

WHY GRIP IS DANGEROUS.

It requires a good tonic laxative to keep the body of the patient as strong as possible to counteract the effect of the poison created by the grip bacillus. An expectorant tonic with some laxative qualities is the safest remedy. Such is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Gentry Gates, 8219 First Ave., East Lake, Ala., writes: "I had a bad case of grip. I tried Peruna and it cured me. I can safely say it is a fine medicine."

Mr. George E. Law, 134 N. Franklin St., Brazil, Ind., writes: "I am satisfied that Peruna is a wonderful remedy for grip, and I do most heartily endorse and recommend it."

CATCH POSTOFFICE ROBBERS

Employee Capture Alleged Thief in Act of Rifling Mail Boxes—Valuable Loot Recovered.

Jamestown.—A young man was caught red-handed in an attempt to rob boxes at the postoffice. Clerk Schulz and Carrier Rusch saw the man at work and, entering the postoffice from opposite directions, caught him with the mail from half a dozen boxes in his possession.

A check for over $1,000, another for $100, a gold watch, some eye glasses and letters and packages were found on the man which he had just removed from the boxes of the Russell-Miller Milling Co., Picard and Moss, Eddy Procter Furniture company and others.

The young man, not 20 years of age, refused to talk, making believe he could not understand what was being said to him. However, he was at once turned over to the authorities and held pending the arrival of Inspector Ryan of Fargo.

A clue to the identity of the young man was secured when Louis Fine was called upon to look at the prisoner. Mr. Fine readily recognized him as a young man who has been about here for two years and employed by farmers near the city. He is a Lithuanian, a bright young fellow of about 18 years of age, and for several months has been employed at the Chas. Frey farm near Jamestown. His brother is employed at the John Matchie farm near Jamestown.

CITY OFFICIALS GO TO FARGO

Attend State Municipal League Meeting—May Appoint Committee to Confer With Legislature.

Grand Forks.—A group of Grand Forks city officials are in Fargo attending the annual meeting of the North Dakota Municipal League.

City Attorney William Alexander, City Attorney J. B. Wineman and J. D. Turner, president of the city council, left to attend the meeting. Mayor J. A. Dinne, who has been in Williston attending the dedication exercises of the new Elks' home in that city, was also scheduled to arrive in Fargo. Mr. Alexander, who is a member of the program committee for the meeting, stated that informal discussion, rather than a set program of addresses would characterize the session.

It is expected that a committee will be appointed to go to Bismarck for a conference with the state legislators concerning the proposed change in the law regarding the investment of the state school funds.

The meeting will probably adopt resolutions asking that the present law be changed so that it will permit the investment of these funds in special improvement warrants issued by the cities of the state.

This will mean a material saving on the interest at present paid on such warrants.

Forgers Flock to Fargo.

Fargo.—North Dakota has proven a fertile field for forgers the last six months. For a long time Dickinson was a favorite location for this class of offenders, but recently Fargo has been flooded with spurious paper. Because of the unusually large number of transients that come to North Dakota, penmen have found it easier to circulate their forgeries in this than in most other states. There has been something in national conditions, or possibly in the activity of police officials elsewhere, that has driven many forgers to North Dakota this winter. Arrests have been made by local officials and through the activity of the detectives employed by the state bankers.

Prevents Marriage of Elopers.

Dickinson.—The marriage of 16-year-old elopers was prevented when Sheriff Brown had them arrested on their arrival in Glendive. Martin Chemberger of Hettinger county and Eva Hubert, who lives south of Taylor, drove here with a team and took a train to Glendive. Friends suspected an elopement and notified their parents, who caused their arrest. On their return here the girl was sent home and the boy temporarily placed in jail. It developed he had signed the name of his father to a check for $35 and raised money for the elopement.

Grand Forks Gets 1916 Meeting.

Grand Forks.—Grand Forks was honored by the North Dakota Municipal League which held its annual meeting at Fargo, this city being chosen as the place of the 1916 convention, and a number of the local city officials being elected officers. Mayor J. A. Dinne was chosen president, City Auditor William Alexander was elected secretary and J. D. Turner a member of the board of trustees. City Attorney J. B. Wineman was appointed a member of the legislative committee.

BOYS RECEIVE PRIZE MONEY

Members of Polk County Corn Club are Guests of N. D. Corn and Clover Convention.

Grand Forks.—The forty-eight boys composing the corn club of western Polk county, among whom are the winners of the First National bank, East Grand Forks, prize were the guests of the North Dakota corn and clover convention and mid-winter fair at the auditorium, when the winners were presented with their prize money.

Last February G. R. Jacobl, cashier of the First National bank announced that he would give $350 to be equally divided between a dairy cow contest and a corn contest, to be awarded in the 13 northwestern townships of Polk county. This resulted in the organization of the club and the members have won over $500 in cash prizes as a result of their labors. Supt. Wolf and Agricultural Instructor L. H. Hauter of the East Grand Forks schools have worked very hard the past season with the young men of the schools in this district and the results have been highly satisfactory and has attracted much favorable notice throughout the country for western Polk county.

Lincoln Jones was presented with $100, John Croy $50 and Stewart Austin with $25.

The presentation of the prize money in the dairy cow contest will take place at the auditorium when the dairy club will be the guests of the corn and clover convention.

ALLEGED SLAYER RECOVERS

Man Who Killed Wife Regrets Attempt to Take Own Life Was Unsuccessful.

Fargo.—Practically recovered from his unsuccessful attempt at suicide, Robert Hendrickson will soon be moved from a hospital to the county jail to await trial for the murder of his wife. He is guarded night and day by deputy sheriffs to prevent his escape from the hospital. The bullet he fired into his body struck his breast, went through one lung and lodged in his back, from where it was removed.

Hendrickson, who came here a few months ago, admits the crime and expresses regret only because he had but three bullets in his revolver. The first shot missed his wife, the second killed her instantly and the third caused his injuries. He deplores the fact that he did not have more shots that he might have succeeded in his suicidal attempt.

Hendrickson's conviction under the circumstances will undoubtedly be an easy matter and a life sentence in state's prison will probably be the penalty imposed. He says he has influential friends in Minneapolis and relatives elsewhere in Minnesota who will assist him.

SALESMAN HAS CLOSE CALL

Clings to Outside of Closed Train—Seen by Fireman, Who Stops Engine.

Minot.—John A. Johnson, a traveling salesman had an experience which nearly cost him his life. Anderson boarded a train at Burlington for Minot at noon. The train was well under way when he caught it by jumping, hanging onto the hand rail, his feet trailing under the train, just touching the bottom step which slanted inward. The door to the vestibule of the coach was locked and Anderson could not get in. Hanging from his precarious position, he shouted for help, but the noise of the rapidly traveling train drowned out his cries. The train had already passed James Johnson's farm when the fireman noticed the man clinging for his life from the train. The train was stopped and the man rescued from his perilous position. "It was a pretty cold ride and my hands and fingers were numb," said Mr. Anderson. "If I had to hang on a minute longer I would have dropped. I owe my life to the fireman who saw me."

Act Would Regulate Pawn Shops.

Grand Forks.—An ordinance for the regulation of pawn shops in this city was presented to the city council at the regular meeting. If the proposed law is passed, it will be necessary for each pawnbroker to pay a license fee of $50 per year. The proprietors of pawn shops will also be required to keep a careful record of all goods left with them as pledges and to have the same ready for the inspection of the police. Unredeemed pledges must be sold at public auction.

Seven Blind Piggers Plead Guilty.

Mandan.—All records of Western North Dakota were broken when seven men, charged with selling liquor illegally, pleaded guilty and threw themselves on the mercy of the court. This makes 14 who have pleaded guilty in a week, and 26 who have admitted their guilt or have been convicted at this term of court. Thirty-five bench warrants have been issued for other alleged offenders.

Y. M. C. A. Elects Officers.

Grand Forks.—Reports on the work done during the last year, and the election of new directors, were the chief business features of the annual meeting of the local Y. M. C. A. Directors elected for the next three years were Charles Garvin, S. F. Halfyard, T. B. Elton, Fred Gutknecht and Paul Griffith, an advisory board, with 10 members will also be elected by the directors, from the general membership of the association. President John Hansel of Fargo college made the chief address.

WILSON DECLARES ERA OF SUSPICION HAS PASSED AWAY

MAKES CONFIDENT PREDICTION THAT COUNTRY SOON WILL ENTER UPON PERIOD OF GREAT PROSPERITY.

MAZE THAT CHECKED ENTERPRISE IS CLEARED

Uncertainties Are Being Removed, Common Understandings Are Possible and a Universal Co-operation, He Asserts, Outlines Progress.

Washington, Feb. 1.—Another confident prediction that the country soon will enter upon a new era of enterprise and prosperity was voiced by President Wilson in a speech before the convention of the American Electric Railway Association.

Speaking to the business men and through them to the world of business generally, the president outlined what the Democratic congress has tried to accomplish through its trust legislation and declared that while a test period would be required to determine whether the correct remedy had been applied, he believed "the maze of interrogation points" which had checked enterprise for 20 years had been cleared away.

No One to Be Suspicious. With a common understanding regarding business reached, he said, henceforth nobody is going to be suspicious of any business just because it is big. He gave some of the "rules of the game" which he thought ought to be followed, heading the list with publicity—"not doing anything under cover."

"I have always maintained that the only way in which men could understand each other is by meeting one another. "If I believed all I read in the newspapers I would not understand anybody. I have met many men whose horns have dropped away the minute I was permitted to examine their character.

Sees Prosperity at Hand.

"It seems to me that I can say with a good deal of confidence that we are upon the eve of a new era of enterprise and of prosperity. Enterprise has been checked in this country for almost 20 years because men were moving amongst a maze of interrogation points. They did not know what was going to happen to them. All sorts of regulations were proposed and it was a matter of uncertainty what sort of regulation was going to be adopted. All sorts of charges were made against business, as if business were at fault, when most men know the great majority of business men were honest, were public spirited, were intending the right thing, and the many were made afraid because the few did not do what was right.

Necessary Thing is to Agree.

"The most necessary thing, therefore, was for us to agree, as we did by slow stages agree upon the main particulars of what ought not to be done, and then to put our laws in such shape as to correspond with that general judgment. I for one have never doubted that all America was of one principle. I have never doubted that all Americans believed in doing what was fair and honorable and of good report. But the method, the method of control by law against the small minority that was recalcitrant against these principles was a thing that it was difficult to determine upon. And it was a very great burden, let me say, to fall on a particular administration of this government to have to undertake practically the whole business of final definition. That is what has been attempted by the congress now about to come to a close. It has attempted the definitions for which the country had been getting ready, or trying to get ready, for nearly half a generation.

Uncertainties Being Removed.

"It will require a period of testimony to determine whether they have successfully defined them or not, but no one needs to have it proved to him that it was necessary to define them and remove the uncertainties, and that the uncertainties being removed, common understandings are possible and a universal co-operation.

Italy Calls Troops to Colors.

Rome, Feb. 1.—A royal decree has been issued calling to the colors the Italian soldiers of the first category, born in 1833 and belonging to the field artillery and also the Alpine troops and the soldiers of the third category born in 1891, 1892, 1893 and 1894 belonging to the Alpine troops.

U. S. Awaits Shipping Decision.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The United States government does not intend to be drawn into any negotiations with foreign governments as to whether it has the right to buy belligerent ships, until the bill pending in the senate is enacted into law and there is a decision as to where the purchases are to be made. Believing that no foreign power has any ground for supposing that in purchasing ships any neutral act would be committed, no protests are expected in advance of action by the American government.
