Kate Richards O'Hare, who likened the mothers of North Dakota to brood sows has been released from the federal penitentiary where she was serving five years for seditious utterances made in North Dakota during the war. She was speaking in favor of the Non-Partisan league program when arrested at Bowman. She was tried and sentenced from this state.

Her release follows the sending of this letter:
State of North Dakota
OFFICE OF THE GOVERNOR
Bismarck.

September 13, 1919.

My Dear Mr. President:—
Enclosed is a petition which is self explanatory. I am somewhat familiar with the circumstances in this case and am very confident that politics and spite work played the major part in the prosecution of this woman. Any action that might be taken upon this petition would be greatly appreciated by a large number of people who feel that an injustice has been done.

Very Respectfully Yours,
Lynn J. Frazier, Governor.

So far Lynn Frazier has not affixed his rubberstamp to a petition to the president for the pardon of Eugene V. Debs and Debs is still in the federal penitentiary.

However, Frazier was in the east recently in connection with activities of the "Committee of 48." It was the committee of 48 which selected Debs as the socialist candidate for president. "Mr. President Convict 2252."

It was a long long procession that filed over the dusty roads from Orrin, Pierce county to Balta. Langer had finished telling facts to 400 or 500 voters at Drake and headed for Balta by car. At Orrin which is just a wide place in the road with a blacksmith shop, general store, pool hall and elevator, a delegation of farmers met him. There was a reception, a lot of handshaking and the procession formed. There were thirty cars loaded to the gunwales with Orrin farmers who followed Langer to Balta to hear him speak. And it wasn't a funeral procession either for the man at the head was too much alive. Nor were those following him mourners either—except that they mourned they had ever been deceived by Art Townley.

Every place that Langer goes on his speaking tour there is a sort of "We're from Missouri—show us" feeling prevalent—at first. And when he leaves the enthusiasm of his audiences proves beyond question that his audience has been shown.

Birchenough the "fighting parson" and Streeter the "fighter" candidate for lieutenant governor are drawing big crowds in their tour together. The parson who is telling the truth of the red flaggers, and Streeter, member of the American Legion who is telling audiences what the servicemen think of Townleyism, are reaching right in where folks live and reaching the hearts of their auditors. Both are making votes and both by the way are making good. Birchenough has had training as a public speaker and Streeter, a newspaper man by profession talks convincingly because he so thoroughly believes in the fight he is waging.

Congressman George M. Young, Republican candidate for re-election has been drawing unusually large crowds at all of his meetings since he began stumping the state. He is explaining the national grain grading law which has proven such a failure. Referring to Langer, Young has called him a "human dynamo." What the iniquities of the Townley machine has done to North Dakota and how the "experiment" is regarded nationally proves one of the strongest talking points of Young's addresses.

Jim, J. R. Waters, than whom there is no better race track judge in the state and who resigned as manager of the State Bank of North Dakota—(what's that? You say he was fired?)—anyway Jim Waters who recently was connected with the State Bank is sore. He is expressing his opinion freely and he has stated that he is going to vote for every candidate on the Regular Republican ticket except Langer—he can hardly forgive Langer for exposing that story of Water's arrest in Minnesota for violating the liquor laws.

Farmers of Griggs and Steele counties are arranging for a tremendous big picnic at Fluto's grove, half way between Cooperstown and Finley. The picnic will be held June 24 and there will be lots of fireworks, two bands, dance, ball games and addresses by Langer and either Nestos or Gronna. The women of the neighborhood who will have charge of the picnic dinner have already begun their baking and plan on caring for 5,000.

Non-Partisan league farmers, staunch followers of the League idea in Nelson county, have petitioned Senator Gronna to deliver an address at Pekin N. D. This is decidedly interesting when it is considered that the league convention in Fargo turned down Gronna in favor of Prof. Ladd—at Townley's dictation. Incidentally it is currently reported that Senator Gronna has a very very small liking for Townley.

BLASTS OPEN CANAL
Prince Connects Lake Caprolace With Mediterranean.

Noted Italian Engineer Uses 50 Tons of Explosives and 1,200 Bombs in Undertaking.

Rome.—Don Gelasio Caetani, a brother of Prince Caetani, the American trained engineer who laid the mine which blew off the top of the mountain Col di Lana during the war, burying hundreds of Australian soldiers beneath it, has just dynamited a canal into existence from Lake Caprolace to the Mediterranean sea.

The work was undertaken by direction of the prince, also known as the duke of Sermoneta, head of the Roman Campagna and Terracina, a region which the prince has labored for years to reclaim. On the seashore of this strange volcanic region there are three lakes or lagoons, called Fogliano, Monaci and Caprolace, communicating with each other, into which at high tide all kinds of fish find their way, remaining there to breed and fatten for the Roman market, to which every day some ten to forty hundred-weight are shipped.

Only one, that of Fogliano, is directly connected with the sea, and in order to unite that of Caprolace with the neighboring Mediterranean, and to greatly increase the yield of fish, Prince Caetani decided to explode a series of mines so as to form a canal between this lake and the sea.

The undertaking took fifty tons of explosives and 1,200 large bombs, or five times as much as was required to destroy the mountain top. It was successful, opening a channel to the sea.

'SEND US OIL,' FRANCE APPEAL
Twice President Wilson Saved Country From Grave Danger, It Is Shown.

Paris.—Importations of oil would be subjected to government control and oil would be sold in France at prices fixed by the cabinet under the terms of a section of the tax bill being considered in the chamber of deputies.

The limited monopoly in oil now held by the government would be extended until the first of next year.

Discussion of the proposal in the chamber this week has brought out the fact that France was in grave danger during the war of a shortage of fuel and lubricating oils and that Premier Clemenceau had to appeal directly to President Wilson on two occasions.

Profits on oil imported during the war were very large, it was charged, and there was sharp criticism of the Standard Oil company and the British Shell corporation in this connection.

"Crocodile" Eggs Cause Rush for Antidote.

London.—Practical jokers find the English easy prey. A large number of persons, mostly women, in Newcastle were hoaxed by a stranger who started the report that eggs of a peculiar color, which had been sold over the week-end in local shops, for 5 cents apiece, were crocodile eggs from Egypt, and poisonous.

The only cure for those having eaten the eggs, he said, was pepper, and there was a rush for the city drugstores. One chemist was visited by fifty women who would not leave until they had each been given a dose of pepper. The eggs came from Denmark.

1,500 DOG TEAMS PASS POST
832 Men Sheltered at Manitoba Stopping Place During the Past Winter.

The Pas, Manitoba.—Sixteen hundred freight teams and 1,500 dog teams passed a stopping place at Rocky lake during the winter, according to the landlord of the stopping place.

This is the main trail to Flin-Flon mine. The landlord, Sam Cook, an Indian war veteran, adds that 832 men stopped with him overnight. He collects 25 cents from each team that puts up there and 25 cents from each traveler who eats there. Sam furnishes the dishes, water and fire only, and his wife looks after these items while Samuel gamblers in the fees.

If there is any grub left the mushers usually leave it for their host, and in this way his expenses for feeding himself, wife, two children and a tribe of relatives are kept down materially.

Yes, It Was a "Strad."
Parrottsville, Tenn.—H. C. Blazer found an old violin in the garret of his home here, where it had been undisturbed for half a century. He found it was a Stradivari and was made in 1719. Dust had covered the name on the inside. Blazer doesn't know how the violin came into his family's possession.

JUDGE C. W. BUTTZ OF DEVILS LAKE.

Wrote Strong Decision in Famous Mouse River Case.

The Minot Messenger makes the following kindly comment on one of the popular judges of the Second Judicial District: "In deciding the famous Mouse River case Judge Buttz measured up to what we believe to be a test of manhood. In these days it takes a strong man to write an opinion adverse to several men of wealth. However Judge Buttz spent six days trying the Mouse River case and then insisted in going over the river from stem to stern and seeing conditions at first hand. He insisted while on the trips made up and down the river on seeing everything and he pecked into every corner and asked questions by the dozens. We do not know whether the judge came from Missouri or not but he made the lawyers show him everything. It took some study and some courage to write that decision but the judge was capable and not a slacker. It was even better than the most optimistic hoped to get. The Mouse River case sent one judge to the cleaners and elected another. There is no way that the people of the Mouse River Loop can show their appreciation to Judge Buttz, and The Messenger can but extend their thanks. The Judge lives in another District. We cannot vote for him. However if the Judge ever takes a notion to run for Governor or for the supreme bench, we can reach out and toss him about 15,000 votes just to show him our gratitude on finding a man of real merit in these days when so many mental lightweights are trying to get across."

The Second Judicial District includes this county, covering Pembina, Walsh, Cavalier, Ramsey, Benson, Towner, Rolette, Pierce, McHenry, Bottineau and Bouville counties. Three judges are to be elected in this district and each county may vote for three. Judge Buttz is a candidate for re-election.

Boy to Shun Racing.
Cleveland, O.—Carroll Buehler Shilling, aged four years, of Peoria, Ill., will not follow in his father's footsteps if his grandfather can prevent it. Herman Buehler, who left a $400,000 estate, made a bequest of $20,000 to his grandson, conditioned on his keeping out of the racing game. The child's father is one of the best known jockeys in the country, and a few years ago was a top-hotcher in the racing game. "I am strongly opposed to allowing my grandson to be put on a race track or to be employed in any manner in connection with horse-racing," Buehler's will declared.

Unearth Mastodon Tusk.
Stockton, Kan.—The petrified core of a mastodon's tusk was unearthed near here the other day by workmen putting in abutments of a bridge. The tusk is five inches in diameter at the base and two feet in length. It is believed the tusk is part of the skeleton of a large prehistoric animal that made its home in the primeval forests of the Solomon valley thousands of years ago.

John Johns of New Rockford is in the city.

Killed Himself to Avoid "Ruining Fiancee's Life"

Declaring in a note that he was not himself; that he was afraid his fiancee would be disappointed in him, and that he did not want to "ruin her life," Charles A. Campbell, resident of Birdseye, Ind., killed himself in his room at a hotel at Oklahoma City, Okla.

Campbell went to Oklahoma to meet Mary C. Holmes, a school teacher of Altus. They were to have been married the next day.

Miss Holmes arrived and went to the hotel where she was to meet Campbell. After waiting for some time and getting no answer to repeated calls to the room which he occupied, the hotel management investigated and found the dead body with a bullet wound in the head.
