AROUND TOWN. No. 1 hard was quoted yesterday at 25 cents.

Considerable local matter crowded out and no help for it.

Mrs. S. S. Prater, lady of Winnipeg, congratulates organist in drawing and music in town.

Rev. C. B. Brecount will preach next Sunday evening in the M. E. church and in the afternoon at Dakota.

Moore & Co. are getting things in shape to move into their new store, corner of Cavalier and St. James streets.

F. H. Cadwallader is about to enlarge his bakery in anticipation of the extra room to be created by the arrival of a twelve pound girl, which event occurred on Friday last.

Our Wallula correspondent did not report this week but we learned from another source that Frank LeMay was drowned in a slough three miles west of Wallula on Sunday evening last.

An unsuccessful attempt at burglary was made on Sunday night. The fellows got so far as to remove the buffalo coats etc. from the premises of Katsner & Gardner, but were frightened from the attempt by the approach of Mr. Turnbull, and the goods were recovered. Miss McDonald at the same time lost a piece of carpet. The perpetrators escaped.

We clip the following from the Cassell Reporter: Rev. C. B. Brecount, for the past year pastor of the M. E. church at this place, has been located for the coming year at Pembina, instead of Sauk Centre, as previously stated in these columns.

It was hoped that Mr. Brecount would be retained at Cassell where he has done able and effective work for his church.

Judge E. St. Julien Cox, being favorably impressed with our town and country, has concluded to enter upon the practice of law here and has accordingly engaged rooms in Jacobson's building on Koletse street. Judge Cox is one of the most brilliant lawyers in the Northwest and will be a decided accession to the legal talent of our town. We wish him success.

What an advantage it is to have a contented mind! There are a few people in the world who can always look gracefully to the inevitable and cheerfully accept the undesirable. We heard a dentist say the other day that there was something about muddy roads that he liked. You may trust such a fellow never to find work with good roads. This is what we hear philosophers call being harmonized with one's environments.

The proceedings of the court have been witnessed during the week by an audience of from fifty to one hundred and fifty. There has been a small proportion of jury cases, a jury being called in two cases and others being settled. Quite an exciting case ensued yesterday morning on the application of Judge Cox for the change of venue in the case of the defendant charged with the murder of Archer. District Attorney Ball and Judge Cox were drawn into a most exciting debate which grew to be so bitter and personal that the judge was compelled to adjourn the case until the following day. The audience evidently enjoyed the scene. The change was not granted.

Fire at St. Vincent. A destructive fire occurred at St. Vincent last Tuesday morning, destroying J. J. Baie's livery stable, William Smith's sample room and also a house belonging to Mr. Smith. The fire was discovered about one o'clock in the morning issuing from the rear of the upper part of the livery barn by a neighbor living in the next building south. Rushing into the burning building his first action was to arouse the hostler, who was sleeping soundly. By this time the fire had reached the lower story and the people of the town were gathering—no fire bell having been rung. There were seven horses in the stable, all of which were cut loose, but before their reins had taken fire, the buggies were all saved, but the cutters, which were stored away during summer were burned. There was no insurance on the building and Mr. Baie's loss will be about $2,000. There being no chance of saving Mr. Smith's building efforts were directed to saving the contents. Charley Seaman and family occupied the second story. All the movables were gotten out. Some of the furniture, however, was damaged. There was $1,000 insurance on Mr. Smith's building, which will reduce the loss to about $900. The dwelling on the north wing house, which was uninsured—loss $600 to $800. How the fire originated is not known.

While at the fire Archie Baie's brother of J. Baie, had a purse containing $250 stolen from him at the house of Martin Berg. There were upwards of a dozen boarders at the house and it is thought someone of them is the long fingered party.

Mr. Baie will move into the barn lately occupied by Charley Klaus where he will continue the livery business.

Fort Pembina. Mud, mud, and plenty of it. Battalion and company drill now replace the "shoo-fly" drill.

Prarie chickens, wild ducks and rabbits occupy a prominent place on our bill of fare.

In regard to the charges of the mayor's office, the mayor has been notified.

WEEKLY SUMMARY

Local News from Here and There over the Dakota County.

Woods, Bagdad, Rosa Lake, St. Thomas and Hamilton.

BATHS. A good many of our citizens find it inconvenient to attend court at Pembina this week.

Mr. Watta's new clerk is a very attractive and obliging young man. He seems to be well acquainted with the business of handling goods.

Mr. Tiffany expects to be able to occupy her new store in a few days, when she will display a large and fine stock of all kinds of goods usually found in a first-class millinery store.

We are informed that Frank Wilson has bought Mr. Sackett's interest in the firm of Sackett, Wilson & Co. He and Mr. Wilson will have the entire management of the business.

Messrs. Young & Clark have now on hand a good line of canned goods and fresh fruits. They keep on hand a good supply of fresh bread and cakes. They will also have on hand a good supply of first-class meals at all hours, and will make a specialty of serving oysters during the oyster season.

The wet weather having "let up" on Friday and Saturday of last week the threshers were set to work again in the neighborhood, and in spite of the almost impassable roads, two thousand bushels of wheat were taken in at the elevator on Saturday and seventeen hundred bushels were graded No. 1.

The Rev. D. Williams returned with his bride last week, and for the present the Presbyterian parsonage will be being completed—will take up their abode over Melheim & Fossom's store where they will be glad to meet their friends. The members of Rev. Williams' church, and all the citizens of Bathgate, most cordially join in welcoming him and his bride to their home in Bathgate. May all the happiness that is allowed to mortals be theirs!

By some means the report was started that the Bathgate school would probably be closed through January and February. Such is not the case. The school will continue during the winter and the vacation will be during the summer months. At the meeting held some time ago, the citizens voted to maintain the school ten months in the year. The school offers special advantages to pupils of all ages and grades. Prof. J. R. Young has charge of the school, and that fact alone is enough to assure every person of its efficiency. Mr. Young is recognized as one of the best educators in the county.

Mr. Geo. West was in town over night Saturday, going south Sunday afternoon to see his mother. He is a well known citizen of the county, and is a member of the L. C. C. C. He is now settling with his family in Bathgate, and his local agent is Henry Keller. This brought Mr. Wilcox of St. Thomas here too. Mr. Noyes of Grand Forks, came up Saturday night, returning Sunday evening. Mr. Sackett went to Grand Forks this week. Mr. Ellis of Fargo, who is writing up the history of Dakota county, spent several days in Bathgate last week gathering facts for that purpose. Mr. Frank Mercer's new home on Garfield street is about completed. Our genial station agent, Renshaw, who has been among us for several months, started on Saturday for his home in Iowa on leave of sixty days. Mr. Johnson will welcome him back. Mr. Johnson takes Mr. Renshaw's place in the depot. Mr. Moore returned from his southern trip on last Friday looking well. Dr. Hewitt and Mr. R. C. Young, came in from Wallula on Saturday. King Lang wants to sell out his Chinese laundry, as he thinks of going to Denver, Colo. A. Thackerson has come down from St. Thomas on Sunday. Mr. Sing who has been quite sick for some time, is somewhat better again.

What 80 cents. Mr. Barlow is building a dwelling house on Third street.

The Hamilton, Pembina and Cavalier stage and express line, under Mr. Thos. Connell's efficient management, is a success.

Quite a few of the boys have gone on their last few days, and what is very unusual in such cases, much against their will.

Mr. J. M. Egan & J. C. Johnson, have purchased A. C. Nichols' lumber yard and will continue the business in the same premises.

Mr. H. Webber has rented A. Peterson's home on Third street, and with his family will continue house keeping at that place.

Jack Taylor who has been spending a few months at his summer residence in Slevone, is now helping Geo. Glass in the harness shop.

Mr. Sheldon's handsome dwelling is completed, and the reason Mr. S. looks so happy is that Mrs. Sheldon will be here in a few days.

Jim McGrew is in town for a short time last week. Jim is one of the most booted up men you ever saw. Any of our boys who are out of a sure cure for boys, will confer a favor by sending their address to him.

Our popular post-master, D. McGrew, is bound to lead in his line of business and is laying in an immense stock of toys, dolls, albums, work boxes, mits, candies and the largest stock of toys in the northwest—an advertisement.

A desperate attempt at safe-breaking occurred here a few days ago. Mr. Ed. acting agent at the depot, in closing the door of the safe forgot to remove his thumb and the result was a most decided "dash." The safe didn't seem much worse, but it is the saddest looking thumb in town.

A number of justices having lately been made to Justice McLean, in reference to Sabbath desecration, Mr. McLean wishes it to be distinctly understood that the next complaint that is made the law will be allowed to take its course without respect of persons, as the penalty for this offense is very heavy, and it would be well for those and their names is legion—who hold these ideas on this subject to go home themselves accordingly.

It appears as though the gentle reminder of the law was not in reference to the state of our schools, but in reference to the state of our children, some of them seem to be so badly off that they are unable to walk, some of them seem to be unable to stand, some of them seem to be unable to sit, some of them seem to be unable to lie down, and some of them seem to be unable to do anything at all. It is a disgrace to the management, and it is a disgrace to the community, and it is a disgrace to the state. We are sorry to learn that the children of this place, who are the pride of our community, are in such a state of neglect and abuse. We are sure that the parents and the community will be glad to hear that the children are now in a state of health and happiness.

The general countenance of Mr. Nelson Teven, who has charge of the store on Main, has again made its appearance. He was absent for some time on his near Sweden.

Notice. Notice is hereby given that an annual election will be held at the polling places in the various townships of Pembina county for the election of the following officers: One county auditor. One county commissioner for the first commissioner district. One county commissioner for the fourth commissioner district. One county commissioner for the fifth commissioner district. Said election to take place, Tuesday, Nov. 6th, 1883. J. H. BIRD, C. W. ALDRICH, 12-15

Church Notes. The boundaries of the Presbytery of Pembina were enlarged by the Synod of Minnesota during its recent session at Duluth. It now includes one-half of North Dakota, embracing Grand Forks and all of the Devil's Lake country. This change increases the territory of the Presbytery of Pembina; also, the number of the churches, ministers and communicants.

In reference to the ladies' department of the people at the Presbyterian church during its absence at Synod, I made positive arrangements with other ministerial brethren for the supply of my pulpit on both those occasions. The brethren may have had good reasons for their failures, but with them rests the responsibility of failure. I will occupy my pulpit myself (D. V.) next Sabbath at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. R. J. CARSWELL, Pastor.
