Vote for Wm. J. Kneeshaw for district judge; he has always been fair and just to all, true and true. This is an office that should be kept out of party politics and remember that a vote for his opponent, Mr. DePuy, is a vote against our own judge.

The first number of the Lyceum course, the Page Willard entertainers, appeared before a rather small audience last Saturday evening. Mr. Willard gave an exhibition of sketching in colored crayon, quite out of the ordinary in Lyceum work. The rapidity with which he worked and the blending of colors in the many pictures drawn showed marked ability in this line. The artist recited familiar and suitable poems during his work, which was in some instances accompanied by appropriate music. Miss Adams, an accomplished pianist, assisted. We learn that the amount guaranteed was not realized from the sale of tickets, owing to the small turnout.

Tenders Wanted.

Tenders wanted for cleaning drain No. 21, in sections 22 and 23, in township 163, range 52, Pembina township, Pembina county, North Dakota, approximately a mile and three quarters in length. The drain must be sufficiently deep and wide to drain the entire slough. Also to level the spoil banks on both sides. Tenders to be submitted to A. B. Purdy, resident commissioner, Pembina, N. School Notes.

The English IV class of the high school organized a Public Speaking Society, on Friday last. This society is for the purpose of developing the pupils into more proficient speakers and to widen their knowledge of parliamentary law. The speaking will be held on Monday of each week. The officers are elected every two weeks. Those elected for the coming two weeks are: York Langton, president; Minton Carlson, secretary. Miss Short, the instructor of the English class, was given a permanent position as critic.

The enthusiasm of the pupils in regard to the society is abundant proof that it is going to be a success. It is to be hoped that the enthusiasm of the pupils continues to grow as the year advances. Public speaking on the important topics of the day, not only teaches them the art of speaking with ease before an audience, but also informs them on current events. No man or woman has a right to be termed a good citizen unless he or she is well-read on all issues of importance which confront the American people today.
