LOCAL OPTION ON THE INCREASE

The word comes from Columbus that out of 13 local elections in Ohio held during the month of May, 10 towns voted dry and 3 wet. Those voting dry were Spencerville, Dresden, Mt. Victory, Sugar Grove, Athens, Morristown, Bloomville, Harrisburg, Waynesfield and Whiteside. The wet towns were Martin's Ferry, Marietta and New London.

During April and May 23 out of 29 municipalities voted dry. Of these eight were already dry and but one Malvern, changed from wet to dry.

—Millersburg Republican of June 27, 1907.

EAST LIVERPOOL DRY BY CLOSE MAJORITY.

East Liverpool, Ohio June 22—East Liverpool after one of the most exciting elections in the city's history, voted dry today by a majority of 93 the vote standing 2294 to 2091. The city now deprives Washington C. H. of its title of being the largest dry town in the state, and the result if it stands will put 53 saloons out of business within thirty days.

—Cleveland Leader.

Mrs. Susan F. Fessenden of Boston Mass., National W. C. T. U. lecturer recently addressed a large audience on Sunday evening in Trinity M. E. Church in Chillicothe Ohio. Pastor and people were delighted with the way Mrs. Fessenden presented total abstinence and prohibition truth.—The Union Signal of July 4th 1907.

Francis Murphy the noted temperance advocate passed away June 30 at his home in Los Angeles Cal. Mr. Murphy enlisted in the temperance cause in 1858 and was widely known in this and other countries as a successful platform speaker.

"One night in Portland Me., where I was then living, I happened to enter a gospel mission conducted by a Christian man who was devoting his time and money to the work of lifting up and redeeming men who had become slaves to drink. By that time I had sunk pretty low and had brought misery and misfortune upon myself and my family.

"Ay I listened to that Christian man and heard him tell of one who came on earth to seek and to save the lost to uplift the fallen, and that he would never leave nor forsake any man who called upon his name, my heart was touched. I fell on my knees and prayed with that Christian man, and I found that all he said was true.

"From that moment I was a new man. I quit drinking forever, and I started out to tell my boon companions all about it and to persuade them to quit drinking too.—Francis Murphy.

ON THE WATER WAGON.

At the local option election held at East Liverpool last Saturday, the drys cast 2294 votes and the wets 2091 votes, a majority of 293 for the dry element. East Liverpool is now the largest dry town in Ohio.

At Ashland, Saturday, the drys polled 1035 votes and the wets 721, the dry majority being 314. Ashland has been dry for two years, the majority at the former election being 739.

On Tuesday, Wellsville four miles from East Liverpool voted dry by 48 majority.—The Holmes County Farmer of June 27, 1907.

ACCOMPLISHED IMMENSE WORK.

Wexford, Ireland, was Francis Murphy's birthplace, but he came to this country when a boy of sixteen and has never visited his native land since. In 1870, when thirty-four years of age, he was won to the cause of temperance, and from that day until his present illness, he has labored with a zeal few men have equaled.

In the last thirty-six years, he has addressed more than 25,000 public meetings; has carried a crusade into every State of the Union; into Canada and Europe; has traveled more than 1,000,000 miles, or the equivalent of forty times the circumference of the globe; has gone into the slums and exhorted men to rise above their wickedness and misery and has a roll call of 12,000,000 converts.

"I will never give up my work as long as God gives me strength to keep at it," he said recently. "I love the work more and more every day that I live. The reward is so great.

"No, I do not mean the money reward," he said, interrupting himself. "I have never made money by my tours. Before I went into this work, I had plenty of money, but it has made me a poor man. All the money I have received has gone into the temperance movement."—Cleveland Leader of June 29, 1907.

After July 1, no saloon licenses will be granted in Milwaukee, Wis., to women whose husbands are living.

MUST PAY RENT

Plaintiff Given Decision in Case of Drake vs Diffany.

A forcible detention proceeding brought by Cap. Drake against Martha J. Diffany in the court of Justice H. C. Thompson was heard this morning and was decided in favor of Drake. Mrs. Diffany has been occupying a house on East Center street owned by Drake and the latter brought suit to have her ejected. He claimed she failed to pay her rent.

Mrs. Diffany set up the defense that she rented the house on a year's contract and that she could not be ejected for non payment of rent. Through her attorneys, DeGolley & DeGolley, she has given notice that she will take the case to the court of common pleas.

NEW YORK SPECIALIST

To Examine the Eyes of Mr. Geo. D. Copeland.

George D. Copeland, member of the law firm of Copeland & Barram, left Friday for New York city, where he will consult a specialist in the hope of saving his sight, which has been failing rapidly during the past few weeks. It is reported that one of his eyes is entirely sightless and that the other is becoming weaker. There is little hope of restoring the sight in the one eye.

Mr. Copeland was accompanied to New York by his wife and little daughter.

An Atherton (England) sweep named Joshua Folland was sweeping the chimney of a home which had been unoccupied for some time at High Beckington, when, to his great surprise, he swept down seven full-grown live wild rabbits, which he bagged.

Carr's Trade Letter.

Weekly review of Grain Trade Conditions which are shaping prices prepared for the Mirror by the Farmer Commission House of H. H. Carr & Company, 36 Board of Trade, Chicago Illinois.

Somewhat better weather for harvesting in the Southwest is a feature in the wheat trade at this writing, papers are again filled with talk on both sides of the telegraph strike, which is still pending. Aside from those two features, there is news favorable to buyers from all quarters of the globe. Today London, Paris and Berlin all show strong advance in prices, based on very low supplies, doubtful outlook for the new harvests, especially in England and Germany where excessive rains are doing serious damage. Ross T. Smythe of Liverpool calls the situation "deplorable." In the meantime, early threshing returns at Missouri and Kansas points are very disappointing. The weather over the Northwest has been too cool and dry to force the spring crop along as expected. Reports from that section suggest that the year's yield of spring wheat will be short even with perfect conditions from now until harvest, which is hardly probably. World's stock of wheat decreased over six million bushels for the week. France is again agitating the removal of import duty because of her low supplies. The closing days of the week should see Sept. wheat well over $1, and there to stay.

Prices were advanced to 55 1-4 today for both September and May contracts. We have advised buying May corn since it was at 46 cents a few weeks ago. This month has overtaken the September because the trade and the public see that the 1907 corn crop fall far below that of 1906. This morning the trade had the Illinois State report on corn giving conditions as low as 75, also the Ohio condition as low as 72, and reports from Iowa that much of the corn is not yet 6 inches high. Wisconsin points report poor prospects because seed was put into the ground too late. This backward corn crop is now approaching the most trying period of the year—Extreme heat of July and August. Reports are small and the cash situation is strong. Chicago shipped out 640,000 bushels of corn today. Regardless of the advance already recorded in May corn, believe the crop scares this month and next may easily start buying which may establish even higher prices.

B. W. Snow, the crop expert, figures out the oats yield for the year 850,000,000 bushels. It is doubtful if there will be any such harvest, and urens out the oats yield for the year million bushels short of the official report on the 1906 Illinois report gives conditions at 80, and serious damage from bugs the past month. Receipts are light and stocks decreasing. Oats prices have had very little upturn from recent break and the market is in shape to move up quickly on any good buying. We will gladly furnish on application Market Reports as well as valuable suggestions on shipping and trading to those who are interested in following grain prices, if the name of this paper is mentioned.

CALEDONIA NEWS.

Caledonia, July 6.—The Caledonia Telephone company has completed installing a new switch board in their office with a capacity of two hundred single lines besides a number of toll lines. The work of taking over the plant of the Marion County Company will probably be completed this month.

After the consolidation is completed subscribers in the Caledonia company's system will be charged a toll of five cents to talk to Marion or any place in the western part of the county. This the company says is necessary in order to give good service and keep the plant in shape.

Besides putting in a new switch board the local company is remodeling its office rooms and adding new booths for the convenience of its patrons.

Miss Olive Bayles left Tuesday for the Pacific coast. Special train makes stops all through the Canadian Rockies, and Selkirk. The party will spend some time in Alaska and the Yellowstone, Salt Lake
