

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

If cross, feverish, sick, bilious, give fruit laxative at once.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs", that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue. Mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative" and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, stomach-ache, diarrhea, indigestion, colic, remember a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has directions for babies, children of all ages and adults, printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

WILSON SNUB FOR FARMERS

Hughes Shows How Tillers of the Soil Were Ignored in Railroad Discussion.

CROP RAISERS FOOT BILL TO PAY FOR BROTHERHOOD DEAL

Democratic Nominee Levelled a Body Blow at the Interests of Our Agricultural Communities When at the Behest of an Exclusive Group of Railroad Workers He Increased Their Pay Without Investigating the Justice of the Demand.

Charles E. Hughes, who left Lincoln for his second day's campaigning in Nebraska, told a crowd of farmers in his speech here that the Democratic Administration had ignored the agricultural interests of the country in urging the enactment of the Adamson law. The nominee, an support of his contention, cited a telegram from President H. N. Pope of the Texas Farmers' Union to President Wilson requesting that the farmers be permitted to submit data in arbitration proceedings between the railroads and the brotherhoods. He said:

"I want to say in reference to rates that it seems to me the farmers of the country were very little considered the other day when on the demand of the Administration the wages of a group of railroad workers were increased by law, in response to force. Somebody has got to pay the increased bills, and the farmers will know very quick who has to pay them."

"The farmers were not represented in this discussion, if you may call it that in this surrender. I have here a copy of a telegram that was sent to the President by Mr. Pope, the president of the State Farmers' Union of Texas, which I shall read to you:

"We ask that you make no concessions or commitments that will in any manner cause an increase in freight rates on products produced or consumed on the farm. The men who pay the freight have an equity in this dispute, which neither the railroad trainmen nor the railroad managers have authority to represent. If it is your intention to personally dispose of the matter we ask that you postpone further consideration until a committee of farmers can prepare information and data to present their side of the case. If you conclude to settle by arbitration, then the organized farmers should have representation on any arbitration committee that may be formed to dispose of this question; for the men who pay should have representation as well as the men who receive it."

"We again urge that all questions involved be settled by arbitration, where all parties and all interests can be heard and the subject dealt with aside from haste and intimidation."

The crowd cheered when Mr. Hughes concluded reading the telegram:

"No regard was paid to that message," Mr. Hughes said. "The business men of the country, through the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, were at the same time and had for many weeks before been imploring the executive and leaders in congress for an immediate and prompt inquiry in order that the justice of this matter might be known. The farmers were not there except through the presence of the representatives of the people in congress, and those representatives were asked to abdicate their authority."

"I am in favor of everything that can reasonably be done for the promotion of agriculture. I am glad to note the work of the Agricultural Department. It will be continued with me, if I am entrusted with the power, to the utmost of efficiency under my administration."

"But it is idle to talk of interest in the farmer when you have action like this taken in congress overnight, against the protests of the farmer, and leveling a body blow at the interests of our agricultural communities."

Mr. Hughes again denied the declaration that a vote for him "meant a vote for war."

Mr. Wilson says the election of Mr. Hughes will mean war with Europe and war with Mexico. Why not chuck in Abyssinia and Patagonia for good measure? One is as likely as the other.

Now Ellis Parker Butler, author of "Pigs Is Pigs," has declared for Wilson. It's a great administration for pork, all right.

Now that Mr. Hughes has left Missouri they're referring to it out there as the "Tom Show" state.

The people of Vera Cruz who have erected a monument in the plaza to the Mexicans slain in battle seem to be ignorant of the fact that Mr. Wilson kept this country out of war.

A doormat leads a life of supine peace, but it has to stand for an awful lot of stepping on.

Fought for the Farmers

VOTE for McCumber

VOTE for McCumber

SENATOR P. J. McCUMBER

Was the One Man in the U. S. Senate Who Labored for a

Real Rural Credit Law

and tried to get amendments offered by the North Dakota Society of Equity made part of the present law, but which were defeated by Democrat votes.

HE ALSO ADVOCATED A FEDERAL

Grain Grading Law

Which Would Save Millions of Dollars to the Farmers of this State.

Senator McCumber in a speech in the United States Senate on August 4th last, in urging an effective federal grain grading law, spoke in part as follows:

"So far the Congress has been deaf to their cries for assistance, until the farmers themselves in my state and in other states have been forced to take drastic measures. They asked for federal supervision of the grain trade. The Congress of the United States denied it. They asked for Federal standardization. The Congress denied it. They asked for Federal inspection. The Congress denied it. They presented to the Congress of the United States the fact that they, being compelled to sell their product in another state, had no control, by legislation or otherwise, of the rules which govern the selling of that product. Still the ears of Congress were deaf to that cry. So in my own state, exasperated beyond endurance, they asked for an amendment to the constitution of the State of North Dakota which would allow the state to purchase or erect an elevator at the great terminals and be able to handle their own grain, and, especially, if possible, some of the injustices they suffered at the hands of this great grain system."

The state having failed to pass the necessary legislation, there followed a great form organization in the State of North Dakota. That organization animated its own men in the great political parties, and with an overwhelming majority it succeeded in electing at the polls the men whom it had chosen to carry out its views. It may be that some may regard their purposes as radical, but here are some of the things that they are demanding, and they are things that they will carry out before they get through:

"The first is a terminal elevator or elevators in which they will handle their own grain by their own state in a foreign state."

"Secondly, they are determined now to provide for state packing plants."

"Third, they are determined to have state insurance."

"Fourth, they are determined to have a system of rural credits."

"That element, which was initiated in the state of North Dakota, is not going to stop its operations. Minnesota will feel it. South Dakota will feel its influence, and these grain elevators and this great grain system that have so persistently defied the honest demands of the farming element for honest grading and honest inspection have been cutting their own throats."

"I am seeking to assist them as much as I can in securing honest standards by securing a Government supervision that will insure confidence in every certificate that is being issued."

"Every interest in the United States that is opposing the just demands of the rural population of this country will be called to account in the very near future. If the farmers can not secure justice in the only forum that will breach beyond state borders, they must necessarily take matters into their own hands, and govern all state legislation. They do not ask for anything that is unfair. They do not ask for the enactment of any wild or radical theories. Give them straight, fair justice, and they will go on with their labors with patience without attempting to interfere with other lines of business. But I say, Mr. President, that they have been calling in vain for any real beneficial legislation."

"Why, in my own state they have read over your rural credits bill. They are not blind to the fact that it is top-heavy, expensive, complex, and that it will never give them the character of relief that they seek. So today they are seeking to secure real beneficial legislation through state instrumentalities. If the government system is made simple and easy of operation, if it is made effective, there will be no necessity for any state legislation on the subject. But when they asked for bread you gave them a stone; when they asked for a real credits bill you gave them a mighty system designed mainly to afford remunerative positions for deserving politicians. They have therefore been compelled to seek, through their own legislatures, the relief that they hoped would be nation-wide."
