THE bridge over the Miami Canal at Main street is sadly out of repair. We call the attention of the Commissioner of the Northern District to the fact.

THE GLOBIOUS RAIN .- After the intense heat of yesterday morning, the shower in the evening was particularly refreshing and grateful. Vegetation here as elsewhere bogan to suffer materially from the drouth.

A BARN near Cumminsville was struck by lightning during the shower yesterday afternoon. The building was fired by the occurrence, but the flames were extinguished before material damage was done.

WE hope to see Lieut. Bleaks, if not assigned a better position by the Mayor, at least retained in his present one. He is a trustworthy officer, and against whom none can point the finger of censure.

COVINGTON MAYOR'S COURT .- Jane Brown notorious for her malicious disposition, was arraigned for creating a disturbance with a colored woman. Jane was fined three dollars, including costs; in default of payment she was sent to jail.

Solos Novese, to whom the public is inlebted for many a musical gem, has just lie's Dream." It is safe to predict its popularity. It can be found at the Music Store of W. C. Peters & Sons.

THE morning papers of yesterday had a cock and bull story of a husband being poisoned by his wife. An inquest held yesterday by the Corener disclosed the fact that the deceased met his death from purely natural causes. No wonder the Nashville Gazette accuses the Cincinnati reporters of romancing.

SEVERAL of the most prominent policemen have it in contemplation to form an independent detective police force. THE DAILY PRESS REVOLUTION .-- Some one of reliable authority saith this: "The penny journal, containing an ample supply of the usual current news, excellent and reliable forsign correspondence, literary criticisms often distinguished by greater independence than those of journals of higher pretonsions, and leading articles of more than average ability, and to its honor, we may add, conducted generally with moderation and good taste, has penetrated to thousands of obscure and populous recesses in which the luxury of a daily paper was unknown before."

Cook AND SEITER arrived here yesterday in the custody of Thos. McLean, county jailor. As they entered the cars at Columbus, Seiter was at a loss to obtain a seat. A lady, seeing this, gave him a cent by her side. A conversation soon sprang up between them, and as the cars were leaving the Capital, Selter kindly pointed out to his companion the various pub lie institutions, among others, the penitentiary. The lady expressed, in animated language, her regret that the wickedness of the world rendered it necessary that such prisons should be erected, and proceeded to discourse at length on crime and its consequences, and the horrors of incarcagation. She little knew that her companion within an hour had been an inmate of the penitentiary, the view of which had brought forth her remarks.

FRAUD IN HAY .- Consumers of hay in this sity are very frequently imposed upon in such a manner that it requires the greatest caution to protect themselves. It is no uncommon octo protect themselves. It is no uncommon oc-currence upon re-weighing a load of hay to find a loss of from two to four hundred pounds, notwithstanding the seller of hay produces the sertificate of a regular weigher in the country. The only surety against this fraud is to require all hay to be weighed on the regular city scales. We can cite instances, and give the names of parties, where this imposition has been prac-ticed for a long time, and it would have a wholesome effect if a few of the dishonest deal-ers should be criminally punished as they deers should be criminally punished as they de-

AMUSEMENTS.

NATIONAL TREATER .- This evening has been set apart for the benefit of M'lle Desire, the popular dus sense of the Martinetti Troupe. The bill ant ounced it replate with attractive features. The performance on the perpendicular ropes by the Martinetti Brothers are the most difficult acrobatic feats ever witnessed. This athletic display is to be followed by the beautical dance of La Zingarella, by Mons. Pratesi and M'lle Desire, and the comic pantomime of Mazulm; or, The Night Out. The performances will conclude with a terrific ascension on the tight-rope from the stage to the dome of the 'Theater by the Brothers Martinetti, bearing with them M'lle Desire. The performances will' be preluded with a lively farce.

Woon's THEATER. - Maggie Mitchell has a benefit this ovening at Wood's Theater, and we hope her many friends in this city will turn out en masse to greet her. She will be assisted for this night only, by Mr. S. Glenn, the popular comedian, who will appear as "John Schmidt" in his new farce of the Persecuted Detchman. Maggie will appear in her beautiful role of "Peg Woffington," in Musks and Faces, and as "Kate Dalrymple," in the sparkling comedy entitled the Little Sarage.

DONETTI'S MONKEY TROUPS .- Mr. Donetti's Monkeys, Dogs and Goats still continue to be popular, especially with the little folks, as the full house of last evening evinced. We presume that none will miss the opportunity of seeing them during their sojourn in the city, which will be very brief.

PROF. Tosso's CONCERT .- It is hardly necessary to say that the announcement that Mr. Tosso, the veteran violinist, would appear at Pike's Opera Hall was sufficient, last evening, to attract a large and appreciative audience. The performances were not only good-they surpassed the most sanguine expectations of the public.

Mr. Tosso proved himself the Tosso of the olden time-many of his performances, indeed, evinced not only the culture of age, but the vigor and elasticity of youth. The solo on the guitar of Mr. Henry Worrall was magnificent, and the grand piano solo of Sophie Werner elicited repeated rounds of applause. Of the Misses Tosso we need not speak; they surpassed even the general expectation. Their talent is acknowledged by all who have been fortunate enough to witness their exhibitions. All in all, we regard the Concert of Prof. Tosso a decided success; and we sincerely trust he will, at a day not distant, consent to appear again before a Cincinnati audience.

A PORTION of the City Council seem determined not to contract with Abel Shawk for a steam fire engine. Mr. Shawk was the first to bring into practical use the steam fire engine in this city, and if his engine is inferior in some respects to that of Mr. Latta, it is superior in others. The committee on Fire Department say they need two more engines. If that be the case, why not buy one from published a charming waltz, entitled "Nel-Mr. Shawk and one from Mr. Latta? Engineers who are using the Shawk machine say that it is at least equal to the Latta, and some even prefer it. Why, then, should Mr. Latta have the preference - especially when the Shawk machine can be purchased at a lower figure, and is guaranteed for one year by the proprietor, who will keep it for that period in repair, free of cost to the city? We are decidedly opposed to monopoly, either at home or abroad.

> A case came up before Esquire Fisher yesterday, in which C. H. Weinsing, a German hostler, who works on Mount Auburn, brought suit against Joseph Koch, a fellow wokman, to recover $50 which he claimed was illegally detained from him. It appears from the testimony that Weinsing received a $100 in payment of wages, and that he showed the money to Koch. The latter took the money and put it in his pocket, saying, "Now I'm rich,' let's go take a drink." They went off togother and drank several times, and at length Weinsing thought Kech had his money long enough, and demanded it. Koch handed him a $50 bill, declaring that that was all he had received from him. Judgment was rendered in favor of Asour the most useless piece of extravagance, in a small way, in the City government, is no earthly necessity, and are of no more service than a fifth wheel would be to a wagon, When they were first appointed there was some light necessity for them. Then a line of packets were running to upper points on the Canal, and the few passengers who adopted them as a mode of travel probably needed some protection. Now there is nothing to guard but a few barrels of pork and whisky, and the Day Policemen of the various wards lining the Canal could, we think, without breaking their necks, assume that slight additional. Abolish the Canal Police, Mr. Mayor, and stop the leak.

LADIES' HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY .- Many a wretched heart has been made glad from the efforts of those managing this benevolent and Christian institution. To-night the lady managers give an entertainment in Pike's Opera Hall, consisting of the choicest icecream, strawberries, music and flowers. The public, of course, will be there, having a double object in view - both to indulge in a little innecent enjoyment, and premote a worthy and charitable object.

Wr desire to call particular attention to the very excellent and able letter of our Columbus correspondent, containing a full and very interesting report of the Democratic Convention, and other items of news connected with the capital city.

The police are making their periodical attempts to stop the atreet-walking, at night, of lewd females. Two noted cyprians were arrested last night, and punished with lodgings in the Ninth street station-house.

BENJAMIN GUIO, an individual whose face is exceedingly familiar at the Police Court, was arrested last night on two charges, one of disorderly conduct, the other for resisting officers,

It will be seen by reference to our telegraph reports that the Democratic Convention at Columbus have made their nominations. R. P. Ranney is the nominee for Governor.

Tax hull of the wrecked steamer Jacob Traber was isunched yesterday from off the public wharf, and conveyed to the ship-yard, where it will be converted into a barge.

A correspondent of the Hamilton (Canada) Times, writing from Brantford, says that a young man named Mr. Wallace Robertson has been taken into custody on a charge of having forged his father's will, about two years ago. It appears that a farmer named Robertson lived not far from Mount Pleasant, a few miles from iteantford. He was possessed of considerable property, and had a grown up son, who was not remarkable for his observance of moral obligations or parental authority. Mr. Robertson was returning from Brantford, and had freely partaken of intoxicating liquors. He did not reach home at the hour he was expected, and on the following morning his body was found lying by the roadside.

An inquest was held, and evidence of the most conclusive nature adduced that a foul murder had been committed. The body presented several marks of violence, including nevere contusions and a stab in the region of the breast, which of itself was sufficient to cause death, and was apparently inflicted by a dirk-knife. A brother of the young man now in custody was strongly suspected of being the perpetrator of the crime, and was arrested on the Coroner's warrant, but was subsequently released for want of sufficient inculpatory evidence. A will, purporting to have been made by the deceased, was produced, and has since been ascertained to be a forgery, and to have been drawn out by some member of the family—supposed by the prisoner. Since the decease of Mr. Robertson, the prisoner and his mother, wife of the murdered man, have not have been drawn of the murdered man, have not specifically arms and she have lived on very friendly terms, and she has lodged information against her son, charging him with having murdered his father for the purpose of becoming possessed of a portion of the estate.

The papers by the Asia furnish the following items of intelligence: The Emperor's departure from France was a perfect ovation, and his reception at Genos, where he arrived on the 12th, was most cordial. His address to the army enjoined the strictest discipline, and stated that his only fears were that they would show too much enthusiasm. He was expected to proceed to the head-quarters of the army on the 14th. The King of Sardinia visited the

The following is Napoleon's address to the "Army of Italy:" "Soldiers, I come to place myself at your bend to conduct you to the combat. We are about to second the struggles of a people now vindicating its independence, and rescue it from foreign oppression. This is a sacred cause, which has the sympathies of the civilized world. I need not stimulate your ardor; every step will remind you of victory. In the ria acro of sucient Rome inscriptions were chiscled upon marble, reminding the people of exalted deeds. It is the same to-day. In passing Mondovi, Marengo, Arcola, and Rivoli, you will in the midst of those glorious recollections be marching in another via sacra. Preserve that strict discipline which is the honor of the army. Forget it not that there are no other enemies than those who fight against you in battle. Remain compact; abandon not your ranks to hasten forward; beware of a too great enthusiasm, which is the only thing to fear. The new armes de receison are dangerous only at a dis-tance. They will not prevent the bayonet from being what it has hitherto been, the ter-rible weapon of the French infantry.

"Soldiers, let us all do our duty, and put confidence in God. Our country expects much from you. From one end of France to the from you. From one end of France to the other the following words of happy augury recehe: 'The new army of Italy will be worthy of her older sister.'''

TURIN, May 17 .- The Austrians are increa ing their forces near the Castle of St. Glo-vanni, on the road from Placentia to Stradella. They have constructed bridges near Vicevano and Mortara to protect their retreat. To-day our soldiers pushed forward in a strong reconnoitering party as far as Cassine, near Vo-celli, and our artillery began cannonading the enemy, which, however, was not replied to. Our troops have retaken their former position.

FRANKFORT-ON-THE-MAIN, May 13 .- In the extraordinary sitting of the Federal Diet to-day the proposition of the Military Commission to put the garrison of the federal fortresses on a war footing, was agreed to. The Hanoverian representative proposed that a corpe of observation should be placed on the Upper Rhine, but Prussia protested.

The President of the Diet, the Austrian
