FORTUNATE DISCOVERY

Of Fire Saves Family From Perishing.

VERY NARROW ESCAPE

At A. F. McNeal Home on Vine Street.

Mr. McNeal Awakes Just in Time to Get His Wife and Children From Burning Building.

Only the fortunate discovery of a fire in his home Friday night about 9 o'clock, prevented Mr. A. F. McNeal and family from being burned to death and their home on Vine street burned to the ground.

Mr. McNeal was down town in the early evening and going home about 8:30 o'clock found that his wife and children had retired, their rooms being on the first floor.

A short time later, Mr. McNeal retired but after he had got into bed, he detected the odor of smoke. He immediately arose and down between the partitions of the kitchen and dining room.

He rushed up stairs to find the second floor filled with smoke and the servant's room a raging furnace. Running down stairs he called his wife and children who were sleeping and then sent in a call for the Central department, which responded immediately.

Miss Sarah Phelan, a sister of Mrs. McNeal, was sleeping in a front room on the second floor of the residence. Her room was filled with smoke. She was aroused and assisted down stairs.

The cause of the fire is somewhat in doubt. It is supposed that it started either from defective insulation on an electric light wire or in a bureau which was standing very close to a hot water radiator.

The interior of the servants' room and the bath room were totally destroyed. The prompt work of the firemen doubtless prevented the house from being burned to the ground after it had obtained such a start.

On account of the dense smoke filling the upper part of the house, the firemen fought the flames with much difficulty. The fire ate its way through the walls into the kitchen and onto the roof. It was necessary to use a large amount of water and chemicals before the flames were finally extinguished.

The fire was confined to the two places mentioned, but the damage was very heavy in all parts of the house from smoke and water. Mr. McNeal and family were obliged to go to the home of relatives to spend the night.

The damage is estimated to have been between $100 and $500. Mr. and Mrs. McNeal and family are being congratulated on their very fortunate escape from a terrible death.

GEHRING TO MEET BARTL AT LIMA

Wrestling Bout Should Prove to be a Rough One.

Cleveland is the Man Who Put Al Akerman Out of Business Only Recently.

As a result of a conference in the Leader office last evening, Henry Gehring, Cleveland's popular middleweight, and Fred Bartl, the Canadian wrestling champion, who has also been beating every man at his weight in this section of the country, will meet on the mat inside of two weeks in Lima, Ohio.

These two limas have been matched twice, but owing to illness and other engagements they failed to meet. Last evening the matter was clinched when Art Lamb, representing Gehring, and Bartl agreed on weight and terms for the match. Both men will weigh 171 at ringside at 152 pounds, while a side bet of from $300 to $500 will be posted with Will McKay, sporting editor of the Leader, on the signing of the articles, as well as weight and appearance of money.

This match should prove to be an excellent one. Bartl has had the more experience, but Gehring believes he can overcome this. Bartl is known as one of the roughest men in the business, but keeping himself within the rules. That is why he had so much trouble with Akerman, who did not like the grueling he received at the Canadian's hands. Gehring also is a firm believer in "roughing it," with the result that there should be some hard wrestling before the winner is selected. Bartl is meeting all comers at the Empire Theater and will next week so as to be in his best shape.

Bartl wanted the match to take place in Cleveland, but Art Lamb objected to this, contending that the Lima people had made a liberal proposition and should have first call. Both men have agreed on Will McKay to referee the match.—Cleveland Leader.

COURT TAKES SHORT RECESS

Misunderstanding in Dates Responsible.

WORK BEGINS MONDAY

When Turner Against Tobias Case is Called.

Sheriff Drown Has Found No Owner For the Shoes Found in Corn Shock—Court Happenings.

There will probably be no further court this week. The damage case of James W. Givens against the C. D. & M. railway was set for hearing today but through some misunderstanding on the part of the attorneys, they did not know that it was set down for today, and therefore did not appear. Givens sues the company for five thousand dollars damages which he alleges was caused by his being thrown from a car at Owens, and having his leg broken thereby.

The case of George Parish against F. R. Saiter and others, in which Parish seeks to recover a sum of money from the township trustees for using his house as a detention hospital during the small pox epidemic here several years ago, was also set down for today but has been continued on request of counsel.

Next Monday the wheels will be started grinding on the case of George E. Turner against James C. Tobias. This is an action growing out of the organization of a company for the manufacture of a boiler which Turner invented.

The two cases of Ralph Sargent against the Lincoln Pharmacy company have been continued until the next term of court, the costs accruing at this time being assessed against the plaintiff. He is also ordered to pay the costs within 30 days or the case will be dismissed. It is a suit about a labor claim, and the plaintiff claims to be unable to attend court by reason of an accident which he sustained in Walbridge, Ohio, some time ago.

Sheriff Drown has as yet received no information relative to the ownership of the 35 pairs of ladies' french heel slippers which were turned over to him yesterday. The shoes were found in a corn shock by Lincoln Smith, in his cornfield at the East end of Farmington street. They are made by Ben Spears of Memphis, Tenn.

It is believed that thieves succeeded in rolling the package off a train near the cornfield and after finding that the box contained nothing they could dispose of, they hid them for future attention. Many of the shoes are spotted by mould and miss have gnawed a number of them. No report of the loss of this quantity of ladies' footwear has been filed with the sheriff or the local police.

While brushing steel shavings from his machine at the Marion Steam Shovel shops, last night, Earl Bowersmith of Bennett street, caught his glove in the machine and before the machinery could be stopped his right arm was terribly lacerated and the sleeves of his coat completely torn to shreds.

The machinery was stopped by a fellow workman before the arm of the unfortunate young man was torn off. He was carried to the office of a physician where his injuries were given attention.

Arrangements have been completed for the twenty-first annual reunion of Pennsylvania engineers to be held at Derry, Pennsylvania, March 1. It is expected that a number of engineers from this district will attend.

Pine Salve Carbolyzed acts like a poultice; highly antiseptic, extensively used for Eczema, for chapped hands and lips, cuts, burns. Sold by Flocken's Drug Store.

RAILROAD NOTES For the information of the local Hocking Valley employes, a bulletin signed by superintendent R. S. Quigley and General superintendent M. S. Connors, has been posted announcing that L. C. Angier has been appointed general road foreman of the Hocking Valley lines to have headquarters at Columbus. The appointment goes into effect at once. Heretofore Angier has been acting in the capacity of road foreman for the T. & O. C. and K. & M. including the Hocking Valley. The Hocking officials have seen fit to have him devote his entire attention to their road and consequently the appointment.

Superintendent F. J. Moser, trainmaster P. O'Neill and superintendent Allen were in the local Erie yards this morning looking after the relief of the congested condition of freight cars which is causing trouble in the way of frequent blockades.

J. P. Breen, proprietor of the Union depot hotel, of Dayton, was entertained at the local hotel today by manager John Dugger.

Erie train No. 3 was more than four hours late today caused by the extremely heavy express and passenger traffic. Hereafter when this train is late, no extra trains will be made up here as has been the past custom, owing to a shortage in equipment, and consequently Chicago passengers will be compelled to wait the arrival of the regular train.

The announcement was made yesterday that the Erie railroad has appointed E. Rummy as mechanical superintendent with headquarters at Meadville, succeeding George W. Wilden, who has resigned. E. A. Wescott has been appointed assistant mechanical superintendent in charge of the car department, with headquarters also at Meadville. William Schlage has been appointed master mechanic with office in the same place. The bulletin announces that the office of car builder has been abolished.

Arrangements have been completed for the twenty-first annual reunion of Pennsylvania engineers to be held at Derry, Pennsylvania, March 1. It is expected that a number of engineers from this district will attend.
