APPEARANCES DON'T GOVERN.

Has just about concluded, after a very quiet spell. That appearances don't govern, and that blood don't tell tales.

THE SOUL'S WINDOW.

Something About the Wonder and Beauty of the Eye.

Its Complex Structure in the Lower Animals. The Eye's Third Eye-Lid—Union of the Sclera and Cornea—In Insects.

Amidst all the marvels which the world of nature offers to the reflective and observant mind, there are few which surpass in interest the wonders revealed by a study of the mechanism of sight in the animal kingdom.

Most of us, in these days of cheap science manuals, are familiar with the general structure of our own eyes and the rudimentary principles of optical science.

A little reflection will, however, show that these diversities of structure, wherever met with, are necessary to the particular mode of life which their possessor was designed to lead in the ranks of creation.

PROGRESS AT WALTHAM.

The American Watch Company seem determined to maintain the proud position they have long occupied among manufacturers of pocket timepieces.

The usual resort, when women complain of want of remunerative employment, is that they should not work, but find men to support them.

The position of the eyes on the head, varying as it does, the lower we descend, the more do we observe the regularity of their position.

NOODLES FOR SOUP. The Proper Way of Preparing, Rolling and Cutting the Pasta.

The German noodles are very easily made and much better than they are bought. Beat one egg with a pinch of salt, stir into it as much flour, well dried, as will make a stiff, elastic paste.

USEFUL AND SUGGESTIVE.

—Aim to be genial, cheerful, polite and thoughtful at home.

—Variety of food is desirable for all animals, and especially so for pigs.

—Risolet of Spring Chicken: Role out squares of pie crust very thin, cut the chicken in very small pieces, and roll in the crust, fry brown.

—Dropped Eggs: Have on the stove a saucepan half full of boiling water, into which put a little salt.

—Lyonnaise Potatoes—Slice six cold boiled potatoes, mince them, and onion and two sprigs of parsley, melt in a frying pan a tablespoonful of butter, put in the onion and fry a light brown, then the potatoes and fry a light brown also, turning them often.

—DRESS TRIMMINGS. Jet to Remain the Leading Garment—Rich New Passerettes.

Until some trimming can be found that will be equally effective, economical and capable of being applied to such an endless variety of uses, jet will probably remain the leading garment.

There are very few men who do not pride themselves on always having the correct time and capable of being applied to such an endless variety of uses, jet will probably remain the leading garment.

—The widow of a distinguished professor was visited by a rather shabby, genteel sort of gentleman, who expressed great interest in her late husband, and who finally said: "I never the memory of your husband, and would like very much to have some relic to keep and cherish."

—The Canadian Government has at last realized the importance of surveying the upper waters of the Yukon, where so many American miners have been reported of late.

—It has been proven that Arab horses are not more fleet of foot than those of any other country. A belief that they were the fastest nags has always been entertained till lately.

PAPER MAKING BY HAND.

Methods of Manufacture Employed Before the Invention of Machinery.

Hand making of paper was formerly practiced in all countries, but is now almost wholly abandoned for the use of machinery.

—Ginger Bread without Eggs: One-half cup butter, one-half cup sugar, one-half cup molasses (New Orleans), on teaspoonful (small) soda, one-half cup cold water, one teaspoon lemon, one-half teaspoonful ginger, four to six drops of vanilla.

—The great secret in making underdraining a permanent and valuable improvement is in securing uniform fall when laying the tile, and maintaining a good outlet.

—Dropped Eggs: Have on the stove a saucepan half full of boiling water, into which put a little salt.

Call again, gently murmured the poker player as he scooped in the pot.
