

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Democratic Central Committee deem it unnecessary to make any special appointments as Delegates to the Convention, which meets at Columbus on the 17th inst., but requests every Democrat or Liberal who can attend, to consider himself a Delegate and represent the County on this occasion.

By order of the Dem. Cen. Com. J. V. CAMPBELL, Chairman.

L. G. GOULD, Sec'y.

There are 230 Granges in California—an increase of 200 since last year.

The Cincinnati Commercial says the Western Reserve can go to work and elect HAYES without any aid from the southern counties of the state.

If Senator Seargent tells the truth when he says General Grant is anxious to retire, why do all the office holders oppose resolutions declaring against a third term?

A parsonage, or residence of a minister or priest, whether attached to a church or not, is subject to taxation, by a late decision of the Supreme Court.

One Sam Strong offers in the Washington Republican to bet $500 that Grant will be the next nominee of the Republican party, and $5,000 that if nominated he will be elected.

The defeat of Judge TAFT was rejoiced over in Eaton, by the crusading element, by a magnificent display of American flags! Of course no liberal minded man could command the support of the crusaders.

The Republican Convention of Ohio endorsed the administration of Gen. Grant, with his salary grab of $50,000, his Credit Mobilier, his land grabs and usurpations!

Gen. GRANT don't want the third term any more than he did the first! Now ain't that satisfactory to every howler about the third term? Of course it is. He wants it bad.

All of Grant's office-holders want him a third term. Of course they do, and any resolution passed at the Columbus Convention does not change their wish.

When the political outlook begins to hang on the "ragged edge," Grant's office-holders declare they wouldn't hold office a third term. Such patriotism deserves to be rewarded!

An office-holder under the present administration declaring his intention not to accept again under Grant, would induce a person to believe that the "grapes are beginning to look sour!" Wouldn't such a person be a good subject for Barum?

The Dayton gentleman has declared his intentions, to-wit: To become a citizen of Eaton, and not to accept another "posish" under Grant! That ought to settle the political status of Preble county and unsettle Montgomery.

We understand that our neighboring town of Camden will soon launch an Independent Journal upon the public, and that its editor will be a gentleman living in the city of Hamilton, but not a Grant office-holder. Success to it.

The Xenia News says CHARLES DARLINGTON, Esq., of that city, will be a candidate before the Democratic Convention, for Attorney General. We know "CHARLIE," and a more competent or better selection for that position could not be made. He is a gentleman and an orator, and would add strength and popularity to the ticket.

RADICAL TICKET.

The following is the Radical ticket which the Democrats and Liberals are called on to beat:

For Governor—Rutherford B. Hayes of Sandusky.

Lieutenant Governor—Thomas L. Young, of Hamilton.

Supreme Judge—George W. McIlvaine.

Auditor—Jas. Williams, of Franklin.

Attorney General—John Little, of Greene.

Treasurer—John M. Millikin, of Butler.

Board of Public Works—Peter Thascher, of Cuyahoga.

We hear the question frequently asked, "when will good times come back?" Indeed, it is in almost everybody's mouth, for all are interested. If we knew to a day, or week, or month, or year, or even a decade, it would make us supremely happy to tell all about it. We know this, however: Good times can never return to this country till after the Republicans are banished from power. We must have new measures and new men at the head of public affairs before public confidence can be re-established, and the sooner the people effect this change at their elections, the sooner may we expect better times than we now enjoy.

THE RADICAL CONVENTION.

The Radical Convention which met at Columbus on the 2d inst., was a large but not very harmonious body, consisting of the flag ends of Radicalism which gathered there for the purpose of doing something to bolster up the desperate and sinking condition of the Republican party, under the corrupt and usurping administration of their salary-grabbing President. Closely analyzed this Convention would be found to consist mainly of three elements, to-wit: Those who want office; those who supported the crusade against the whisky influence and are in favor of a crusade against the Catholic religion, and those who want Grant for a third term. The first and second element controlled the Convention, and may be put down as the main-spring that will run the "crusade" machine in the coming campaign in the interest of the present Radical party. The bugles of Zion were sounded all over the State for the friends of the crusade and religious bigots to meet on this occasion, and prevent any concession in the nomination of a candidate for Governor, and the slaughter of the liberal Judge TAFT, shows how well they succeeded, and proves that they intend to fight the campaign on a ruthless and political crusade against everything that is liberal and progressive.

RUFORD B. HAYS was nominated for a third term against his repeated protests, over Judge TAFT, simply because the latter opposed the Crusade and gave a decision against mixing religion with the alphabet in our common schools, and the rejoicings and display of banners in our place, by the leading spirits of the crusade element when the result was known, is satisfactory evidence of this conclusion, and if they succeed in electing Hayes in October, the Crusade will be opened in the spring again, the McCoullsville Ordinance re-instated and the Adair Liquor law, with its black-mailing objections, put upon the statute books. Mark that!

Some parts of the platform adopted at this Convention we endorse as clearly democratic, but other portions of it smack of Caesarism and centralization. For instance, it is announced that "the States are one as a nation." This declaration is true with certain qualifications. The confederation of the States constitutes the Federal Government, and one State is equal with another in the compact and has a right to act independently within its own territory, in all matters not expressly delegated by the people, under the Constitution upon the national government, and that in these respects neither Congress nor the Executive has a right to interfere in the domestic affairs of any State. In other words, we are for the maintenance of all the powers delegated to the Federal government under the Constitution, and for all the rights reserved to the several States, and a strict construction of the Constitution as it is. This we understand to be democratic.

The next plank in the platform is financial, and in our opinion is against the interest of the toiling millions, but eminently to the advantage of the Bankers, Bondholders and those who deal in money as a trade and business. "That a policy of finance should be pursued, which, without unnecessary shock to business or trade, will ultimately equalize the purchasing capacity of the coin and paper dollar." This means a specie basis to be reached, regardless of the interest of productive labor, and to the manifest advantage of the bondholder. What a great departure this doctrine is, from that which was announced in Congress by Thadens Stevens, Sherman, Morton, and all the prominent Republicans, when the act authorizing the issuing of the 5 20 bonds passed? This same doctrine for years, was announced in both national and state platforms of the Republican party, but such a financial policy has been pursued in Congress by the Radicals, in retiring legal tenders and substituting black backs, that the bonds have been rendered equivalent in value to gold, and now the Republican state platform goes back on this just and wholesome doctrine of paying the bonds in legal tenders, and boldly declares for a specie basis. This is indeed one of the most gigantic swindles ever perpetrated upon a free people by their representatives, and is unjust and infamous.

The 4th and 5th planks refer to free education, no division of the School funds and no connection between Church and State, which we heartily endorse as wholesome and good democratic doctrines. The democratic party has always stood firm and done all within its power to render these effective.

The 6th and 7th planks of the platform, in reference to the patent laws and a grateful remembrance of the services of the soldiers and sailors in the late war, is all very good, but the fact that Gen. Grant went back on the soldiers on the bounty bill, which would have helped many a poor and needy veteran, shows that Republican "remembrance" is only on paper to catch their votes.

As to the 8th plank, we heartily agree with the words therein contained, and have always believed "that the public domain shall be scrupulously reserved for occupancy by actual settlers," but the announcement of the doctrine comes with an ill grace from a party, that has squandered and given to rail road monopolies the most valuable portions thereof, amounting to nearly one half in quantity. The people will hardly confide in these land pirates, when their acts and words are so dissimilar.

"The determination of the government to collect the revenues and to prevent and punish frauds," looks well on paper, but more than half of it has been stolen by the appointees of the present corrupt administration, and who has been punished? More than double enough of internal revenues have been collected from the people since the close of the war, to have paid the national debt, and what has become of it? In the hands of Grant's pet office holders, and the public debt stands as undiminished to day, as it did at the close of the war.

As to the third term plank in the platform, it is deceptive, non-committal, mean and contemptible, and will fail to commend itself to any Liberal Republican. Why not have said in so many words, that the Convention was opposed to a third term without any circumscription to fall back upon. The fact is, the Republicans intend to run Grant for a third term, and the non-committal platform taken in connection with his recent letter upon that subject, clearly establishes this view of the case, but for the present they desire to conceal their ulterior intentions.

But the most unblushing and bold piece of etymology in the whole platform, is the 12th and last plank, which contains an endorsement of the salary-grabbing President as "a distinguished success," a "capable and judicious statesman," which "entitles him to the gratitude of his country!" Great God! Shades of the immortal Washington, Monroe, Jefferson and Jackson, stand aghast! Language fails to express the shamelessness of a body of men, that will so attempt to outrage the common sense of the people with such swaggering stuff, and we leave it in disgust, satisfied that the honest and independent masses will not endorse at the ballot box, the actions of such a body of political charlatans.

The condition of the Republican party at the present time, in search of some popular issue to win on, reminds us of the boy who was found by a minister digging for a wood chuck on the Sabbath. The minister reprimanded the arch for his violation of the holy day, and by way of apology said, "you can't catch him." The boy, in an excited tone, replied: "Can't catch him! My God, Mister, I must catch him—were you out of meat?" So with the Republican party. The "Ku Klux" humbug has ceased to deceive; the "Southern outrage" business has failed to draw; the "Crusade" fanaticism was a boomerang, and now comes the attempt to stir up a religious war against the Catholics, rather than allow the rascalities of the Republican party to be discussed. Truly that party is "out of meat."

The Methodist ministers of the District of Columbia are said to be getting up a movement to oppose the power of Roman Catholicism in this country, and prevent it from getting control of the Government. This is a very silly movement, as it will only create ill feeling. The Methodists themselves control the Government in a certain sense, as General Grant is a prominent adherent of that faith, and has just given Dr. Newman, his pastor, an extensive tour around the world at the public expense.

The sons of Zion from all over the State attended the Republican Convention at Columbus, last week, and worked hard against the nomination of Judge TAFT, because they claimed he had "kicked the Bible out of the Schools," and opposed the Crusade! So the liberal minded voters can see what they may look for should the Republican party succeed next fall in electing Hayes.

Our neighbor of the Eaton Register is anxious to progress backward, and reinaugurate the scenes of '54 and '55. Democrats and Liberal Republicans do not believe in proscribing a man on account of birth-place or religion.

The gentleman a citizen of Montgomery county and editing a paper in Preble—three fourths of which is devoted to the interests of the merchants of Richmond and Dayton—chattering about the "patent outside" of the DEMOCRAT, is rather an amusing "goak!"

There is no further use for the Republican party. The South has been plundered until there is nothing left. The north won't stand any more stealing. Therefore the old thing had better die.

"CATHOLIC CONCESSIONS."

The howl about dividing the school funds and "Catholic influence," is to be the "raw head and bloody bones" of Grant's satraps, to frighten the independent, oppressed and robbed taxpayers of Ohio, into an endorsement of the Republican party and its prurient crusade against the private rights of every free born citizen. This howl from the administration "bread and butter brigade" is already so long, loud and violent, that a person unacquainted with the motives from which it proceeds, would almost conclude that the whole nation was in a state of mingled outrage and indignation in fear of some dreadful calamity from the Pope. But donkeys make more noise than a lion, and if it is not so clear, it is more clamorous and frequent. And what is the cause of all this terrible fear of woe and warning to the people, not to put their trust in the Democratic party? Simply that a principle which lies at the very base of our Democratic system has triumphed, and received the recognition of a Democratic Legislature! That and nothing more. And what is the principle? That each person shall have the privilege of selecting for him or herself their religious adviser, whether Methodist, Presbyterian, Episcopalian, Baptist, Catholic, or any other denomination! A principle understood, recognized and acted upon by every individual not wedded to crusade and prurient views. It is a principle just in itself and equal in its application, but because it was Democratic and crossed the path of the religious bigots and prurient crusaders, it must be denounced and used as a scare-crow to agitate and mislead the people into the support of the most corrupt and infamous party that ever existed in any country.

Let us look a moment what ground these mouth-pieces of Grant's robberies and third term advocates have for their talk about democratic advantages to the Catholics. Bishop Purcell and Gen. Rosecrans, the Catholic Bishops of Ohio, are both Republicans, and Generals Sherman and Sheridan, the General and the Lieutenant General of the United States Army, are also Catholics and Republicans! When these persons received their appointments and had charge of our armies, was there any howl about "Catholic influence?" When the Republican party engaged Archbishop Hughes to use his "Catholic influence" in Europe, in behalf of the north in our civil war, was there any howl about "Catholic influence?" When a Republican Administration intrusted its cause to Catholic Generals and Admirals and Catholic regiments, and brigades filled up the Union armies in response to the urgent calls of a Republican President, did these "shaky" satraps of Grant warn the people against "Catholic influence?" Oh, no! It was all right then. There was no necessity for the cry of "Catholic influence" to induce voters to continue these robbers and plunderers in power—"disloyalty," "butcher," "traitor" and "rebel sympathizer" were their capital, and honeyed words and phrases for their Catholic citizens! These have become threadbare, and now in the hope of being their own successors, the cormorants of the Republican party are doing their levellest to stir up a crusade of Protestant prejudice against "Catholic influences," just as they did a year ago a crusade against the "whisky influence." Are not the same organs and the same individuals engaged in the one that encouraged and aided the other? Look around you and answer, taxpayers and voters of Preble county, if we are not correct? Do you want another crusade? We don't believe you do. We think the people have had enough—that they are honest, intelligent and independent, and that when their voice can be heard at the ballot-box next fall, it will speak out in clarion notes against the wickedness of the Republican party and the folly and bigotry of prurient crusaders. They have never failed to do so heretofore, and their past history justifies our hope of the future.

If the Republicans are put in power again in Ohio, they will re-enact the McCoullsville ordinance. They will restore the Adair Black Mail law, and the crusade will bud and blossom again next summer; taxes will be increased, and they will stab at the Constitution by passing a Know Nothing religious bill. Do you want this condition of things, then vote the Radical ticket.

The editor of the Register will become a citizen of Preble county two years hence, provided Gen. Grant has not the third term nomination forced upon him, just as the Republican Convention forced it upon Hayes! That should satisfy the voters of this county, and is sufficient argument in favor of the continuance in power of the Republican party.

For "stale news" see outside of Eaton DEMOCRAT—for very "interesting news," see Eaton Register! You pay your money and you take your choice.

Why did the Republican Convention leave out the Crusade plank? It must be in favor of it?

DEMANDS OF AMERICAN LIFE.

Abstract of an Address by Prof. Edward Orton, of the Ohio Agricultural and Mechanical College, Delivered in Eaton, May 23d, 1875.

The subjects named will seem commonplace, but whatever is worth doing to the world requires to be repeated, line upon line and precept upon precept.

The first demand is in the matter of education. Popular government demands popular education. If political functions are entrusted to all, all must be qualified to meet them or the body politic will suffer harm. This connection has been recognized from the first in the practice of the country. The Common School is the central feature of the American system of public education—it is an outgrowth of the social and political needs of our communities. How much education is required for citizenship? certainly, the citizen must be able to read and write, and he must also know the common processes of arithmetic. Here the State might rest, but it has not confined itself to this narrow range. Two branches have been everywhere added that give even to the Common School a liberal character. These two branches are geography and grammar. Geography is a composite study, taking in parts of natural history and astronomy and leading to the study of human history and civil politics as well. Grammar is essentially a drill in metaphysical and logical subjects. It fails signally, as commonly taught, to give the child a knowledge of the English language; its refinements are beyond the child's capacity, but the maturer students of the schools get real service in this introduction to abstract thought.

The common school cannot be suffered to lose its place in America. The main objection to it is that it is secular. It has always been essentially so, and must be made consistently so. No division of our School Fund will ever be tolerated by the American people; better to give over entirely the education of the people than to resort to this strife-begging scheme. We see in Europe what we are likely to get if we make a change, but we find nothing if Italy or Spain to make us willing to give up our own system yet.

The High School is a natural and necessary addition to our Common School. The necessities of our prospective communities have obliged people to educate their sons and daughters more thoroughly. The training so far given has been taken up by the professions and the higher departments of commerce, but lately the supply has exceeded the demand, and many young men are waiting for work in inglorious leisure or else resorting to the lower walks of commerce which are already overcrowded. The remedy lies, not as some empirics teach us, in educating less, but in counting a larger number of vocations as worthy of educated men. Let the farm and shop and quarry, receive a part of our high school and college graduates, and the problem is solved, and solved in harmony with the American doctrine, or rather, the Christian doctrine, that privilege and opportunity belong to the many and not to the few.

The necessity of scientific schools, colleges and universities was briefly dwelt upon. They too are needed for the many and not for the few. For though but few receive their services directly, the whole community is affected by their work; they keep our knowledge from becoming thin and superficial, they make the whole tone of society higher. Among the other demands of American life, the need of patriotic sentiment and of religious and moral principle were also named.

W. H. ORT, Clerk.

Gas Machine.

Mr. W. R. Ross, of Dayton, arrived in Eaton on Tuesday last with his portable Gas Machine, which he proposes to introduce to the citizens. It manufactures a very cheap light, and is much safer than Coal Oil, and wherever it has been used gives entire satisfaction. Call and examine it in Fisher's room, on Main street, where it will be on exhibition for several days.

The Pope and dividing the school funds, is the "Little Red Riding Hood" of the Dayton city editor of the Register, and he sees the devouring wolf all the time.
