson is a delightful traveling companion, and his audience travels with him at no inconvenience and almost no cost."

No one can see the world through the windows of a railroad coach. To have seen the world one must have seen the world's people and have seen through their eyes. The initials "M" and "W" which represent two elements of which the world is composed, do not stand for Mud and Water, but for Men and Women. "Since he has found Men and Women to be an attractive subject for study; men and women find him an attractive speaker to listen to." "His lectures are replete with wit and humor and those who do not enjoy wholesome laughter will make a mistake if they hear Atkinson."

I. Elma Mykland has perfected her work under the best teachers the country affords. Mr. Mykland gives an entertainment noted for variety, beauty and artistic worth. Each character, as she reads, seems to step out of the nowhere and stand before the living. She creates them so easily and so gracefully and with such a touch of real comic human understanding that the miracle of actual materialization seems to be accomplished. She is a reader who really loves her art, who loves life and mimicry, who can really see things and give them back to you. In her cartooning and landscape drawing she is very good. Her sketches range from comic cartoons to beautiful works of art.

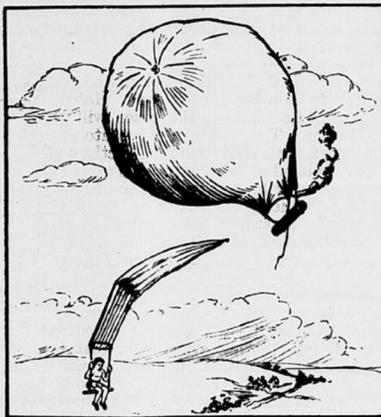

The McPhail Trio These artists need no introduction to Chautauqua audiences, having appeared before

Luther Haynes

DARE DEVIL OF THE AIR

Who has made over 500 balloon ascensions & parachute drops. Woods, lake or hills cut no figure with Haynes. See him the fourth of July.

THREE BAND CONCERTS DAILY

Morning, afternoon and evening there will be open air concerts by an excellent band. This alone is worth the price of admission.

MATINEE PICTURES THIS SEASON

On account of the fact that great attention has been paid this year to motion pictures, the very best on the market being secured, two performances will be given daily—afternoon and evening.

Ferguson's Famous Dixie Jubilee Concert Company

There is really no necessity in writing any preamble or announcement in offering the Dixie Jubilee Singers to the American public. For more than twenty years this company, still in charge of W. C. Buckner, has been delighting audiences throughout the entire United States and Canada. During all that time it has never been necessary to utter an apology either for the work or the acts of the company. For this entire time Mr. Buckner has been manager and basso. He was first known to the public as basso of the old original Tennesseeans, and without question the best known basso and manager of his race.
