AMUSEMENTS

Billy Clark, who calls himself "the funny fellow from Onionville, Indian Territory," Wright and Davis, a clever couple with original vaudeville ideas, and the furiously funny Empresscope.

KEITH'S.

In keeping with the "Boost Cincinnati" movement that is spreading throughout the city, the management of B. F. Keith's Theater has arranged a genuine all-star program for the coming week, to show the theater-goers of this city that Cincinnati is one of the leading vaudeville units in the country. "Ships That Pass in the Night," a comedy drama by Wilson Mizner, author of the "Deep Purple" and "The Greyhound," is one of the big attractions. It is a story of the underworld with an appeal that is gripping. Paul Morton, of the famous Four Mortons, with Naomi Glass, will offer their latest and greatest success, "Before and After." Fred and Tommy Haydn and Tommy Borden have joined together in the famous trio of Haydn, Borden and Haydn. Then there will be the Farber Sisters, those society entertainers who created such a big success here on their last visit. One of the most popular stars in vaudeville is Kathleen Clifford, America's favorite boy. She has all new songs and effects. La France and Bruce, the clever blackface comedians, will be seen in their fun-making skit, "The Argument." The Six Tumbling Demons, with a remarkable routine of sensational feats, will be a feature well worth seeing. Keit and De Mont will open the gala program with their college nonsense, and the Patie Weekly will show news events from the entire world.

PEOPLES.

An innovation in Oriental dancing is promised in the performance of La Tunita, who has been engaged as a special feature with the Sunshine Girl Burlesque.

quers at People's Theater next week, beginning with the matinee Sunday. La Tunita is said to enhance the usual Turkish dances with the best features of the more agile Spanish dances, the combination proving not only novel, but decidedly interesting. "At the Cafe de Luxe" is the title of the new two-act travesty, in which the Sunshine Girls and the fellow entertainers will appear. The piece is played by such known favorites as Connie Lehr, Manny King, William Jennings, Al Lanning, Dolly Webb, Mabel Facey and others. Returns from the world's series games will be read at every matinee performance. Special features during the week are chorus girls' contest on Tuesday night, amateur night on Wednesday, and ladies' matinee on Friday.

OLYMPIC.

Next week at the Olympic the attraction will be the "Yankee Doodle Girls," heralded as a "sixteen-cylinder, 1916 model, thirty-girl power laughing machine, breaking the speed limit at every performance." The cast, headed by those popular favorites, Mrl Clark and George Milton, includes Harry Hearn, Fred Reese, Ed Rentz, Anna Meek, Louise Marshall, Jennie Delmar and a chorus of 20 rosebuds.
