Serum for Appendicitis. Treatment of appendicitis by an anti-gangrenous serum instead of by operation has been tested with such satisfactory results that it is likely operations soon will be abandoned in treating the disease, Prof. Pierre Delbet said in a paper recently before the congress of surgeons, Paris. According to Professor Delbet, the tests have extended over a period of 13 years.—From La France (New York).

Transgression. The youthful Softleigh seemed so depressed that his friend Moreleigh was moved to ask the reason. "Alice has broken our engagement," said he of the downcast look. "Sorry to hear that," said the friend. "Why did she break it?" "Because I stole a kiss." "What! A fiancée object to her fellow stealing a kiss from her?" "The trouble was," Softleigh explained, "I didn't steal it from her."

Dead Gone. She—"Would you be willing to die for me?" He—"Why, I'm dying for you now!"

Anamoose—Whether or not a man engaged in operating a threshing outfit is legally in the pursuit of agriculture is a technical question that may be settled for the North Dakota compensation bureau in a suit pending here. Mapleton—Eleven Cass county wheat growers are $47,500 better off than they would have been had they raised some other variety of wheat than Kubanka, according to the report of the county agricultural agent. Agricultural College—More than three-fourths of the farmers in counties in this state having active farm bureaus will become bureau members, it is estimated. Bismarck—Sometime in January the first institute solely for county superintendents of schools ever to be held in the state will be called here by the state superintendent, Miss Nielson. Lakota—Vacancies exist in both West Point and Annapolis, according to Senator A. J. Gronna, and young men may file application for admittance to either institution through him. Harvey—Fire believed to have originated in a tank heater destroyed the large barn on the Glenn Frost stock farm near here, and with it went 15 head of cattle and large stores of feed. Ten of the cattle were purebred animals. Bismarck—That the Northwest crop acreage will be greatly reduced next year is the opinion of North Dakota agricultural officials. With labor high and produce prices uncertain, a cut of 25 to 35 per cent in the cropped areas is seen. Minot—Petitions by his parishioners that Dr. C. L. Clifford be allowed to retain his pastorate here have been granted by Bishop Burns, and Dr. Clifford will not take the superintendency of the Bismarck district of the Methodist church. The company's assets are $250,000 and the liabilities are practically the same amount. Dickinson—This city, Mandan, and Bismarck, stand in a good way to lose their rights to national guard companies. No organization has yet been attempted and so many cities in the state are seeking guard companies that it is likely the new roster will contain many new town names, including New Rockford, Harvey, Cando and Towner. Fargo—A temporary board of directors comprising prominent bankers from all over the state has been named for the million dollar organization designed to further North Dakota's financial interests in the east and known as the Bankers Finance corporation. The formal organization of the corporation is set for January 5 in this city. Its immediate purpose is to collect a great part of the $10,000,000 in county, township, city, school, and other bonds and warrants now held in the banks of the state and issue debentures against them which will make them readily salable.

AID BOYS TO OWN PUREBREDS

Eighty Hampshire Gilts Distributed Among Club Members of Tipton County, Tennessee.

"A pig in a poke," generally signifies a bad bargain, but not to the members of the boys' club of Tipton county, Tennessee. These young businessmen are quite satisfied with the pigs they drew by lot one day last June at Covington, Tenn. Through the initiative of County Agent G. S. Hollingsworth, who has been untiring in his efforts to perfect the pig-club work, and with the assistance of the American Hampshire Breeders' association, each of the eight banks in Tipton county imported ten purebred Hampshire gilts from Illinois. Then the boy members of the pig club gathered in Covington to draw lots for their pigs. The process is simple, but its effect upon impressionable boys is wholesome and far-reaching. The boy actually establishes a regular credit at his bank, a real business proposition wherein pigs replace the customary notes. In this case each member of the club was given a number which entitled him to the pig with the corresponding number among the 80 in the pen. Reports indicate that every boy seemed absolutely sure that he had drawn the one best Hampshire in the lot, though a neutral person who examined the 80 pigs asserted that there was really very little difference among all the animals. All weighed about 50 pounds, and all were purebred Hampshire gilts, beautifully marked in black and white and of excellent build and conformation. Each boy agreed to follow certain approved instructions in feeding and caring for the gilt and promised to exhibit his selection at a contest to be given in the county next fall. In fulfilling his contract with his bank he will return two pigs from the first litter produced by his sow, in discharge of his "note" due the bank. The sow, the remaining pigs of her first litter and all the pigs of future litters become the property of the boy. Economists argue that there is no good bargain—that one party or the other is always the loser—but it is hard to find that fault in the pig club boys' bargain. The banks get two pigs for one; the boys get a purebred sow and all her potential litters in return for the care and food given the pig, and the county of Tipton is richer in one short year by two or three hundred purebred pigs. Uncle Sam and the county agent, who jointly form a sort of third party to the transaction, have the satisfaction of knowing that 80 farm boys have been given a financial interest in agriculture and a primary business education which will mean success in later years.

HOW TO KEEP HOGS HEALTHY Among Other Things, Provide Animals With Sanitary Quarters and a Clean Wallow. To keep swine healthy and thrifty, provide them with sanitary quarters and a clean wallow, in addition to proper food. But when external parasites affect hogs an effective remedy must be used if losses are to be avoided. Lice and mange mites are the two principal kinds of external parasites occurring among swine. The mites are particularly injurious in pigs and poorly nourished hogs. "Hog Lice and Hog Mange" is the title of a new farmers' bulletin recently issued by the United States Department of Agriculture, telling specifically how to identify the parasites and describing effective and economical remedies. Plans of hog wallows and dipping vats, together with directions for building them, are given. For information on this important subject, ask the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., for Farmers' Bulletin No. 1085.

SKUNK HIDES ARE VALUABLE

Circular Gives Suggestions for Making This Supposed Pest Into Profitable Friend.

Skunks yielded $1,000,000 worth of hides to New York state farmers and trappers in one year. The United States Department of Agriculture, in a new circular on the fur industry, gives suggestions for making this supposed pest into a profitable friend of the farmer. Grain With Blue Grass. Plenty of grain fed to pigs on blue-grass pasture will bring more dollars and require less labor in the end.
