Nobility Enters Bravely Into The Work of Handling The Transport Service.

(By The Associated Press.) London, Oct. 1.—While delegates to the transport federation were assembling today, it decided whether the 325,000 workers they represented, should go out in sympathy with the striking railroad men in Great Britain according to government officials reports. Social lines, which in the past have been rigidly held in England have been broken down for the time being at least as a result of the strike which this morning entered upon its fifth day. A duke was seen driving a motor lorry through the streets yesterday, while during the day an earl was in the chauffeurs seat of a motor heading a convoy of fish at Billingsgate.

The sixth earl of Port Arlington, among those whose names is found in the social register, was among those who were engaged in unloading perishable goods, milk and chums from a train, while at the Paddington station, Earl and Lady Dregheida were among the workers. Frederick Henry Smith, son and heir of the First Baron of Colwyn, was the freeman on the Liverpool-London express when it rolled into the city today.

GAME FEATURED BY HEAVY HITTING OF NATIONALS AND THE RETIREMENT OF CICOTTE

Hitting of Reuther Outstands As Brilliant Performance of Reds—Gets Three Hits In Three Times At Bat—Pitcher's Highest Class of Ball.

(By The Associated Press.) Redlands Field, Cincinnati, Oct. 1.—The Cincinnati Reds won the initial game of the world's series of 1919 today by a score of 9 to 1.

The heavy hitting of the National league team, combined with the fact that Cicotte, the White Sox pitcher, was forced to retire, stood out as a feature in the opening contest. The hitting of Walter Reuther outstands as the brilliant performance of the Reds, the southpaw getting three hits out of three times at the bat, including two triples. Reuther pitched also the highest class of ball.

Fair Weather Prevails

(By The Associated Press.) Cincinnati, Oct. 1.—Fair weather prevailed this morning and gave promise that the first world series game between the Chicago White Sox, and the Cincinnati Nationals would be played in Redland Field this afternoon. The forecast for Cincinnati called for unsettled weather, but the local forecaster, in a prediction, said he did not think it would rain, at least not enough to interfere with the game.

All Arrangements Complete Cincinnati, Oct. 1.—Some 33,000 fans are prepared to worship at the shrine of baseball at Redland Field today, when the Cincinnati Reds, champion of the National League and the Chicago White Sox, winners of the American League pennant do battle in first game in what will be a nine game series for the world baseball championship.

The arrangements for the series have all been completed, even to the extent of the teams themselves.

An announcement from the headquarters of both clubs gave out positive information that Reuther, southpaw of the Red legs will oppose Cicotte, the right-handed hurler of the White Sox, while Ivy Wingo will be the backstop for Reuther and Ray Schalk will do the catching for Cicotte's "shine and knuckle" balls.

There is no doubt but what the White Sox will go into the fray this afternoon as the slight favorites. The little betting showed odds of 6 to 5 to 7 to 5 with the Chicago team on the short end. Considerable White Sox money is in evidence, but even money demanded had few takers.

Chicago Fans Bank on Gleason

(By The Associated Press.) Chicago, Oct. 1.—Real baseball backed by real teamwork; that is what experts on the national game see behind the 1919 American league pennant victory of the Chicago White Sox, who today are awaiting a chance to demonstrate their baseball ability against the National league contenders for the world flag. But teamwork is not the only thing, they say, that has brought about a winning aggregation.

They point to Eddie Cicotte with his famous knuckle and shine ball, as a big reason alone for the position of Comiskey's mighty baseball machine. He is declared to be the pitching marvel of modern baseball, winning something like 30 games this season. Without him, they say, the White Sox's chances would not have been so bright.

Of course a pitcher cannot do it all, experts declare in naming Catcher Ray Schalk as another reason for the victorious work of the White Sox. He, they contend, has had much to do with turning many a defeat into victory by his quick headwork, for which he has been noted since his leap from the minors to the Chicago club eight years ago.

But the man named as the person chiefly responsible for the success of the White Sox is Manager William "Kid" Gleason, who has battled for a perfect average as leader of a gathering of temperamental athletes. One baseball critic in calling attention to his work said:

"Gleason has built to almost baseball perfection the team that stands as the American league's best; he has overcome obstacles that the mere fan would shudder even to think of, and he has displayed a genius to which White Sox backers do not hesitate to point."

Many times the manager has been accused of over-working Cicotte and Williams, his leading ace, but when the regular fan stops to think about those working in the bull pen almost every day, he comes to realize that Cicotte and Williams are conspicuous by their absence. Only once this season was Cicotte sent to the bull pen to warm up for five minutes before he went in and finished a game. Williams was sent to the bull pen only a few times. In this way Gleason did not overwork his leading twirler, as fans have been lead to think.

Other reasons for the victory are enumerated by these same critics of the game. They include, Charles Rieberg, surprise infielder of 1919; "Lefty" Williams, who has been taking his regular turn with Cicotte, and delivering the goods, being the best southpaw in the American league; and Eddie Collins, playing in the best form of his long baseball career. In addition there is Joe Jackson, fielding as he never did before, and hitting the ball on the nose, until he is flirting with the top of the American league batters; George "Buck" Weaver, one of the most daring baseball players in the game, with his pep and dash; "Nemo" Liebold, "Chick" Gandil, "Happy" Felsch, Eddie Murphy, John Collins, and Dick Kerr, the diminutive pitcher who toward the close of the season, had developed to the point where he became an ace. Kerr is one of the gamest pitchers in the league, and there seems to be nothing in a ball game that he cannot do well.
