CORRUPTION FUNDS AND BENEFITS.

The Republican National campaign fund expended by Chairman Cortelyou, for the Roosevelt election is reputed to have been a little more than $4,000,000. Where and how did they get it? The official evidence in the Life Insurance investigating showed that part of it came from the trust funds of policy holders that should have been sacred to widows and orphans; that Harriman, who the President now charges is an undesirable citizen, gave $50,000 that the discredited Depew have $25,000 and his friends in Wall Street about $100,000 more. That Mr. Rogers of the Standard Oil Trust and Mr. Stillman, President of the National City—the Rockefeller—Bank and a number of other trust and corporation magnates where also subscribers is charged and not disproven and where the other millions came from is not certainly known, but large amounts were undoubtedly paid by the protected trusts which have always been liberal producers of corruption funds to keep their Republican friends in office. That is the chief reason the tariff has not been revised. The other contributors have also had their quid pro quo, for no one seriously believes that the Standard Oil Trust will ever pay the fine assessed against it. We know that Harriman will get immunity. We know that Depew was elected Senator by the aid of the Administration. We know that the Standard Oil banks have large government deposits, without interest, and when the names of the other subscribers are divulged there will probably be no difficulty in tracing favors received. Does not this evidence of the trusts and corporations having paid these large sums to the Roosevelt campaign fund plainly show that the charge made by Judge Parker just before the election of 1904 was true although President Roosevelt denied it. Yet no restitution of the widows and orphans funds has ever been made by the Republican National Committee, and President Roosevelt has never made the amende honorable to Judge Parker, or even a poor excuse which would be better than none. It is quite probable that the same dastardly tactics will be resorted to in coming elections and this evidence of Republican corruption and dishonesty is produced to prevent voters from being again deceived in the same or some similar manner. When you see or hear of large amounts of money being expended at some future election, just ask yourself the question. Where and how did they get it?

With Governor Steunenberg laid low by an assassin's hand, District Attorney Ruick might have had sufficient respect for the dead man and for his family to refrain from publishing the fact that the former governor had been indicted for land frauds.

A new Standard Oil company which will take the dear public into its confidence is proposed. That is not what the people want. They desire to find out all they can about the old Standard.

The fatal football season is rapidly approaching, but if more men are injured than have been in the Marion baseball team, the year will be a disastrous one.

The idea of a Standard Oil company which will crush the life out of a competitor.

If every concern which has jumped prices recently is indicted and convicted, penal institutions will soon be crowded.

What Others Say.

SLEEP.

Many lives might be saved if people in general would sleep with their heads at the foot of their beds. The housekeeper with an eye to appearances puts the head of the bed in the corner of the room or at the side furthest from the window. The sleeper gets no fresh air and the light shines annoyingly in his eyes, unless he still further excludes ventilation with a drawn curtain. The room "looks nice" but the occupant dies of consumption.

The best place for a sleeper's head is in a direct line between two wide-open windows on opposite sides of the room. Few city dwellers can have rooms with windows on two sides; but it is usually possible to draw the bed about so that the nose is close to a window, which should be opened winter and summer to its utmost capacity and unobstructed by shades. The nearer like an open tent the room can be made the better.

There is no virtue in discomfort. Sleeping without a pillow on a hard mattress is unwise. In a campaign it is the recruit who tries to insure himself to hardships. The veteran gets what comfort he can. Necessarily in a temperate climate fresh air is cold in winter, but there can be no objection to artificial heat in the open windowed bedroom; the best is an open wood fire, which ventilates the room by creating an up-draft. If possible a thoroughly warmed dressing room should be provided. In any case there should be no plumbing in the bedroom itself.

A bedroom should have neither photographs and all sorts of trash tacked to the wall, is an unsanitary abomination. The philosopher Herbert Spencer had ear-muffs which he wore whenever in society the conversation failed to interest him. Some such device to deaden the murderous noises of a city would be a blessing to many light sleepers. Some have used with advantage a very small square light pillow placed over the upper ear so as not to interfere with breathing. This does not shut out but deadens the din of the streets.

Only by abundant sleep in favorable conditions can the worker indoors reasonably hope to rival the health of the fortunate outdoor man, whose life approaches the natural conditions in which the race was planned to thrive.—New York World.

YOUNG WOMAN'S BODY FOUND IN A TRUNK

The Police are Working on the Theory That Frank Covington, Formerly of Louisville, Kentucky, Committed the Murder—Trunk Containing the Body is Washed Ashore at Seattle and Identification is Complete.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 24.—The police have positively identified the body of the dead woman found stuffed in a trunk east upon the beach at South Alki, as that of Mrs. Agnes Treuman McCombs Covington, 17 years old. The woman had been strangled to death. She was the wife of Frank Covington, for several months employed as salesman by the Dilsheimer Liquor company, 1115 First avenue, Seattle. Covington is missing and the police are looking for him. Acquaintances say they have not seen him for a week. The body in the trunk had been dead at least a week.

Mrs. Covington was the daughter of Truman McCombs, who lives near Vernon, B. C. Her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Robinson, her aunt Miss Jennie Robinson, all live in Seattle, where the dead woman's grandmother runs a lodging house. Covington is about 23 years old. He is said to have come to Seattle two years ago from Louisville, Ky.

A letter from St. Paul under date of April 11, 1906, apparently written by Covington's sister, Edith Covington, was found in the trunk with the body. The letter was addressed to Frank Covington, and the publication of excerpts from the letter in the morning papers led to the woman's positive identification by her uncle, George Robinson.

Miss Jennie Robinson, an aunt, was not so certain of the identification. The police are working on the theory that Covington is the murderer.

The only plausible motive so far advanced for the crime is that the murder followed a violent quarrel. Mrs. M. Pulmer of 510 Fifth avenue, who conducts a lodging house at 916 Fifth avenue said today that Covington and his wife lived there several months. During that time they fought and quarreled almost every day.

Their disturbances became so annoying that Mrs. Palmer a month ago was compelled by other roomers to order them out. At this point they went to a rooming house at Ninth avenue and Pearl street. They left there about 10 days ago, and the police have lost track of them.

Information, however, that appears to come as reliable is that after leaving the house at Ninth and Pearl the Covingtons went to South Alki and lived in a tent. The police are now trying to determine if that is true. It is found that they did not live at South Alki, the police are confident that the murder was committed in the tent there, and in order to attempt to cover up the crime the body was stuffed in the trunk and deposited in the bay. The trunk is an old-fashioned round top receptacle. The Covingtons had that particular kind of a trunk when they lived at Fifth and Madison streets.

PEACE HAS BEEN DECLARED IN MOROCCO

Delegates of Three of the Most Important Tribes Have Agreed to the French Proposals and Two Notables of Each Tribe Will be Surrendered as Hostages.

Paris, Sept. 24.—Peace has been declared in Morocco. The delegates of three important tribes have accepted the French peace overture inaugurated yesterday and will see that the terms of the agreement are carried out. Hostilities are now at an end.

The government received with great satisfaction a dispatch from Rear Admiral Philibert, the commander of the French naval forces in Moroccan waters, saying that as a result of the conference at General Drude's headquarters three tribes have accepted unconditional peace terms offered by France. These are as follows:

Hostilities shall cease from today. General Drude may make military reconnaissances throughout the territory of the three tribes to satisfy himself that the pacification is complete; the tribes engage themselves to disperse and elude all armed bodies that may assemble in their territory with hostile intent; cession of arms or munitions of war every native found in the possession within 10 miles of Casablanca shall be handed over to the sheriff authorities, condemned to imprisonment and fined $200; the tribes shall be held responsible for stipulation; every native detected in smuggling or using arms shall be punished.

The delegates of the tribes undertake to surrender the authors of the 30, and, pending the judgment, outrages upon Europeans of July their goods shall be seized and sold irrespective of the indemnity which is to be paid, the amount of which shall be fixed by the Moroccan government; the Chaouia tribes shall pay a large indemnity, the part of each tribe to be apportioned according to the length of time it resisted the French. In addition, the Chaouia tribes shall pay a contribution toward the harbor works at Casablanca.

To secure the carrying out of this convention two notables of each tribe shall be given up as hostages. The delegates of the Oul-essayan, Zenata and Zayida tribes immediately named their hostages and signed the capitulation.

RESULT OF YELLOW BACKED NOVELS

Medina Girl Admits That She Wrote the Notes, Chained Herself and Gave Out the Story of Assault Merely to Create Excitement—Posse Members Return to the Furrow.

Medina, O., Sept. 24.—Edith Mohler, thirteen year old daughter of a farmer, concluded, after reading a few yellow backed novels, that the countryside was too quiet. So she wrote herself a few threatening notes and later was found chained, gagged and bound in her father's barn. She told a thrilling story of attack by a masked man, and immediately saw all the excitement any girl could ask. Armed men, with bloodhounds, tore over the country, after her assailant. Sheriff's deputies galloped over the country roads. But the bloodhounds, after chasing two or three inoffensive farmers, gave up in disgust. The posse of 200 men, tried out, went to bed.

The county sheriff finally put the little girl on the grill, in the presence of her parents, and she confessed that it was all a hoax, invented to stir up a little excitement in the neighborhood. She had done the binding, note writing, etc., and the bad masked man was a creature of her imagination. Then the posse went back to the neglected fall plowing.

OLDEST PRESBYTERIAN MINISTER RESIGNS

Congress, O., Sept. 24.—After preaching continuously for sixty years, Dr. Alex. Scott, eighty-seven, who was honored by the Presbyterian general conference as the oldest minister, in active service in the country, has resigned his pastorate.

WAS ELECTROCUTED IN A FLOODED BASEMENT

New York, Sept. 24.—Pierre Colman, an employe in Charles Reilly's auto garage at 71 Graham avenue, Williamsburg had occasion yesterday to go into the basement of the establishment and search around for a section of steel shafting. The heavy rain had flooded the cellar. Colman waded into the water.

The water was heavily charged with electricity. His cries were heard by other employes who pulled him out of the water, but he died before an ambulance arrived.

The insulation around an electric cable that ran along the floor of the cellar had worn away and in this way the water had become charged.

LANDIS INDIGNANT

Mention of Him for the Presidency is no Music in His Ears.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—Judge Kenesaw M. Landis today gave a death blow to the plans of politicians to make capital out of his popularity because of his rulings on the federal bench. When asked if he would discuss the rumors that he will be tendered the Democratic nomination for president, Judge Landis said in a voice that seemed to ring with actual pain:

"Don't! Don't say anything about that. It is almost an impeachment of my judicial honor. To assume that I would accept political preferment as a reward for anything I might do on the bench is to impeach my integrity as a man and my honor as a judge. No, sir, I won't dignify the rumor by discussing it."

RIOTING IN PRUSSIA

Police Attempt to Break up a Miners' Meeting and Two Men are Killed

Berlin, Sept. 24.—Severe rioting among the miners at Moers, Prussia, is reported. A mass meeting which was being held was attacked by the police who attempted to disperse the crowd. The miners resisted and fighting followed, in which two were killed and fourteen wounded while the police had one killed and two hurt.

The interior of the railroad station where the meeting was being held was demolished.

LAUNCH EXPLODES

Four of the Twenty-two Passengers Lose Their Lives in the Ohio.

Gallipolis, O., Sept. 24.—The gasoline yacht Blanche M., while carrying an excursion party of twenty-two men including the Harrisville, West Virginia, brass band, blew up and burned at 10 o'clock Monday night at Gallipolis Island.

The lost on the Blanche M. are: John Edwards, thirty-eight, clerk in the Gallipolis postoffice; J. R. Simmons, druggist, Harrisville, West Virginia; E. H. Brake, assistant cashier, Harrisville First National bank; J. Willis Fiddler, postmaster, Harrisville; and secretary of the West Virginia congressional committee.

None of the bodies have been recovered, Edgar Goodwin and Circuit Clerk Harvey E. McGinnis were badly burned County clerk W. E. Meserve suffered from the water and was nearly drowned when rescued. Captain Grant Haines stayed with the boat until all the passengers had been picked up by a boy in a skiff, who happened near. Many had to swim to shore and some were nearly drowned before being rescued. How anyone escaped the flames is due to the fact that all but two were blown overhead by the explosion. The boat was burned to the water's edge in five minutes.

A lantern fell into the hold of the boat, causing the explosion.

fact that Robert W. Goeliet made a special trip from Europe to assist in unseating him as evidence that the control of the Illinois Central by the Union Pacific was regarded as important.

"The Union Pacific although owning but 30 per cent. of the capital stock accomplish their purpose by influencing certain of your directors, which in view of the tremendous speculation going on in New York last year, was not difficult. My protest as the owner of 12,462 shares, and as one who had been charged for 20 years with the responsibilities attaching to your presidency, is and has been throughout solely against this attempt to thus control your company in the interest of the Union Pacific."

Chicago, Sept. 24.—A few flakes of snow fell here late yesterday. The fall was not sufficiently large to be recognized by the weather bureau, but for several minutes it was plainly visible in the air.
