

CHILDREN'S DAY AT THE OHIO STATE FAIR.

CHILDREN'S day at the Ohio State Fair brings gladness into many hearts. To the little ones it is a rare treat. Not only do they enjoy its many amusement features, but they are equally interested with their elders in inspecting and studying the mammoth exhibits depicting the progress of our people. Friday, Sept. 9, has been set aside in honor of our future presidents and their wives, and they will be admitted free at the gates. No expense will be spared in affording them suitable entertainment. The same program of band concerts, free feature acts and harness racing will take place on Sept. 9 as on the four preceding days of the exposition.

BASE BALL

at second, but he was not successful and the man went towards third on the throw to first. Wenning endeavored to play it back to Botzel, who covered the sack, but the throw was a miserable high one and the visitors scored their first run. This was all they got until the last inning. Manter, who had struck out three times, hit one of the table-maker's fast ones on the nose and it went down along the right flag line, good for two bases. Southern dropped one in short left, which the little short stop would have scooped but the play was given to Grandpa who couldn't quite make the sprint, Manter scoring on the play. Derr hit to Pumphrey for the first out, and Holo got one of Frederick's in-shoots in the ribs. It looked like the visitors might bring up, but Miller fanned and Magote rolled out to Hobby. Score:

Chickasaw 9—Coldwater 0

Chickasaw, Aug. 17.—A large crowd accompanied the Coldwater nine to this village last Sunday only to see their favorites go down in utter defeat before the fast Indian nine. Base hits were secured off Davies, the visitor's twirler, with such regularity that nine men were able to cross the rubber. Boomershitte, on the mound for the home team, held his opponents to three hits, and was perfectly supported at all times. The game by innings:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Chickasaw	0	0	1	4	0	0	2	2	9
Coldwater	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0

Batteries—Chickasaw, Boomershitte and Hanna; Coldwater, Davies and Birkmeyer. Hits—Chickasaw 14, Coldwater 8. Errors—Chickasaw 6, Coldwater 2. Two-base hits—Linneman, Hafwa 2, Scholida. Three-base hits—P. Simons, Dorsten. Struck out—By Boomershitte 2, by Davies 1. Hit by pitcher—Davies. Umpire—Harmon. Bradford will cross bats with the Chickasaw nine next Sunday.

Rockford Liveryman Buys Coate Livery Business

Liveryman Frank Coate has disposed of his livery business on North Main street, opposite the city building to Liveryman Frank Miller, of Rockford, who will take possession of the business next Monday. Mr. Coate expects to move on a farm in Butler Township, where he will go into the stock raising business.

Mr. Miller, the new owner, has been in the livery business at Rockford for a number of years past, and is well known among the buggy riding public. He is a good horseman and his Rockford stables were noted for their fine turn outs. His acquisition in this city will greatly enlarge his business, and as the Coates barn is now the principally located stable in this city, there is no doubt but that his Celina venture will be a big success.

CUPID'S VICTIMS

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the Catholic Church in this city at seven o'clock last Tuesday morning, when Arson Wenning and Miss Lena Kuhn, both prominent young people of this city were united in marriage by Rev. Ernest Hefels. The young couple were attended by Meyer and Miss Helen Wenning, brother and sister of the groom. Following the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Catherine Kuhn, TouVelle street, where a delicious wedding breakfast was served. The young couple left during the day for a short wedding trip and on their return they will be at home in the old Wenning property, South Main street, which the groom has had neatly fitted up for the reception of his bride. The Democrat joins their host of friends in extending felicitations.

AGRICULTURAL DISPLAY—OHIO STATE FAIR.

AGRICULTURE is now commanding respect and attention from all walks of life. We are confronted with the problem of how to feed a rapidly increasing population on as rapidly a decreasing area devoted to agriculture. "Back to the dirt" is today's slogan. New enthusiasm in farming pursuits must be instilled into our people. With this in view the managers of the Ohio State Fair have redoubled efforts to make the agricultural exhibit a strong feature of the coming exhibition to be held in Columbus Sept. 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9. Their efforts are commendable, and Buckeye citizens should liberally patronize the 1910 Ohio State Fair.

"THOSE KANSAS CRANKS"

which are issued by the Kansas State Board of Agriculture under his direction, are so different from any other similar documents as to raise all sorts of suspicions in the commonplace mind of an ordinary dry-as-dust, agricultural expert. Coburn's productions are bound and printed in the style of art booklets and bear such alluring titles as "Alfalfa's Admity," "The Hog's Happy Habitat," and "The Lay of the Helpful Hen," also the convicting facts and figures which Coburn knows so well how to present, are spiced with bits of verse—all, like the hogs and poultry, native products of the Kansas soil. First is printed a table, showing that according to the national government an average Kansas hog is worth more actual cash than a porker from any other state in the union. Then just below the figures, Wait Mason, the Emporia bard, bursts into song:

Kansas: Where we've torn the shackles
From the farmer's leg;
Kansas: Where the hen that cackles
Always lays an egg;
Where the cows are fairly achin'
To go on with record breakin'
And the hogs are raising bacon
By the keg."
