

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS

For more than forty years S. S. S. has worn the crown of public approval and has been recognized as the King of Blood Purifiers. It has demonstrated its ability to CURE in thousands upon thousands of cases of blood and skin diseases until it is regarded today as the most reliable and safest of all blood medicines.

Pure blood means strong, vigorous bodies, well nourished systems, steady nerves, and all the machinery of life working in harmony with nature—thus insuring perfect health. Impure or diseased blood means the opposite of all this; any impurity, humor or poison in this vital fluid acts injuriously on the system and affects the general health. Pustular eruptions, rashes and the various skin affections show that the blood is in a feverish and diseased condition, as the result of too much acid or the presence of some irritating humor. Chronic Sores and Ulcers are the result of morbid, unhealthy matter in the blood, while Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are all deep-seated blood disorders that continue to grow worse as long as the poisons which produce them remain in the blood.

All blood troubles are not acquired. Through the blood disease germs are transmitted from one generation to another. Parents hand down a tainted circulation to their children, and we see its effects manifested in various ways. The skin has a waxy, pallid appearance, the eyes are often weak, glands of the neck enlarged, and, as the taint has been in the blood since birth, the entire health is usually affected, and the system weakened from want of nourishing, health-giving blood.

In all blood troubles S. S. S. has proven itself "The King of Blood Purifiers." It goes down into the circulation and removes all poisons, humors, waste or foreign matter, and makes this life-stream pure and health-sustaining. Nothing reaches inherited blood troubles like S. S. S.; it removes every particle of the taint, purifies and strengthens the weak, deteriorated blood, supplies it with the healthful properties it needs and establishes the foundation for good health. As a tonic S. S. S. has no equal, and it will be found especially bracing to weak, anemic persons.

S.S.S.

PURELY VEGETABLE

Diseases, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, and all other blood troubles are cured permanently by S. S. S., and so thorough is the cleansing of the blood that no trace of the disease is left to break out in future years, or to be transmitted to offspring. If your blood is out of order begin the use of S. S. S., The King of Blood Purifiers, and restore this vital fluid to its normal healthy condition, and enjoy the blessing of good health. Book on blood and any special medical advice desired will be furnished free of charge to all who write.

YE COUNTRY EDITOR.
By Byron Williams.

The editor sat in his sanctum. With woe in his long, tangled hair; His brow was a riot of wrinkles, His face wore the pall of despair! His heart, like a mountainous burden, Lay sloughishly still in his breast; His breath came in labored heaving sobs That told of a sorrow suppressed!

The foreman reported a break-down, The devil got caught in the press; The gasoline engine exploded, The ad-type fell into the meat!

The paper got onto the rollers, The cogs jumped the track of the bed; The folder it rattled the issue, The tape ran across the new head! The creditors called with the sheriff, The prize-fighter got in the game!

The woman who knew she was slandered, The landlord and mother-in-law came!

The editor sat in his sanctum, With woe in his long, tangled hair; His brow was whiter than marble, His face was the face of despair!

He raised not his eyes from before him, He moved not a muscle, nor spoke; He feared not, he winced not, he squirmed not, He turned not his face, nor awoke!

Full roughly they swooped down upon him, And pointed their guns at his head; But God in His wisdom protected— For Editor Squiblets was dead!

LION CLEARED THE YARD.

Pet of Minneapolis Man Was Death to the Dogs.

Mr. Nelson, who was much annoyed by stray dogs burying bones in his garden at Linden Hills, secured a lion while he was in Europe last summer, paying $287.50 for a rather weather beaten king of beasts, but one that was guaranteed in every respect. The lion became a great pet on the way over and came to know his master's voice and obey it. Its name was Henry. Arrived at Linden Hills Mr. Nelson let Henry out into the back yard and simply waited. At 7:30 on the first morning a Newfoundland dog as large as a small garage walked into the yard to step on the flower beds and to tip over the garbage can. The lion saw the dog enter the yard and the dog just barely saw the lion. "Crunch!" That was all. It was the sound made by Henry eating the dog. At 8:10 a monster bulldog smelled his way into the garden to rip up a yard of soil among the petunias. "Ki-yi!" "Crunch!" The bulldog had gone hence. By 11:30 Henry's score stood: One Newfoundland, one bull, four fox terriers, an Irish setter, and two plain dogs. Everything that came into the yard collided with the lion and he, it was not. Mr. Nelson was so joyous over the experiment that he could not go to work that day, but just sat around and felt good. In six weeks the dogs were either all in or were avoiding the place by going two blocks the other way. Then the circus came around and the lion was so fat and glossy that Mr. Nelson disposed of him to the menagerie department for $327.75.—Minneapolis Journal.

WHY BOB WAS ANNOYED.

Emptying of Golf Bag Made Embarrassing Situation.

Young Harwood's Cousin Evelyn had invited him down to her country place to stop over the holidays. He arrived just before dinner, to find that he had left his golf clubs behind him. It was most exasperating; but his cousin comforted him somewhat by promptly offering the use of her clubs. The next day he started early for the links with Evelyn's husband, but in an hour he was back again. "Were the clubs so bad?" she inquired; "couldn't you finish the game?" He answered shortly that he had not cared to finish the game—of course there was nothing the matter with the clubs. When Evelyn's husband came home for luncheon at noon she questioned him. "What's wrong with Bob, Henry?" she asked; "didn't the game go smoothly?" Her husband chuckled. "It was your clubs," he explained. "I don't wonder he isn't happy. He was preparing to 'tee off' at the hole in front of the clubhouse, with a lot of girls on the veranda watching him. He picked up your bag of clubs to take out the 'driver,' but it was caught in some way, and he turned the bag upside down to shake it loose. The driver tumbled out then, and with it came your false fringe, your powder puff, your green veil, and that little ivory handglass you carry around. Do you wonder his feelings are somewhat bruised?"—Harper's Magazine.

Gamin Broke Up Scene.

"James Bryce," said a Chicagoan, "crossed with me on the Oceanic, and on the promenade deck one morning the talk turning to Napoleon, he told me an amusing story. He said that in Paris during the Napoleonic craze of some years back he attended a Napoleon play at the Odeon. In this play one act hinged on the birth of the little king of Rome. If the child was a girl one cannon shot was to be fired; if a boy, two shots. Well, in the night in question a cannon shot rolled forth and there ensued a long silence on the stage.

"It is a girl," said Josephine, tensely. But just then a second shot was heard and the empress cried: 'No, a boy, a boy!'

"Then, through some error, a third cannon shot thundered forth. In the awkward pause that followed a gamin in the gallery shouted: 'Parbleu, it's triplets!'

His Step Ladder.

One evening Roy and his mamma were sitting in the twilight talking. He had a faint idea of a second marriage, but he desired to know more about it, and commenced to ask his mamma questions, among which was, "Mamma, if you should die, would papa's second wife be my step ladder?"

Universal Love.

So long as there's a whole and undivided love towards all men, a share of the virtues and divine influences bestowed upon all flows out unto thee through this love. But if thou dost sever any one from this spirit of universal love, thou wilt not receive the precious benefits of love.—Tauler.

Parents will enjoy Fine Field Day, Saturday, 2:30. 10c to grandstand.

In the grate's silhouette when the curtains are down, Is the mind's Wanderland—a Utopian Town. In Utopian Town is a quaint, country street Winding gently away to where rivulets meet.

And 'tis shady and still, save for birding and breeze That are singing of love in the sycamore trees; There the butterflies glint 'mong the old-fashioned flow'rs; There at eventide love plights its troth 'neath the bow'rs.

Ah! there's peace in the shade of Utopian Town, There is comfort and rest 'neath the boughs that bend down; For the gold-serf world is held back by a ban— Where a rose is a rose, and a man is a man!

In the slave marts of lust, in the maelstrom of strife, There are thousands who long for the natural life, And the Manmon King sneers as he jingles his gold O'er the amable of hearts where the heart's blood is sold.

But there's God in the peace of Utopian Town, Where a man is himself with his idols cast down— Where a heart is a heart, not a cold pulsing thing That is stoned to a woe and is dead to a sting!

Let us strive for a day when man's reason shall reign, When his soul shall rebel at the sight of a stain— Let us live man to man, barring scepter and crown, In the Kingdom of Right—in Utopian Town!
