Sheriff and Mrs. Atkinson spent Wednesday in the city. Mr. Atkinson said the only prisoner he has in his custody at the present time is a draft evader. There are thirteen of them in this county who evaded the call and succeeded in keeping out of reach of the drafting board and the United States marshal is looking for them. Two parties in the western part of the county who had their first citizens papers refused to go and they came in and surrendered their intention papers to the board. They will be deported to the land from whence they came unless they return voluntarily, which they have signified their intention of doing.

Raoul Hebert, who has been stationed at Philadelphia for over a year serving Uncle Sam in the U. S. Reg. Band, set sail a few weeks ago on the broad Atlantic in happy expectation that he that he was going to France. But when he woke up a few days later, he found himself in the port of San Juan, Santiago de Cuba harbor where he disembarked, and is now doing band work in company with his brother Kenneth and Hector Branchaud. Raoul, Kenneth, and Hector have all been waiting patiently for over a year for the time to come when they would be transferred overseas, but it looks now as if it was all over with them, and that they will be doomed to disappointment.—Chronicle.

The Pioneer Express Wants a Printer. nov. Martindale-Kobold.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Vollrath, near Bathgate, occurred the marriage of Amelia Kobold and James Martindale, on Tuesday November 28th, 1918. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Young, of Hamilton, in the presence of a group of relatives and friends of the bride and groom.

The highly esteemed young couple have been residents of the vicinity of Bathgate from early childhood. The bride being one of the most popular society leaders of the vicinity, having resided with the Vollrath family for many years past.

The groom was born on the Martindale homestead, north of Bathgate and is one of the most active and prominent young farmers in the neighborhood.

The bride was attired in a beautiful gown of gray silk. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served, covers being laid for fifteen guests. Decorations of white and pink were used in the dining room.

Mr. and Mrs. Martindale have taken up their residence in their beautiful new home two miles north of Bathgate, and will be at home to their friends after November 30th, 1918.
