

A PLEASANT CURE.

How Patients at the Minneapolis Keely Institute Pass Their Time. Patients of the Minneapolis Keely Institute describe their stay of four weeks as being the most pleasant as well as the most profitable vacation they ever took.

The riding bell is rung at a quarter to seven o'clock, and the first dose of internal remedy is taken. At 7:30 the breakfast bell rings, and at 8 o'clock the first hypodermic treatment is given.

During the first ten days of the treatment the patient must remain on the Institute grounds, without leaving them, but after the ten days he is permitted to leave the Institute at certain periods between the hours of the hypodermic treatment.

Everything possible is done by the management to make the stay of the patient a pleasant one. There are many frauds and imitators, but those who really know affirm that the Keely Cure is the only one which really cures.

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS.

SOME GOOD STORIES FOR OUR JUNIOR READERS.

Little Miss Fry—Start and Stop—Restless Animals. Why They Are Always Walking About in Their Cages—Good Imitation.

The Children. Do you love me, little children? O, sweet blossoms that are curled (Life's tender morning glories) Round the casement of the world!

When the fragrance of your faces And the rhythm of your feet, And the incense of your voices Transform the sullen street!

O, my darling! I am with you. In your trouble, in your play, In your sobbing, in your surging, In your dark, and in your day!

Not a blessing broods above you, But it lifts me from the ground; Not a thistle-bark stings you, But I suffer with the wound!

Can you tell me, little children, Why it is I love you so? Why I'm weary with the burthens Of my sad and dreary woe?

I have trodden all the spaces Of my solemn years alone, And have never felt the cooling Of a babe's breath near by own.

Little Miss Fry. Pussykin was a little girl with very round blue eyes, a quantity of frizzly yellow hair, a freckled face and an inquiring nose.

Possibility of Trouble. "You yellow-faced snob!" snarled the bad boy of the neighborhood, "for two cents I'd break your face!"

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY. Take Laxative Bromo Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure.

When you see the animals in the park menageries pacing back and forth restlessly in their cages do not take it for granted that the creatures are unhappy or even discontented.

Lawless Sparrows. Sparrows seem to be governed by about the impulses that cause a hungry boy to tiptoe into the pantry and "coo" a fistful of cookies; that is, they think a thing is right because they want to do it.

Good Imitation. Fannie, aged five, was visiting in the country, and, seeing a lot of sheep and lambs for the first time, she exclaimed: "Oh, mamma, just look at the cute little lambs, and they're such good imitations, too. They squeak just like my toy lamb and have the same kind of hair on."

They Did Not Tarry. Rudyard Kipling tells a good story of himself. One day, he says, I was sitting in my study in London, when suddenly a gentleman appeared at the door, unannounced, followed by two schoolboys.

Chicago Great Western Increase. The gross earnings of the Chicago Great Western Ry., "Maple Leaf Route," for the fourth week of September, 1899, show an increase of $42,220.24 over the corresponding week of last year.

All in the Family. "What is Spendy in mourning for?" "Rosenstein, the pawnbroker, is dead." "I didn't know they were related." "Oh, yes. He was Spendy's uncle," Philadelphia North American.

running out to the kitchen, she threw the hateful book in the stove. Then she went up stairs to her own pretty little room and cried awhile, half angry, half ashamed. But she was very glad that George was away, and that he had not showed the pictures to any one else; so her tears were soon dried, and she was the same jolly little girl again, although not quite the same meddlesome little girl. When George came home, he brought Pussykin such a pretty new doll, and was so kind and full of fun, that she could not feel hard toward him for the lesson he had given her.

Did you ever hear of any little boy named Start-And-Stop? I think he must have been first cousin to that little boy who always said, "In a minute." This boy would start well enough when called or told to do a thing, but he was sure to stop again until some one would say, "Hurry up!" Then he would go on until—he stopped, and must be started afresh.

There was a little touch of nature, just one of those faint little things that crop out once in a while in even the most hardened, but it showed that "One Wing" loved the horse that had made money for him.

"One Wing's" other name is Warren, and for years he has been a Tenderloin hackman. His fellow's nicknamed him because he has but one arm.

"I know," sighed the mamma, "and I hoped you might find a cure for it. We have tried everything we can think of at home, to no purpose."

"Drive us to Forty-fourth street," commanded one. "One Wing" was at the horse's head, and in an instant the feed-bag was off, and the next second he was on the box.

"Get up, Bill!" he shouted to the horse. The animal turned, then his frame shook, and he collapsed and fell. The quartet leaped out, and after making ribald jests at the animal's expense, wandered off.

"He won't suffer long. He's been too good a friend of mine," he said. "If he's got to die, I want him to die painless."

They Did Not Tarry. Rudyard Kipling tells a good story of himself. One day, he says, I was sitting in my study in London, when suddenly a gentleman appeared at the door, unannounced, followed by two schoolboys.

"Is this Rudyard Kipling?" inquired the gentleman. "Yes," I answered. "He turned around. 'Boys, this is Rudyard Kipling.' 'And this is where you write?' he continued. 'Yes,' I replied. 'Boys, this is where he writes.' And before I had time to ask them to take a seat they were gone, boys and all. I suppose they had all literary London to do in that way."

C WITH A TAIL!

Every One Has Noticed the New "C" in Town.

It Has Come to Stay With Us Forever—Health Follows in Its Trail—A Well-earned Award It Everywhere.

The queer "C with a Tail" has made its way all over the United States, and here as everywhere it promptly jumped into popularity.

Because the "C with a Tail" is a comet of health followed by a coma of happiness and joy, it has come to stay with us and radiate its benefits in all directions.

This is the CASCARET tablet. Every tablet of the only genuine Cascarets bears the initials "CCC." Look at the tablet before you buy, and beware of frauds, imitations and substitutes.

TANKEE GIVES MEXICANS A TIP.

An Illustration Which Sold Lots of American Yokes.

An American farmer near Guadalajara has convinced his Mexican neighbors that oxen can do more work under American yokes, so generally used in the republic. The American brought several modern yokes from the states and used them with success.

"Well," said the American, "when you lasso a steer, and the lasso gets around his neck, what do you do?" "Turn him loose," was the reply. "Why?" "Because he's too strong for us that way."

"That's it," answered the American, "his strength is in his neck, not in his horns." The Mexicans saw the point, and now yokes of United States manufacture are generally used in that neighborhood.—Modern Mexico.

"I GAVE little thought to my health," writes Mrs. Wm. V. Bell, 230 N. Walnut St., Canton, O., to Mrs. Pinkham, "until I found myself unable to attend to my household duties."

"I had had my days of not feeling well and my monthly suffering, and a good deal of backache, but I thought all women had these things and did not complain."

"I had doctored for some time, but no medicine seemed to help me, and my physician thought it best for me to go to the hospital for local treatment. I had read and heard so much of your Vegetable Compound that I made up my mind to try it."

"I was very thin and my friends thought I was in consumption. Had continual headaches, backache and falling of womb, and my eyes were affected. Every one noticed how poorly I looked and I was advised to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. One bottle relieved me, and after taking eight bottles am now a healthy woman; have gained in weight 95 pounds to 140 pounds, and everyone asks what makes me so stout."

SWANSON'S "5 DROPS"

is the sun of the sick room. It has saved the public, in less than five years, more money than the national debt of this country, when you measure the value of health restored, suffering humanity relieved of its agonies and diseases.

Money which otherwise would have been expended on funerals, doctors' and drug bills, on receipt of 10c to pay if you have never used it. Do not fail to send for at least a trial bottle. Swanson's "5 Drops" never fails to cure. It has cured and is curing millions of people afflicted with Acute and Chronic Rheumatism, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Asthma, La Gripe and Catarrh of all kinds.

"Which would you rather do, fight or apologize?" "I'd rather meet you with pistols," answered the Parisian journalist. "If I go near enough to him to apologize, we might suddenly lose our tempers and do damage."—Washington Star.
