

Backache? Rheumatism?

Those of us who are past middle age are prone to eat too much meat and in consequence deposit lime-salts in the arteries, veins and joints. We often suffer from twinges of rheumatism or lumbago, sometimes from gout, swollen hands or feet. There is no longer the slightest need of this, however, as the new prescription, "Anuric," is found to give immediate results as it is many times more potent than lithia, in ridding the impoverished blood of its poisons by way of the kidneys. It can be obtained at almost any drug store, by simply asking for "Anuric" for kidneys or backache. It will overcome such conditions as rheumatism, dropsical swellings, cold extremities, scalding and burning urine and sleeplessness due to constant arising from bed at night.

Send to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for a 10c. trial package.

MADERA, CAL.—"I recommend Doctor Pierce's Anuric very highly. I have suffered for the last three years with catarrh of the bladder, having tried every remedy I heard of but without relief. I saw Anuric advertised in the paper, and like a drowning man grabbing at a straw I thought I would try it also, which I did with great success, as it relieved me almost immediately, before I had taken all of the trial package, and having great confidence in the remedy I immediately went to the drug store and bought a full-size package. I can say at all suffering from any disease of the kidneys or uric acid troubles, try this remedy and suffer no longer. I have great faith in Dr. Pierce's remedies."—S. F. Haggart.

North Dakota News in Brief

Bismarck.—A medical survey of Burleigh county's school children is being made.

Williston.—Hugh Erattinger, residing near Hanks in this county, killed himself by shooting, while insane.

LaMoure.—About $2,000 worth of raw furs have been shipped out from this point by trappers this fall.

Grafton.—A new bank with a proposed capital of $50,000 is being organized by Nonpartisan interests here.

Cooperstown.—Ten quarter sections of land near Jessie in this county were sold for $83,000, an average of $55 an acre.

Mott.—D. M. Stegenga, superintendent of schools here, was seriously injured by being hurled from an overturning load of hay.

Bismarck.—Burleigh county farmers are organizing for an effort to have the proposed state-owned elevator and flour mills located here.

Fargo.—The Fargo postoffice's stamp sales during the week before Christmas threatened to exceed the corresponding week's sales of any previous year.

Lakota.—Every adult person of Nelson county is a member of the Red Cross and fully paid up for the year 1919 as a result of the Christmas roll drive.

Cooperstown.—Robert Johnson, long reported as missing from the American lines in France, has written his father here that he has just been released from a German prison.

Fargo.—A movement is again being made in this state to secure recognition of the veteran service of Dr. John H. Worst by designating him as president emeritus of the agricultural college, of which he was the official head for many years.

Fargo.—The projected opening of a local community training school of religious education on January 7 is announced. The work will be conducted at the city Y. M. C. A., and an excellent faculty has been selected to conduct the work.

Towner.—Following a quarrel, Frank Oberder, a local farmer, was shot and killed by his wife, it is alleged, on Sunday morning of last week. Mrs. Oberder has been arraigned before Judge Ellis, charged with murder in the first degree.

Bismarck.—As a result of complaints lodged against the Duluth grain inspection board last summer, the North Dakota state railroad commission has made representations to Governor J. A. A. Burnquist of Minnesota, asking the dismissal of members of the board.

Bismarck.—Postmaster General Burelson's so-called "reduction" in long distance telephone tolls will cause an average increase of about 26 per cent in rates for day service in this state, according to representations made by the state rate expert, James A. Little, before the state railroad commission here.

Jamestown.—There has been a marked decline in the litigation entered into within the state within the past two or three years, according to authorities quoted here. The quieting business effects resultant upon the war are supposed to be the cause of the conservative tendencies along this line.

Minot.—Sheep raising in this section proved so profitable during the last year that it will be followed on a considerably increased scale during the year 1919. The fact that sheep will thrive on such destructive plant life as wild oats and thistles makes them peculiarly valuable as well as inexpensive to maintain.

Washburn.—The death of little Katie Holzuk at Wilton from a gunshot wound a few days ago is said to have resulted accidentally from the discharge of a weapon in the hands of Mike Snober, an Austrian, who, it is alleged, had started out to shoot a neighbor who had incurred his enmity. The man was held to appear before the district court, a cash bond of $1,000 being secured.

Bismarck.—Chief Old Dog of the Gros Ventres is here from the Berthold reservation, with Mrs. Old Dog for medical treatments. The old chief is a magnificent specimen of rugged manhood, nearly seven feet in height, and is one of the wealthiest and most progressive Indians in the country, with thousands of acres of good land and several thousand head of cattle in his possession. His fine physique has made him the subject of unusual attention here.

Agricultural College.—The S. A. T. C. and vocational army camp barracks which were constructed here, capable of housing 520 men, are to be converted to other uses needed in connection with the operation of the school. The mess hall, 70x80 feet, will be used for a stock judging pavilion; one wing will be used for a farm machinery laboratory, and the building provided for auto and tractor instruction to the vocational army men will be continued for similar use by the mechanical departments of the school.

Bismarck.—The state supreme court will be asked to pass on the validity of the claim laid down by the state canvassing board that all of the ten proposed constitutional amendments voted upon in the last general election had been successfully passed because of having won, some of them, only a majority of the votes cast upon the amendments themselves and not a majority of all the votes polled. A state political organization unfavorable to the passage of the amendments will, it is said, take the necessary action to see that the question is brought before the court.

Williston.—Shorthorn cattle breeders of this section held a public cattle sale here.

Fargo.—Fargo finished its Christmas roll call for the Red Cross with a membership of 7,264.

Valley City.—A fine county road building program is being planned under auspices of the local commercial club.

Bismarck.—State Examiner J. R. Waters has sold his famous pacing horse, Major Ong, 2:02 1/2, to parties at Glyndon, Minn.

Mandan.—Major H. R. Pitzing, in service from this point, has been promoted to be assistant judge advocate with the American second army.

Christine.—Dr. L. U. Iverson of this place, committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver, the muzzle of which he placed in his mouth.

Fargo.—Food administration rules for the regulation of menus in North Dakota hotels and restaurants were suspended on December 31st.

Jamestown.—Every member of the James W. Smith family, eleven in all, were ill at once with the influenza last week, one death occurring up to the date of last report.

Fargo.—Two hundred tons of meat, it is claimed, have been saved monthly by the food conservation program which has been carried out in this state under the direction of the federal food administration.

Langdon.—An organized gang of grain thieves is believed to be operating in the southwestern part of Cavalier county, and farmers are still losing grain, notwithstanding the fact that several arrests have been made.

Mandan.—Former Governor L. B. Hanna thrilled his listeners with his first-hand accounts of wartime scenes and activities in France, it is said, at the banquet tendered to him by business men of this city a few days ago.

Fargo.—Miss Blanche True, well known local college woman, recently enlisted for army Y. M. C. A. work, has just arrived overseas. Miss True's mother, who recently died here, was a teacher of General Pershing's during his boyhood many years ago.

Jamestown.—Stutsman county, it is claimed, furnished at least 1,200 men for the country's military and naval service during the war, a large number having volunteered, besides 922 registrants who were inducted into the service through the operation of the draft.

Bismarck.—The newly proposed zone rate system of freight tariffs is being brought to the attention of the state railroad commission by North Dakota wholesaling interests, which claim that the rates are discriminatory against distributing points in this state as against those further east.

Fargo.—A report of the state food administration, on the findings claimed to have been made against a local ice company charged with having delivered impure ice, has been submitted to the department at Washington, which, at its discretion, may bring the matter to the attention of the United States courts.

Grand Forks.—Local commercial interests will ask the postmaster general to arrange a consolidation of service on the two telephone lines being operated here, now that a joint management which users may have enjoyed through the former competitive activities of the two lines.

Bismarck.—In order that no misunderstanding may result from the signing of the armistice, as regards its effect upon the fuel saving program, the information is given out by Federal Fuel Administrator Baker that the rules and regulations of this department now in force will be continued until the promulgation of the treaty of peace.

Mandan.—The tangible assets of Stanislaw Wiktrofski, late of this county, were visibly increased when Administrator Iverson, exhibiting a kitchen range belonging to the estate, found in the hot water reservoir a purse containing a considerable amount in currency and a receipt for the purchase of a Liberty bond. The deceased had been a recent victim of the flu.

Bismarck.—Auto license tags may now be had for 1919, it is announced by the secretary of state. Owing to the heavy pressure of orders at the first of the year, and to the fact that in many localities auto owners will not be allowed to drive after New Year's without the new tags, it is recommended that those wishing to continue uninterrupted winter use of their machines should place their orders at the earliest possible date.

Washburn.—While wandering about on the ice covering the Missouri river, searching for his team, which he had lost in a fog, Nels Nelson, a prosperous former of Conkling, a few miles west of Washburn, fell through an air-hole Friday evening and was swept away by the swift current before two neighbors who were with him could rescue him. There is little hope that the body ever will be recovered. A son of Thomas Thompson, who, with Henry Dahl, was with Nelson at the time of the tragedy, fell into the same hole, but one foot clung to the safe ice long enough to permit his father to seize it and drag the boy to safety.

Fargo.—To be saved from death through the deflection of a rifle bullet by his feather pillow was the experience of Corporal Allen R. Welsh, formerly of a local newspaper's advertising staff but now in barracks at Camp Custer, Michigan. Corporal Welsh had just turned into his bunk, when the rifle of a soldier who had just come off guard duty was accidentally discharged, penetrating the pillow in direct line of his head. A slight deflection resulted in his sustaining only a slight surface scar wound.

WORLD NEEDS FOOD

Demand Makes Opportunity for Returning Soldiers.

Thousands Will See Glorious Possibilities in Settlement of Available Farm Land in This Country and in Canada.

The war is over, peace will soon be signed, the fighting nations have sheathed their swords, and the day of reconstruction has come.

What of it? Hundreds of thousands of men, taken from the fields of husbandry, from the ranks of labor, from the four walls of the counting house, and from the confines of the workshop, taken from them to do their part, their large part, in the prevention of the spoilation of the world, and in the meantime removed from the gear of common everyday life, will be returning, only to find in many cases old positions filled, the machinery with which they were formerly attached dislocated.

Are they to become aimless wanderers, with the ultimate possibility of augmenting an army of menacing loafers? If they do it is because their ability to assist in laying new foundations, in building up much-required structures, is underestimated. Men who fought as they fought, who risked and faced dangers as they did, are not of the caliber likely to flinch when it comes to the restoration of what the enemy partially destroyed, when it comes to the reconstruction of the world, the ideals of which they had in view when they took part in the great struggle whose divine purpose was to bring about this reconstruction.

Inured to toil, thoughtless of fatigue, trained in initiative and hardened by their outdoor existence, they will return better and stronger men, boys will have matured and young men will have developed.

They will decide for themselves lines of action and thought, and what their future should and will be. On the field of battle they developed alertness and wisdom, and they will return with both shedding from every pore.

Action was their watchword, and it will stand them in good stead now that the din of the battle no longer rings in their ears, or the zero hour signals them to the fray, and it will continue during their entire existence.

But if they return to find their old avocations gone, their places filled, the institutions with which they were connected no longer existing, new walks of life and employment must be opened to them. It may be that the counting house, the factory, the workshop will have lost their attraction. The returned soldier will look elsewhere for employment; within his reach there is always the "Forward-to-the-Land" necessity. In this lies the remedy that will not only take care of a multitude of those who may not be able to return to their former occupations, whose desires are not to do so, whose health prohibits them from indoor life or whose outdoor habits from the past one, two, three or four years have given them such a taste and desire for it that confinement would be unbearable. Farm life will thus appeal to them, and the indications are that it will be taken advantage of by thousands. It means much to them as well as to the continent of America that provides the opportunity to the world at large, and to the stricken and famished nations of Europe, who, not only today, but for years to come, will require the sustenance that can only largely be supplied by the United States and Canada. By following the pursuit of agriculture the returned soldier will continue the cause he so greatly advanced when fighting on the field of battle. Both countries have undeveloped areas yet open to settlement.

There is little need here to direct attention to the wealth that has come to the farmers of Canada within the past few years. It is not only in grain growing that unqualified and almost unequalled success has followed honest effort, but the raising of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs has been a large source of profit. These are facts that are well known to the many friends and acquaintances of the thousands of farmers from the United States who have acquired wealth on the prairies of Western Canada. Farms of from one hundred and sixty to six hundred and forty acres of the richest soil may be secured on reasonable terms, and with an excellent climate, with a school system equal to any in the world, and desirable social conditions, little else could be asked.

Canadian statesmen are today busily engaged planning for the future of the returned soldier with a view to making him independent of state help after the immediate necessary assistance has been granted, the main idea being to show in the fullest degree the country's appreciation of the services he has rendered.

But now that the war is ended, and the fact apparent that of all vocations the most profitable and independent is that of the farmer, there will be a strong desire to secure farm lands for cultivation. Canada offers the opportunity to those seeking, not as speculation but as production. The deepest interest is taken by Federal and Provincial authorities to further the welfare of the farmer and secure a maximum return for his efforts. Large sums of money are spent in educational and experimental work. Engaged on experimental and demonstration farms, and in the agricultural colleges, are men of the highest technical knowledge and practical experience, some being professors of international reputation. The results of experiments and tests are free and available to all. Educational opportunities for farmers are the concern of the government and appreciation is shown by the number of farmers who attend the free courses.

Agriculture in Canada has reached a high standard, notwithstanding which lands are low in price.

Thus upon the United States and Canada for many years will rest the great burden of feeding the world. With free interchange of travel, difficulties of crossing and recrossing removed, Canada may look for a speedy resumption of the large influx of settlers from the United States which prevailed previous to the war. During the war period there was a dread of something, no one seemed to know what. If the American went to Canada he might be conscripted, put in prison, or in his attempt to cross the border he would meet with innumerable difficulties, most of which, of course, was untrue. These untruths were circulated for a purpose by an element, which, it was discovered, had an interest in fomenting and creating trouble and distrust between two peoples whose language and aims in life should be anything but of an unfriendly character. The draft law of the United States, adopted for the carrying out of the high purposes had in view by the United States, kept many from going to Canada during the period of the war. The citizen army of the United States was quickly mobilized, and contained a large percentage of the young men from the farms. In this way many were prevented from going to Canada.

That is all over now. There are no real or imaginary restrictions; there is no draft law to interfere. On the contrary, there is an unfathomable depth of good feeling, and the long-existing friendship is stronger than ever. This has been brought about by the knowledge of what has been done in the recent great struggle, each vying with the other in giving credit for what was accomplished. In thought and feeling, in language, in aims in life, in work, in desire to build up a new world, there has been bred a kinship which is as indissoluble as time itself.—Advertisement.

SAFE, GENTLE REMEDY CLEANSSES YOUR KIDNEYS

For centuries GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil has been a standard household remedy for kidney, liver, bladder and stomach trouble, and all diseases connected with the urinary organs. The kidneys and bladder are the most important organs of the body. They are the filters, the purifiers of your blood. If the poisons which enter your system through the blood and stomach are not entirely thrown out by the kidneys and bladder, you are doomed.

Weariness, sleeplessness, nervousness, despondency, backache, stomach trouble, headache, pain in loins and lower abdomen, gall stones, gravel, difficulty when urinating, cloudy and bloody urine, rheumatism, sciatica and lumbago, all warn you to look after your kidneys and bladder. All these indicate some weakness of the kidneys or other organs or that the enemy microbes which are always present in your system have attacked your weak spots. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are what you need.

They are not a "patent medicine," nor a "new discovery." For 200 years they have been a standard household remedy. They are the pure, original imported Haarlem Oil your great-grandmother used, and are perfectly harmless. The healing, soothing oil soaks into the cells and lining of the kidneys and through the bladder, driving out the poisonous germs. New life, fresh strength and health will come as you continue the treatment. When completely restored to your usual vigor, continue taking a capsule or two each day; they will keep you in condition and prevent a return of the disease.

Do not delay a minute. Delays are especially dangerous in kidney and bladder trouble. All druggists sell GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules. They will refund the money if not as represented. GOLD MEDAL Haarlem Oil Capsules are imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They are prepared in correct quantity and convenient form, are easy to take and are positively guaranteed to give prompt relief. In three sizes, sealed packages. Ask for the original imported GOLD MEDAL. Accept no substitutes.—Adv.

ATTENTION! Sick Women

To do your duty during these trying times your health should be your first consideration. These two women tell how they found health.

Hellam, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles and a displacement. I felt all run down and was very weak. I had been treated by a physician without results, so decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and felt better right away. I am keeping house since last April and doing all my housework, where before I was unable to do any work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly the best medicine a woman can take when in this condition. I give you permission to publish this letter."—Mrs. E. B. CRUMMING, R. No. 1, Hellam, Pa.

Lowell, Mich.—"I suffered from cramps and dragging down pains, was irregular and had female weakness and displacement. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which gave me relief at once and restored my health. I should like to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies to all suffering women who are troubled in a similar way."—Mrs. ELISE HEIN, R. No. 6, Box 84, Lowell, Mich.
