ESCAPE CLUTCHES OF THE LAW

TWO MEN WANTED FOR BRIBERY ARE NOW SOJOURNING IN EUROPE.

St. Louis, July 11.—Circuit Attorney Folk yesterday received information that J. J. Kelly, the alleged alibi legislation agent, has left Quebec for Europe, where he will remain during the summer months and possibly longer. He is supposed to have sailed last Tuesday, though positive knowledge has not been obtained.

Another man against whom there is an indictment by a St. Louis grand jury is Ellis Wainwright, who is now in Paris, of thereabouts.

William F. Nolkner, secretary of the St. Louis Brewery association, yesterday told Circuit Attorney Folk that two senators demanded $45,000 from the St. Louis brewers to defeat the beer importation bill of 1899. Previously to this time the brewers had been bled on this proposal. After thinking over the demand the brewers decided not to pay the bribe and the bill was passed. Two years ago, according to information which has already been published, the brewers did put up $10,000 to pass the beer compromise bill, reducing the importation fees. Mr. Folk has been given the name of the man on whom the demand was made four years ago and will investigate further.

CHILD HORRIBLY MANGLED.

Stolen From Its Home and Murdered in Shocking Manner.

Bloomington, Ill., July 11.—The two-year-old daughter of Andrew Jordan, a hay teamster, was stolen from his home in this city Thursday night. Yesterday the body was found in a mangled condition in a field, two miles northwest of this city. The baby had first been choked to death and then mutilated. No theory is advanced to account for the crime, but adjoining towns have been notified to look out for a man who is thought to have hired the rig in which the child was taken away.

Baltimore, Md., July 11.—If the story told by Frank Maloney be true, he enacted a vivid dream, in which he was confronted by burglars, shot four bullets into his wife's head, killing her instantly, and is innocent of any crime. Maloney says he dreamed a burglar was leaning over his wife as she lay on the left side of the bed, and he thought he was aiming at the intruder's heart. The neighbors testify that the couple always appeared happy.

WOMAN PULLS A GUN.

Claims Squatter Right to Property on Which Her House Boat is Stranded. St. Louis, July 11.—During the recent flood the house boat occupied by T. Gamachee was left stranded on the River Des Pres bank near the foot of Utah street. Since then the husband has been lying ill in the boat. A brewing company, claiming the land, has endeavored to have the house boat removed, but Mrs. Gamachee met the movers with a revolver and declared that the land whereon the houseboat rested had been made by accretion and consequently belonged to the federal government. She laid squatter's claim to it and said that, if any attempt was made to move the house boat she would use a revolver or an axe. The movers retired. Mrs. Gamachee said she had looked up the records and found that the land was not recorded as belonging to any one. She declares she will fight unless removed by due process of law.

SHOT TWO MEN.

Edward Barton, Race Track Follower, Commits a Double Murder. Bloomington, Ill., July 11.—Edward Barton of Springfield fatally shot Julius Frank and Frank Irving Rosenfield, merchants of Mason City, thirty miles from here. Barton formerly lived in Mason City, and, it is said, was a race track follower. He entered the clothing store owned by the men to make a purchase. Rosenfield waited upon him. Suddenly Barton left him and walked to the rear of the store, where Frank was working. Without warning Barton shot Frank through the lungs. Rosenfield went to the assistance of his partner and Barton then shot twice. A clerk disarmed Barton, who was arrested, put upon a train and taken to the county seat at Havana, just in time to escape a mob that was being organized.

COL. AMES IN JAIL

THE SUPREME COURT DECIDES AGAINST FORMER CHIEF OF POLICE.

HE MUST SERVE HIS SENTENCE

HAD EVIDENTLY EXPECTED UNFAVORABLE ACTION BY THE COURT.

SAD FAREWELL TO HIS FAMILY

SIX YEARS IN PRISON THE PENALTY FOR CORRUPTION IN OFFICE.

Minneapolis, July 11.—Frederick W. Ames, former colonel of the Thirteenth Minnesota volunteers and former superintendent of the Minneapolis police department during the administration of his brother, Dr. A. A. Ames, now occupies a cell at the Hennepin county jail.

The prisoner will be taken to the Stillwater penitentiary this morning to begin a six-year sentence.

County Attorney Fred H. Boardman received information from the supreme court yesterday forenoon that a decision had been reached in the Ames case, that that decision was unfavorable to the convicted man, and that the decision would be filed this morning.

Col. Ames had evidently prepared himself for this final ordeal—the culminating act in a series of Sensational Incidents.

He had evidently calculated upon unfavorable action by the highest judicial tribunal to which he could appeal, for during the past week or two he has been getting his private affairs in shape for his departure for Stillwater.

Col. Ames was found at his home—a once happy and refined home that has been terribly saddened by the unfortunate developments of the past fifteen months. After taking affectionate leave of his children and the sorrowful wife who has continued loyal and true and her husband's best and most comforting adviser since he was indicted nearly a year ago, the former proud commander of Minnesota's gallant contingent in the war in the Philippines accompanied the deputy sheriff to the county jail. The prisoner was then placed for the first time in his life. He was calm, yet his somewhat expressionless face showed plainly that he fully appreciated the terrible position. When asked if he had anything to say before he left to serve out his sentence, Col. Ames simply and firmly said:

Behind Prison Bars

"I have nothing whatever to say." The decision of the supreme court in this case does not surprise the public in the least. The trial and all the preliminary proceedings had been watched with very great interest, and there was a feeling that the result of the trial was entirely warranted by the facts and that the case, having been carefully and impartially tried, there was absolutely no loop hole through which the condemned man could escape the sentence of the district court.

CLOUDBURST IN IOWA.

Railroad Track Washed Out and Towns Inundated.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, July 11.—Eastern Iowa was visited by a destructive cloudburst. The loss to crops was heavy, and much damage was done by lightning. Johnson county was the center of the storm. In the vicinity of Wheeling several hundred feet of track of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad was washed out. A portion of the town of Wyoming was inundated, and many inhabitants were driven from their homes. A number of small buildings were damaged. No lives were lost, however.

Brandenburg.

MOUNTAIN RANGES RUINED.

Hundreds of Thousands of Acres Are Made Barren by Sheep.

Red Lodge, Mont., July 11.—Thanks to the sheep, the Bull mountain ranges, covering hundreds of thousands of acres, are now only deserted, barren planes, on which an Indian syuce could not make a living. These ranges had for a long time been the very best in the state, and the cattle men were looking forward to the coming of the summer to rush their herds onto them. But the sheep men of this part of the country had cast an envious eye on the magnificent ranges, and long before the snow was off of the ground they had driven their big flocks to the grounds. If the range is ever again good for anything it will have to be reseeded from one end to the other. This will cost a small fortune, and there is little likelihood of its being done.

BEARS SHOW SHREWDNESS.

Rob Ranches and Then Seek Safety in National Park.

Gardiner, Mont., July 11.—Bears are becoming so numerous and such a nuisance in and near the National Park that the ranchers in this section are up in arms, and are threatening to put in a bill for damages to the government, which has control of the reserve. While the bears are fed regularly at the various hotels within the confines of the park, they appear to grow weary of cooked foods and sweets. As a result, they are making regular trips to the ranches in the neighborhood, where they are doing great damage. The animals make their raids and then quickly fly back to the park, carrying with them fine porkers and fat calves, which they eat at their leisure.

TOWN BORN OVER NIGHT.

Excuse for Existence Is That Railroad Will Run There.

Kalispell, Mont., July 11.—A new town, with stores, saloons, residences—and even a canvas church—has sprung into being in a night fewer than fifty miles from here. As yet no railroad runs to the place, and everything has been packed in by horses. The place already has a population of nearly 500 and is steadily growing. Whitefish is the name of the town. It is between this city and Columbia Falls, and the excuse for its existence is that the Columbia Falls railroad will be completed to the town this year. Dance halls and saloons are, of course, the most conspicuous buildings in the town just now, and the number is increasing constantly as the days go by.

Mrs. Katz left eight children, the youngest being a year old. Steimann left a wife and four children.

GIVES AWAY HIS CASH.

Smith's Generosity is Grand but Quite Unintentional.

Merrill, Wis., July 11.—Some youngsters went into W. G. Smith's place of business a day or two ago to ask for empty cigar boxes. Smith is an obliging man. He likes to accommodate little boys, so he hustled around and fitted out the lot with boxes. Little Eddy Cotey thought that his boxes were slightly heavier than usual, but he said nothing and took them home. Then he opened them, and in one of them was a pile of greenbacks. Little Eddy was delighted at his gift, but Mrs. Cotey viewed the matter with better judgment and sent the money back. It counted up to just $305. It was Smith's turn to be surprised when the money came in. He had been in the habit of stowing his bills in a cigar box and putting it in the safe. In some way there had been a shifting of boxes and the money box had been relegated to the pile of cast away stuff.

AMES IN STATE PRISON.

Will Serve His Sentence and Live It Down.

Stillwater, July 11.—Frederick W. Ames now occupies a cell in the state prison at Stillwater. He was brought here early yesterday morning by Sheriff Dreger. Ames was measured by the Bertillon system and photographed and given a cell number. On the way over Ames thanked Sheriff Dreger for his kindness and courtesy, and told him that he assumed all responsibility for the acts of men under him, but that he himself was also acting under orders. Ames accepted his fate with stoic mien, showed no emotion, and declared that he was ready to meet his punishment like a man, serve his sentence out and live it down.

MONEY FOR SCALPS.

Wolf Bounty in South Dakota Costs Thousands of Dollars.

Pierre, S. D., July 11.—The last legislative session appropriated $30,000 to pay wolf bounty deficiencies for scalps presented under the old law, which provided but $5,000 per year to pay bounties, but placed no limitation on the amount which was available in any one year. The time has expired for filing claims to this deficiency, and the total amount claimed is $23,187. This shows a close estimate when it was placed at $30,000, and the amount which will be turned back to the state will not carry the revenues any great length of time.
