MARION TEAM WAS DEFEATED

Ashland Wins Out by 7 to 6 Score.

TIGERS AND MARION

Again Clash Today on Mansfield Diamond.

Sunday the Lime Burners will Play a Doubleheader with Mansfield at Webb Park.

Marion met defeat yesterday afternoon at the hands of the Ashland independent team by a score of 7 to 5. The result did not come as a surprise to local fans as the Ashland aggregation has been winning regularly from other Ohio and Penn. teams that have visited that city this season for exhibition games. Only last Monday, Mansfield was defeated 10 to 1 by the Ashland team.

Teams that have played there say that there is not a ball team on the map that can win out in that man's town. The umpire is the best player on the team and the fact that the score was close proves to those who understand the situation that Marion made the Ashland players trot some to win out.

Blough and Smith were the points for Marion. Doc pitched a good game and would under ordinary circumstances win his game hands down. Marion forged ahead in the final frame, but some terrible decisions allowed the home team to nose out a victory at the very last moment.

Marion and Mansfield will again engage in battle today and unless the Lime Burners can win it is almost certain that the local club will hit the bottom of the heap. Sharon is now but two points ahead and will probably win today and should the locals lose it will be all off. It looks as though the worst is sure to happen.

On Sunday the Lime Burners will play a double header with Mansfield at Webb park and a record breaking attendance is expected despite the poor showing made by the club in the past two weeks. Manager Quinn is hopeful of whipping the club into its stride and of making a good finish. By winning even a fair percentage of its games the club would have no difficulty in finishing in sixth place.

Blough or Fox will work in today's game.

A great deal of interest is being taken by local fans in the American league race. Detroit seems to be pulling away from the crowd while Chicago is dropping back. The Sox are game finishers and at the end they will be up at the top or very close to that coveted position.

NOOKS GET PLAYERS.
 Now Castle, Pa., Aug. 29.—Eli Wooley of this city, who played the first of the season with Leavenworth and Topeka in the Western Association was today signed to finish the season with the Nooks. He will play in the outfield and will greatly strengthen the local team.

NATIONAL LEAGUE NEWS

Catcher McLean of Cincinnati is now wearing his guards.
 Jack Barry is now the only veteran on the St. Louis outfit.
 McGraw's new second baseman, Lawrence Doyle, has been playing very fast ball.
 Barney Dreyfus asked for waivers for Outfielder Hallman, but Cantillon refused.
 Infielder Miller Higgins is now suggested as the possible successor to Ned Hanlon.
 Liefeld is having an erratic time of it this year. When he thinks he is right he goes down to defeat.
 There may be better shortstops than Al Bridwell of Boston—there is none more willing, earnest or loyal to his club.
 McDonald, the New York National Infielder, now playing with the Newark is regarded as a very promising man.
 Ted Sullivan has not yet been mentioned as Hanlon's probable successor in the Cincinnati management, but it is still early.
 Before the season started some one said John Ganzel would not hit 250 for Cincinnati, but his present batting average is .276.
 President Herrman of Cincinnati announces that to date he has only secured Pitcher-Outfielder Mike O'Neil from the Tri-State league.
 One of the best basemen in the Chicago Nationals is a sub-Arthur Hoffman. No wonder Brother George Doney of Boston would like to secure him.

Sporting Gossip.

Grove City College, near Sharon, Pa., claims the honor of having produced more high-class ball players than any small college in the country. Among the prominent professionals turned out there is "Spike" Shannon, the Giants' left fielder. Shannon played three years on the college team and also tackled football. He was considered one of the best players that ever donned the uniform. "Spike" came to college penniless and worked his way through. Last summer he was sold to New York by St. Louis for $10,000. Doc Marshall, the ex-Giant, now with St. Louis Cardinals, spent two years at the college. He was born near the town. Sam Brown, who is playing good ball for the Boston Nationals, was two years at Grove City. Frank Smith, of the World Champion White Sox, pitched his first game at Grove City, as did Mat Eason, recently released by Brooklyn. Charley Jones, of the Washington club, played short stop on the college team for three years. Terry Turner, the lightning short stop of the Cleveland Naps, was born in Grove City and played good ball there till he joined the Columbus club. Other players who started their careers in the vicinity of Grove City, are Socks Seybold, Rhoddy Wallace, Shorty Single, Charley Hemphill and Young Bates, of Boston.

Lew Drill, ex-Tiger catcher and former St. Paul player, is making a great hit in Pueblo, where the fans say he is one of the best managers the team has ever had. Drill took hold of the team when it was hopelessly in last place, and "by his efficient work and knowledge of baseball has made the best team the city has ever boasted of." The team is now climbing up and expects to land about fourth in the Western league team race. A Pueblo paper has this to say of him: "Lew Drill is one of the best men that ever came here to furnish amusement for the sport-loving people of this city. Manager Drill, there is no doubt, has made the team what it is. The players get right down to business under his direction, and the fans all like his style of playing and of handling the men. The most pleasing part of his work shows up in the conduct of the local team on the field. Everyone of them follows his example of gentleness, which has much to do in making baseball one of the best sports of the present day."

Knocking the national game started way back in 1875, and it is no wonder that the "hammer" artists have got it down to a fine science by this time. In the preface to a baseball guide printed in that year the following statement regarding professional ball is made:
 "Owing to abuses which the professional clubs have allowed to creep into their circle a certain prejudice has been created against the existence of this class of ball players. It should be borne in mind, however, that while our game exists there will always be a professional class of its exponents; and the only question to be considered by a majority of the wise fraternity is whether this class shall be encouraged by a liberal recognition and a reputable patronage to play the game in its integrity, or shall by the very reverse action be driven to indulge in the worst phases of professionalism, gambling, frauds and that curse of all sports, 'hippodroming.'"

Professional baseball is an honest sport nowadays. It was purged of any crookedness long ago, and whatever else its faults, it is on the level and appeals to the reputable, intelligent people.

Charley Keith, the Southern league twirler, pitching for Little Rock, who has won a Rhodes scholarship, and who will leave soon for Oxford to take up his new studies, is anxious to get permission to show his throwing qualities before an audience in London. Keith has just won a wager by tossing a ball over a lofty tower in Little Rock. He says he will try to throw a ball over the tower of St. Paul's church when he reaches London if he can get permission from the lord mayor. Duaty Miller, an old-time Cincinnati slider, in Lima, O., threw a baseball over an arc light tower 150 feet in height.

CARNIVAL OF BOXING

Scheduled for Marion, Labor Day.

KNICKEL VS MEREDITH

Men to Meet in ten Round Bout.

Two Six Round Preliminaries will Open up the Program at the Grand, Monday

On the afternoon of Labor Day at the Grand Opera House there will be pulled off one of the most interesting athletic carnivals ever witnessed by the lovers of the manly art of self defense in this city. After hard work on the part of those in charge a bill has been secured that will be worth going many miles to see. The offering will consist of three boxing bouts between some of the cleverest men in the state of Ohio.

The big event will be a ten round go between Clarence Knickle of this city and Kid Meredith, the well known fighter of Toledo. To Marion followers of the roped arena "Kid" Knickle needs no introduction for the manner in which he has walked away with honors at the Columbus meets in which he has participated stamps him as a mighty clever fighter and a youngster who has a bright future. "Kid" Meredith who will be the local man's opponent is well known in the boxing world and has a most enviable record. The Toledo man has for years been a prominent figure in the prize fighting game. Twice he has secured draws with Oscar Gardner, one of the cleverest men of his day, drawn with George Dixon once a world's champion and was given a decision recently over Big Mackey. Meredith has been training for a fight with Joe Cherry at Detroit but as the bout was declared off the local promoters were most fortunate in getting him to come to Marion for the carnival Monday.

The men will meet at about 124 pounds and a rip roaring bout should result. The bell will ring promptly at 3 o'clock and a packed house should be on hand to see the fun. The fact that several thousand visitors will be in the city should make seats in the Grand Monday afternoon well at a premium. Tickets will be fifty cents to all parts of the house, first come first served.

TWO PRELIMINARIES

As curtain raisers to the big event two excellent preliminary bouts will be given both of six rounds duration. The first will be between Tony Nelson of Chicago and Val Potter of Columbus. Both are fast clever boxers and should put up a nice entertaining go. The second number will be a fast one for the contestants are mighty clever boxers. The go is between Kid McLaughlin and Young Nady, both of Columbus. Taken as a whole the bill that will be offered is by far the best ever scheduled for an athletic meet in Marion. Get your tickets early.

BALL PLAYERS OF TO-DAY ARE RULED BY SIGNAL

Latter Understood by All Men of Team—Catcher Keystone of Scientific Game.

In all your experience as a baseball fan you probably have never seen both infielders go to cover second at the same time. There is a reason for this, and it shows how perfect the fielding system has become on well-trained ball clubs.

Formerly it was the rule when a runner was on first for the second baseman to cover second if a right-hand batter was up, and for the shortstop to take it if a left-hand batter was up. That was based on the idea that left-handers hit toward right field and right-handers hit toward left field.

Batters soon became so proficient, however, that they could hit the ball either way and often poked it through the vacant spot left by the infielder when he went to cover the bag. This caused the old rule to be abandoned and new defensive tactics to be introduced to offset the improvement in the offense.

In these days of baseball science the short stop and second baseman work according to the catcher's signals to the pitcher, which every man on the club must understand. For instance, if a left-hand hitter is up and the catcher has signaled for a curve ball, the shortstop will cover, as the batter will almost invariably pull the ball toward right field and the second baseman will be there to stop it. If the catcher should signal for a "fast" ball the second baseman will cover. The contrary of this rule prevails in the case of right-hand batters.

 A "fast" ball cannot be "pulled around" as easily as a curve ball, because it comes on a straight line and with much more speed. The man who intends to cover always sees that his team has heard the signal. He is responsible.
 The pitcher, of course, must understand these rules and must pitch the ball so that it will be hit as near in the direction as possible.

AMERICAN LEAGUE NOTES

Charles Keith, who has qualified as a Rhodes scholar at Oxford from Arkansas, has been sold by Little Rock's Southern league club to the St. Louis club for 1908.
 Eli Cates, a product of Indiana, who has been pitching for the Oakland team in the Pacific league, has been signed by Manager Cantillon.

Bill Purcell of the Decatur, Ill., team has been sold to the Chicago White Sox. The consideration was $3,000 and Purcell is to report to Chicago at the end of the season.
 Dr. White, the Sox crack south-paw pitcher, is an enthusiastic motor cyclist.

Ty Cobb, of Detroit, was presented with a diamond watch fob for making his hundredth hit.
 The Detroit players were given the entire receipts of the game in Waterbury Sunday, July 28.
 "Doc" Newton has been pitching winning ball since his return to the New York Americans.

The Atlanta papers speak highly of Ed Sweeney, the young catcher secured by the Cleveland club.
 Manager Armour, of Toledo, has declined a flattering offer from New York for Josh Clarke and Bill Lattimore.
 Powell and Spencer are said to be the heaviest battery in baseball, having a combined weight of over 400 pounds.

The New York club has signed an infielder named Louding, who hails from Dallas, Tex. He will report on Sept. 8.
 George Suggs, the star pitcher of the Memphis team of the Southern league, has been purchased by the Detroit club.

WHAT CONNIE TOLD RUBE

WADDELL ABOUT FISHING

Eccentric Pitcher Expected a Few Days Off, but Was Cruelly Deceived.

Connie Mack, who doesn't get a heap of newspaper notoriety about being the best manager yet and a lot of more bushwa, but who nevertheless gets there just the same, is one of the quietest individuals in base ball today.
 Of course, there is a skeleton in Connie's closet, and this is nothing more or less than the celebrated Mr. Waddell, whose actions at inopportune moments have caused poor Connie's hair to turn gray.

Still, Rube is a great pitcher yet, and Connie is the only man who can come anywhere near holding the big fellow down.
 The other day Rube began to grow restless, for some one around the hotel told him that the fish were biting well that day, and George Edward wanted to make a try for some members of the fishy tribe.
 So he went to Mack, but his heart failed him when he started to ask for that evening off, and so he thought he would gradually lead up to the subject; kind of feel out Connie, as it were.

Connie was sitting in the lobby of the hotel when found by Rube and he was engaged in discussing the merits of a cigar.
 "Nice day, Connie," broke in George Edward, with a manner meant to be gracious.
 "The day's all right," drawled Mack. "I hear," continued Mr. Waddell, as he sunk into a seat beside his manager, "that the fish are biting like everything to-day."
 "Well," said Connie, who is a wise old owl, as he flicked the ashes from his cigar, "if you go out to the park now with Schreck and help him try out those young recruits of ours—"
 "Yes, yes!" eagerly cried Rube, who was expecting some good news from his silent manager.
 "Why," said Connie, as he blew a cloud of smoke up toward the ceiling, "the fish won't have a chance to bite you."

Youngstown, O., Aug. 28.—Akron solved Schettler in the fourth fifth, sixth and seventh innings, winning easily after the Champs had a lead of two runs in the first inning.

Ostdick retired in the fourth and from then on the Champs began to go down. Mathay made a home run tying the score. Evans was sent on the slab at the start of the eighth and barring wildness did well. He fanned Caffyn with the bases full.
 Youngstown's runs in the first were made on a single by Blount, a triple by Servatius and another single by Thomas. Armstrong was effective after the first inning. Schettler once solved was easy for the visitors. Mathay's home run, which started the defeat, was a fluke, the ball bounding badly to Nallin and going almost to the right field fence. Score:

Increasing Size of Ships.

Some idea of the size of ocean-going ships may be obtained from the following: In 1840 the length of the largest ship in existence was 200 feet; in 1855, 375 feet; in 1881, 525 feet; in 1905, 675 feet; in 1907, 786 feet. The last length cited is that of the Lusitania and Mauritania now building and already there is talk of ships that will be 1,000 feet long.
