Dangers of the Grip.
The greatest danger from LaGrippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for the grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by T. R. Shaw, the druggist. 30-33

The English Inn.
The cheap place in which to live is like the typical old English inn that my American friends are continually asking me to find for them. I found it the other day, and, as the point of this incident lies entirely in its truth, I give names and addresses.
I cycled my American friend over the hills from Oroydon to the little hamlet of Little Warlingham, and there we ran into the courtyard of an inn named the Leather Bottle, which designation had an old world flavor that delighted the man from New York. We had there a most excellent lunch, and the charge was 18 pence instead of the usual half crown.

For LaGrippe.
Thomas Whitfield & Co., 240 Wabash ave., corner Jackson-st., one of Chicago's oldest and most prominent druggists, recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for la grippe, as it not only gives a prompt and complete relief, but also counteracts any tendency of la grippe to result in pneumonia. For sale by T. R. Shaw, the druggist. 30-33

An Honest Medicine for LaGrippe.
George W. Wait of South Gardner, Me., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vendor. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one 0-cent bottle and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. I congratulate the manufacturers of an honest medicine." For sale by T. R. Shaw, the druggist. 30-33

Electric Bitters.
Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison, headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness yield to electric bitters. 50c and $1. per bottle at T. R. Shaw & Co's drug store.

Value of a Good Sneeze.
We all know from actual experience that a good sneeze is a wonderful loosener of nasal bronchial mucus. Sir Dyce Duckworth comes forward in The Practitioner with the suggestion that the induction of sneezing be resorted to for the purpose of raising bronchial mucus. The idea is a good one and worthy of being placed in practical operation. It has been explained how vomiting causes an expulsion of mucus or membrane from the respiratory passages, but sneezing appears to be quite efficient in doing this. Ordinary snuff or any of the many simple nasal irritants suffices and may be blown into the nose of even a child without any danger.

A Little Mixed.
In attempting to name ten Roman emperors on an examination for the bar, a student mentioned Antoninus, Crassus and several other names ending in "us," closing the list with "Augustine, the founder of Christianity," but added, as an afterthought, "This was before the birth of Christ, of course."

Uncle Tom's Cabin Chair.
Among the many things associated with the memory of Harriet Beecher Stowe is the chair occupied by her while writing the initial chapters of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." Mrs. Stowe, accompanied by Rev. Lyman Beecher, her father, was a visitor at Batavia, O., many years ago, at the home of Judge Owen F. Fishback. During all the hours of her visit and while writing she always occupied this plain poplar chair. After Mrs. Stowe rose to fame with her book the chair was preserved and banded down as a part of history from Mrs. Fishback to Lou Buerkle, in whose possession it now remains. The back of the chair has become broken off, and all the slats are broken out of the back. The color of the chair was black. They relate all the historic points now connected with this plain and unassuming old time piece of furniture.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Probably not the Bestman.
Many years ago John Bright and George Peabody, the philanthropist, were fishing in a little Irish stream. Late in the evening, after a hard day's work, the party arrived at the landing stage, and Bright, according to the inevitable position on the bank, said: "What is the proper price to pay these fishermen, gentlemen?"
He replied: "Seven shillings and sixpence, yet I know, but some gentlemen give them 10 shillings."
Bright, turning to his companion, said: "I have no change, Peabody; have you three half shillings?"
The millionaire produced the coins and gave them to one of the fishermen.
"Is that all you're giving me?" asked the latter.
"That's all," said Peabody.
Bright, the coins in the open palm of his hand, and slowly approaching the head with the other, the fisherman said: "And they call you Peabody, don't they? Well, I call you Peabody, don't they?"

Insurance Done.
Insurance companies are now possessing more of the business than many of us remember when "pawdies" were given to you and your old hot milk, as pharmacists have invented no end of ways of giving the cheapest drugs without any fees at all.

A Clever Witness.
In a recent county court case in which a man sued another for balance of wages the defendant called a witness.
Witness—I beg pardon, your honor. Before I give my evidence I want my expenses.
Judge (to defendant)—Pay him 75 cts.
The defendant having done so, the judge said, "Now that you have had your expenses, what do you know of the case?"
Witness—Nothing at all, your honor.

Cautious Tennyson.
A clergyman is quoted by Sir M. E. Grant Duff in his memoirs as authority for the story that on the occasion of Hallam's going down to Richmond to be godfather to Tennyson's eldest son the historian asked, "What is to be the child's name?" "Hallam," answered the poet. "I don't like surnames for Christian names," said the other. "Why not call him Alfred?" "What if he were to turn out a fool?" was the reply.

George IV's Wit.
Mrs. Byrne, in her "Social Hours With Celebrities," tells this anecdote of George IV's wit: "I remember one of the Rev. Mr. Wagner's stories concerned some nobleman who had enjoyed an unenviable reputation for assiduity. It had been suggested to the king to confer on him an order of the Thistle, which had become vacant. 'Give the Thistle to —' I exclaimed the king. 'Why, he'd eat it!'"
