Fort Yates, North Dakota

Local Happenings

The Carignan Store last week received a new line of furniture. A new furnace was installed in the Carignan store this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wells of Cannonball, were Fort Yates visitors the first of the week.

P. J. Jacobsen and wife went to Bismarck Saturday for a visit over Sunday.

Ignatius Ironroad was down from Cannonball on business the first of the week.

E. F. Underhill and wife were down from Cannonball with Jack Oberg of Bismarck, Friday evening.

Martin Knel Carignan while recovering nicely from his long illness is still very weak and a source of much anxiety to his mother.

The Agency and hospital grounds are being enclosed with a substantial woven wire fence which is a marked improvement.

Hokanson-Turner Company this week received a line of the famous Ball Band overshoes. Watch for their new ad next week.

John and Jim Turner returned Friday from their hunting trip near Moffit. They have been "ducking" ever since.

Jim Turner was out in the hills west of town Sunday prospecting for coal and located a good vein which he plans to develop.

Lee R. Lee Great last week traded for L. Lund's Reo automobile and went to Mandan in the car this week.

Sam Goudreau, wife and son of Shields, were here Friday on their way to Linton to visit with Mrs. Goudreau's relatives.

Roy H. Bryant of Napoleon, was here Wednesday with a number of parties from Kintyre who were looking for land on the reservation.

Joseph Shooter is reported seriously ill at the Moberge hospital, having another attack of hemorrhage of the lungs.

Rev. Father Vincent returned Wednesday from a trip to the different Catholic Missions on the Standing Rock reservation.

Frank Swanke of Bismarck, blockman for the International Harvester Company, was here on business with the local IHC agents Wednesday.

Anton Engel, Turkey Track Bill and Oswin Swift of Selfridge, were here Tuesday on their way to Burnstad after a bunch of 400 cattle for the Engel ranch.

John H. Jones and son Duane, and Paul Perschke of Center, came down Wednesday and are spending the week looking over Indian land listed for sale.

S. P. Buckley, Henry Zain and Joe Buckley were down from Solen the first of the week on business. While here Steve renewed his subscription to the Pioneer.

J. M. Carignan left Saturday for a trip through Hettinger and Adams counties in the interest of his candidacy for representative from this legislative district.

Oscar Baumann and J. A. Stiles went to Mandan on business Sunday and from there Mr. Stiles took the train for St. Paul, while Oscar returned home Tuesday.

John Gayton was down from Cannonball Monday on business at the Agency in connection with leasing his land adjoining Selfridge to W. H. LeRoy of Underwood.

Dan Howard has accepted the position of disciplinarian and band leader at the Leupp Indian school in Arizona, and will leave in about two weeks according to present plans.

F. M. Clark of Selfridge, was an Agency business visitor the first of the week. He had a good crop of flax this season, having secured an average yield of 14 bushels to the acre.

L. Lund who has a homestead west of Fort Yates, was in the city the first of the week on his way to Solen to attend an auction sale north of there with the view of buying a team.

George Gates was in town Saturday and re-noved his subscription to the Pioneer. He said that he had been working out at the Stiles ranch for a while helping vaccinate and brand cattle.

Dr. Pfaffman, the government veterinarian, was here Wednesday from Aberdeen, where he is now making headquarters. He stated that he had just bought a fine buck in the Hub City.

Mrs. Carignan says that if there are any girls about town looking for a chance to get married to come and work at her home. Margaret Dempsey is the third girl married from her home during the past two or three years.

The Niles building at McLaughlin occupied by a tailor shop, was destroyed by fire and the adjoining buildings badly damaged last Friday evening. The fire started in the tailorshop from an explosion of a gas-heated iron.

Supreme Court ONLY REAL FIGHT

Overshadows All Other Contests in the Campaign.

KEEP JUDGES NON-PARTISAN

Fisk, Spalding and Burke Compared With Opponents—Questions at Issue Briefly Outlined.

The only fight in this campaign that touches every citizen's life and property, is the contest for supreme court. People begin to realize the dangers that can easily arise from a mis-step and are asking these questions:

Do we want, as judges, creatures of a powerful political organization, or judges controlled alone by their sense of justice and honor?

Do we want judges to decide cases as we want them decided, or according to law and justice? Will not a League-elected judge render a League-desired decision?

Is it safe to allow any political organization to select our supreme court? Mistakes Will Happen.

Soon this League will control the legislation and every state office. These are new men, untried and inexperienced. In their enthusiasm they are likely to make grave mistakes.

Do not we need more than even an emergency brake that we can trust? We can trust the present supreme court—the judges we have.

The only real non-partisan candidates for supreme court are Charles J. Fisk, Burleigh F. Spalding and E. T. Burke. They are controlled neither by Big Politics nor Big Business. They have experience, ability, integrity, good name and are free from the influence of any political machine.

Their records prove them progressive. They have catered to no class. Yet an inspection of the decisions shows they have given the farmer and toiler a full measure of protection. They have been criticised for four decisions which, it is asserted, were wrong. Out of hundreds of decisions, to have but four criticised is a marvelous record.

Their Record—Their Decisions. Here are some decisions of the present court:

It held the low lignite coal rate valid; three big railroads were fighting it;

It held the anti-smell law good; the tobacco trust opposed the law;

When an elevator man became bankrupt, the court made his surety, a bonding company, pay in full every farmer who had sold his grain to that man, even when the bonding company had compromised with the farmers, nor was the bonding company allowed to do business in the state till it paid dollar for dollar;

Stock shipped by a farmer was injured; the railroad claimed he had no right to damages because he waited sixty days before making a claim. The court set aside the sixty-day clause and made the railroad pay;

When a farmer's crop was ruined by a rail-farmers shipped and for damages. The railroad argued that she was not injured by the fire, but the court held that damages were due her;

The court made the elevator, lumber and oil companies pay taxes on land used on railroad right of way;

The court made a hall insurance company pay for a farmer's crop, even when the land was wrongly described;

The court held the state bonding law good; this law would allow the state to write bonds for county and city officers, saving the cost, usually paid to bonding companies, who fought it hard;

What Have the Others Done? The three opposing candidates have been in the state a number of years. Have they given their time and talents to fighting the battles of the farmer or have they suddenly grown interested?

Robinson is nearly seventy-five years old and has lived in the state thirty-three years. His record does not show him a farmer's champion. He has figured in one case where he tried to drive a farmer off the farm he had lived on, cultivated and paid taxes on for ten years and wanted the supreme court to declare a law unconstitutional, to do it.

Birdzell is a man of no practical experience in the courts. He has been a teacher in the state university, but has never had occasion to do the work of an attorney.

Grace is a small-town lawyer of less than mediocre ability and education. His standing at home was shown when he ran for county judge and was low man of three candidates, and again when he ran unsuccessfully for state attorney. As a candidate for postmaster he could not get sufficient support from his home people to land the job, paying $1,600.

Promises have been made for these candidates that cannot be fulfilled. The candidate who solicits votes by promising to do what he knows is impossible is morally as guilty as the person who obtains property under false pretenses.

Vote for Fisk, Spalding and Burke and repudiate such men and methods. NON-POLITICAL JUDICIARY ASSOCIATION.

Neighboring News Selfridge News John F. Teeter and family who have conducted the hotel since last spring are preparing to move out on their homestead east of town, where they have new buildings completed. Sam Hummel and son went to Fort Yates the first of the week to be on hand for the opening of court Tuesday. Dayton Heileman also went over accompanied by Sheriff Gayton Sheriff Chas. Gayton is spending this week at the county seat on business in connection with his office, and for the next ten days will be busy summoning jurors for the special term of district court next month. F. M. Clark accompanied by Robert Bruce and wife went to Fort Yates Monday, where Mr. Clark secured a lease of a 40 acre tract of land allotted to one of the Bruce children. This tract adjoins the Clark farm. H. F. Smith was a county seat visitor this week to be on hand for the special session of district court. Mr. Smith says that he notices a number of improvements at Fort Yates since his last visit and believes that it isn't a bad place after all. A. W. Merchant and H. S. Solenberger of Underwood, who recently located land near here arrived Sunday with their household goods and implements. Mr. Merchant has leased the hotel building and will put in a line of general merchandise, and will be opened for business with a new, fresh stock of goods in the near future. Solenberger and family have moved on their place. Selfridge has "Jack the Peeper." Section Foreman Mitchell caught him peeping one night last week and hit him on the "bean" with a chunk of coal. It is understood that the party is known, and can be recognized by a hard hat which has a dent in it where the aforesaid Mitchell, who is an old-time coal heaver, struck him. Some of the boys are getting a kettle of fat ready, and if they catch him peeping again plan on dressing him up to resemble a rooster.
