BIG GATHERING IS ASSURED

Citizens Interested in Railway Project.

ADVANTAGE IS APPARENT

Blocked Crossings Increase the Interest.

Mayor Scherff will Preside at the Mass Meeting at the Court Room This Evening.

Interest in the proposed plan to lower the Erie and Big Four railroad tracks through the central part of the city, is general throughout all parts of the city and it is certain that a big crowd will attend the mass meeting of citizens in the common pleas court room tonight at 7.30 o'clock.

Since the question was brought up by the Mirror, it has been the subject of much comment, the greater part of which has been very favorable to the plan. The great danger to life caused by running passenger trains through the city at a rate of twenty to forty miles an hour, is generally realized and it is the general belief that the only remedy is to have the trains run through a subway.

Yesterday, two freight trains were laid out by broken couplings, and each blocked the main thoroughfares of the city for periods of thirty minutes. The inconvenience resulting from the delays is very great and is the cause of many complaints. The railroads seem powerless to eliminate the trouble.

At tonight's meeting, Mayor Scherff who is fully in accord with the movement for the improvement, will act as chairman of the meeting, and many prominent men will deliver addresses. The remarks of persons either in favor of or against the plan will be given ear.

The plan to lower the Erie tracks to give the Big Four tracks along the Erie subway and to open up Mill street from Greenwood to the Union Station, is generally favored more than the abandoning of the Erie right-of-way and placing both lines in a subway on the property of the Big Four. The opening of this street would be a big help to that portion of the city and result in many advantages.

The principal men in the project are confident that the railroads will readily agree to either plan endorsed by the citizens generally or by the city council, which will be petitioned to make the improvement.

EPWORTH BROTHERHOOD

Will Discuss Some Needed Reforms for the City.

The Brotherhood of Epworth M. E. church will hold a special meeting tonight to consider a number of the most necessary reforms for the city. A great deal of interest has been aroused in the proposed reform movement that is to be headed by the members of the society and a lively discussion is anticipated. It is expected that many outsiders will attend the meeting to join in the movement.

EXCEPTIONS SUSTAINED

Report of Receiver Carl Must be Modified.

THE COURT IS BUSY

Several Cases Heard by Judge Babst.

Katie Swagler is Granted a Divorce From Carl Swagler—Court House News.

In the case of L. Reber against the Milholland Brick company, heard yesterday on the exceptions of the creditors to the report of the receiver, the court sustained the motion in regard to the allowance of the receiver. G. F. Carl, the receiver, had entered a claim for $1,200 for services from July to January. He was allowed $100 per month for six months by the court. The court overruled the exceptions to the allowance of $100 made to N. E. Arnold for services.

In regard to the note for $1400, which the directors of the company gave to a local bank to secure funds for the construction of a switch from the Pennsylvania railroad, the court ordered that the $597.84 remaining after the switch was built, rightfully belonged to the directors, who borrowed the money by giving their individual notes for the amount. When the Pennsylvania company returned the money, it was given to the company, and the president, G. W. Walters and J. W. Milholland took the money as part of what the company owed them. Of the amount that the company owes to Mr. Milholland, a part must be applied to the payment of the directors and the remainder must be applied on a bill of $325 owed by Mr. Milholland to Usher and Phillips.

When the report of the receiver is made to conform with these requirements, it will be approved by the court.

The case of Croasap against Balduff was heard on motion to require the plaintiff to make more definite his petition, by stating what lots he is alleged to have purchased from the defendant. BALL CANNOT BE LOCATED X-Ray Used but Without Success.

Italian Who was Accidentally Shot is Said to be Quite Wealthy.

Despite a thorough examination with X-ray, the sanatorium physicians attending Gio Sanpillo, the young Italian, who was accidentally shot in the Erie yards, Tuesday night, have not been able to locate the ball, which is supposed to be lodged in the left shoulder. The physicians are of the opinion that the bullet must have flattened out on the shoulder bone. It was a thirty-eight calibre revolver, and had not the ball struck a bone, it would have undoubtedly passed directly through the unfortunate victim.

Sebas Vittas, the victim's cousin, who discharged the revolver, displays the greatest of tenderness and loyalty to the injured man and will scarcely leave his bedside. Young Vittas today stated that Sanpillo is wealthy, and that no expense will be spared in giving him the best of medical service and attention.

A DOCTOR IS MISSING

Dr. L. B. Simpson Suddenly Quits Radnor.

RUMORS ARE CURRENT

Many Believe He has Gone to the West.

Mrs. Simpson was in Delaware on a Visit When the Doctor Decided to Leave.

There was a woman in the case, a young and beautiful nurse and as a result Dr. L. B. Simpson of Radnor and formerly a prominent practitioner of this city has disappeared leaving behind no tracks by means of which the end of his flight might be determined.

A prominent resident of Radnor stated today that late yesterday afternoon Dr. Simpson placed his wife on an interurban car bound for Delaware with the promise that he would follow her an hour later and together they would attend to some business in the classic city. Instead however of fulfilling the promise the physician is said to have boarded a north bound car for this city and meeting his attractive nurse here, they together left on an Erie train for the far West.

Mrs. Simpson is a middle-aged woman of pleasing personality and possesses scores of warm friends. She was the daughter of George Weiser, who was a well-known wealthy farmer residing near Delaware. She is a sister of Dr. Wisner of Adelaide, Mrs. Simpson was totally deceived by her husband. He had disposed of their property in Radnor during the past several weeks with the alleged intentions of purchasing real estate in Delaware and they were to visit Delaware last evening for the purpose of closing several deals which were pending.

Dr. Simpson is about forty years of age. He is a fine appearing man and made friends readily. He had built up a splendid practice in Radnor village and vicinity and was considered quite wealthy. He practiced in this city about seven years from 1896 to 1902 and had been in Radnor about five years.

As far as is known Simpson had had no domestic or financial difficulties. He told Daniel Jones of Radnor late yesterday evening that he had determined to leave this part of the country saying that he was getting tired of the climate. He left Jones a set of single buggy harness and his college diploma and specially instructed him not to let them fall in the hands of his wife. There was a few small pieces of property that were not sold and this the physician turned over to his brother, Benjamin Simpson.

He left practically nothing to his wife and it is said left word with a friend to inform her that she would never look upon his smiling face again.
