NUMBER 14.

NO RECALL OF I. V. A. REACTIONARIES

BOY SCOUTS HOME UNDER WAY SOON

Famous Organization to Have Its Own Place To Meet

The Boy Scouts are to have a home, a real home in Devils Lake, according to C. J. Kelly, one of the leading business men supporters and boosters for the organization which now numbers ninety-three live-wire members and sixty-three of the finest boy musicians that ever were enrolled in a Boy Scout band. Several vacant lots have been purchased on Fourth street west of the post office where it is planned to erect a typical Boy Scout building. Already a committee is organized to have the matter of raising funds under way. Monday evening a Boy Scout dance was largely attended and during the summer a series of street dances to raise funds will be featured with the band furnishing the music. Public concerts paid for by the city park commission. Fair engagements and numerous other features will also be held.

CITY ELECTION SLIDES OVER WITHOUT OPPOSITION TO THE REGULAR TICKET—SMALL VOTE

Blanding Fisher Popular Candidate Among Forces Voting, Working Men Voice Protest By Refusal To Vote At Polls, Handful Of Votes Cast By Fourth Ward, Others Stay Away.

The city election went by default and Albie Haig will head the city commission with Blanding Fisher, most popular candidate and who under usual campaign conditions would have received heavy vote of labor forces; and Charles Pillsbury for other members. Herman Schutte, Milford Graham and Avery L. Johnson were elected park commissioners. Working men throughout the city refused to vote as a voice of protest and one of the highest votes in the history of the city was recorded considering sparse vote taken. The general sentiment of the city appeared to follow the suggestion of The World, "Let them stay in their own jackets." James B. Duff was declared as magistrate without opposition and cheered by all forces.

These are the latest initiated measures which have been prepared by the I. V. A. to be voted on, probably at the Recall election, November 8th if the old gang can get that far. Petition for initiation of law prohibiting the installation and election of state officers without party endorsement, containing 18,443 signatures. Petition for initiation of a law providing for separate party ballot for primary election and for one column ballot for general election, containing 18,449 signatures. Petition for initiation of public inspectors law, containing 18,445 signatures. Petition for the initiation of a third county law, containing 18,441 signatures. It is expected that within a short time the new bath houses will be contracted. S. E. Swenson, lessee of the big dance hall, is making preparations to open the pavilion at an early date and it is understood the Yacht & Boat club are busy with preparations for the season's social whirl.

"Let The I. V. A. Do The Dirt As Usual"

State Executive Committee Decides To Let Election In November Run As Planned By The Old Gang Forces And To Give Nestos-Johnson Ticket Walloping.

Mrs. John Wallace Visits Friends in Montana—Interesting

Mrs. John Wallace has returned from a month's tour of western North Dakota and Montana, where she visited relatives and friends including several former Devils Lake folks. Many of the notes of Mrs. Wallace's trip are interesting to the community as follows: Stopping at Minot en route west, she next visited a sister at Shelby, Montana. Then at Whitefish and from there to Great Falls where she was entertained at the A. J. Halliday home. Mr. Halliday is superintendent of the Great Northern shops at the Montana city and formerly of Devils Lake. Moving on to Billings, the W. H. Reids were host and hostess to the traveler. Several elaborate parties marked the visit. While there, Mrs. Wallace also visited the J. H. Hazards, well known here. Of particular interest in this connection is the fact that Mrs. Hazard has been spending the winter with Lets, a daughter and Harry, a son, in New York, where Miss Hazard is about to complete a course in fine arts while Harry is studying interior decorating. Returning homeward, Mrs. Wallace stopped off at Jamestown, Leeds and Valley City, at the latter place, the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Jacobson, formerly Miss Hope Wallace.

Chicago Families On Move Strikes

Chicago.—Threats of many families not to give up their apartments on May 1 in a fight against what they term unduly high rents will prevent many others from moving, according to express and storage companies, who today refused to look moving unless permitted the option of placing the goods in storage in case it were found that the apartments to which it was assigned was still occupied by a rent striker.

H. A. Wickham, mayor of Cozy, announced his resignation from the city office. Mr. Wickham recently returned from a tour of the state, and will be succeeded by Mr. J. H. Wickham, who was elected to the office at the polls on the 1st of this month.

There will be no recall of the I. V. A. reactionaries, according to a decision reached by the executive committee of the Nonpartisan League at Fargo this week. The League, unlike the I. V. A., will not burden the taxpayers with the expense of further recall elections other than those planned by the old gang to be held in November to be paid for by the people.

"Let the I. V. A. do the dirt work as usual," appears to be the plan adopted. The League will fight the recall to a frazzle. The Nestos-for-governor and Johnson-for-Attorney-general ticket will get the toughest wallop ever handed to a set of candidates in North Dakota.

Farmers not only in Ramsey county but thruout the state are "fighting mad" and are out to carry the state for the retention of Frasier, Lomke and Hagan by a majority never before attained for the Nonpartisan ticket in North Dakota. Within the last few days, hundreds of farmers in Ramsey county and an estimated half as many I. V. A. have given their unqualified endorsement of the present state administration. The general sentiment appears that the present officials have performed the duties a majority of the voters wished them to do—as the I. V. A. has done.

ENGLAND FACES CRISIS AGAIN WITH REVOLUTION APPARENTLY STARING GOVERNMENT IN FACE

Troops Are Called Out To Quell Strikes. Industries Are Threatened By Coal Shortage. Railroad Men Favoring Joining Miners In Strike.

LONDON.—Britain's industrial life is shriveling today, its fuel supply cut off by the great coal strike. With powerful transport workers a railroad men threatening sympathetic strikes which would mount to practically an industrial revolution, the cabinet and parliament met today on special call of King George to consider steps to save the nation from a complete breakdown. The government recognizes the labor offensive as precipitating the greatest crisis since July, 1914. Government Prepares for Fight. It flung its power into the fight to prevent an industrial revolution and "the inauguration of socialistic experiment." At the same time leaders of the transport and railroad workers were gathering. A meeting is called for Wednesday to decide whether to join the miners. The cabinet drafted a program to meet the strike. Later in the day that plan will be presented to parliament for ratification. Great Britain today faced the gravest crisis since the call for troops in 1914, with 1,000,000 coal miners already on strike and industry in general suffering from shortage of fuel. Week-end meetings of miners' allies showed a decided trend toward sympathetic strike. The situation is regarded more significant than a mere strike. Labor's gesture was looked upon as a threat to force a general election in the country and, if possible, control of the government. Railway Men Favor Strike. The railway men strongly favor a strike on the ground that when the railways are taken out of government control, a similar situation may arise and unless they support the miners now they cannot expect the miners' support then.
