

THE TIGERS DROP ANOTHER.

THE CUBS WIN THE THIRD GAME
BY A SCORE OF 6 TO 1.

A COLD AND RAINY DAY.

Overall and Donovan Pitted Against Each Other in the Box—Rossman Drove in the Only Run Detroit Got.

Detroit, Oct. 12.—In the first game of the world's championship series on their own field, the Detroit American league team was beaten Friday afternoon by the Chicago Nationals by the score of 6 to 1. It was a well deserved victory for the Chicago team, as it played superior ball throughout the game. There were several errors of omission on the part of the Detroit team, beside the two errors scored against them which figured in the Chicago run-making.

It was anything but baseball weather. The temperature ranged between 46 and 50 degrees during the game, with a cold 12-miles wind from the north blowing across the diamond. Several times there were showers of rain, one while Chicago was batting in the fifth inning being so heavy that it was necessary to interrupt play for 15 minutes. Again in the seventh inning there was a sharp shower for a few moments, but it did not continue long enough to postpone the game. Attendance was a disappointment, reaching only 11,396. The raw cold day probably had some effect in holding down the attendance, no doubt, together with dissatisfaction with the arrangements governing the sale of tickets.

Detroit looked dangerous and bunched hits during the fourth when with two out, Cobb's fine three bagger was followed by two singles, which, however, scored but one run, O'Leary striking out with the bases full.

The Detroit team did not show at any time during the afternoon the snap and dash in their work which marked their playing during the American league playing season here. Detroit scored its only run in the fourth. With two out Cobb drove a splendid triple to the crowd in center field, getting a three-base hit under the ground rules. Rossman followed with a single and scored him. Then Coughlin singled and Schmidt walked. The crowd was on the throne of expectancy and shouting for O'Leary to clear the bases, but he struck out.

Rossman continued his fine work at first base and drove in Detroit's only run with his single after Cobb had tripled. Donovan gave but two bases on balls, the same number which Overall did, but both the Detroit pitcher's games developed into runs, while neither of Overall's gifts was expensive.

Capt. Chance, of the Chicago team, was hit on the right hand by an in-shoot while at bat in the opening inning and both his second and third finger were badly crushed. The game was stopped when they were dressed, but Capt. Chance said he feared the injury might prevent his playing today. Just before play was called at 2 o'clock, Manager Jennings was called to the plate, where Mayor Thompson presented to him from local admirers a lifetime floral tiger and a gold watch.

The total receipts were $17,285.50, and they were divided as follows: The players $9,334.17, the national commission $1,728.55 and the Detroit and Chicago club owners $5,111.33 each.

A Guesome Find.

Philadelphia, Oct. 12.—Following the report made to the coroner of this city Thursday of the finding of the body of a young woman in the Delaware river by the crew of a dredge, the recovery of the legless body of a man from the same stream near Paulsboro, N. J., Friday night, has caused much comment. The dredging crew, through Capt. Thompson, the government engineer, reported, that the body of the young woman brought up had been in a burlap bag, which broke and permitted the body to fall back into the water. The body of the man found in the river was picked up by the crew of a tug. It is that of a man about 39 years old. The legs had been covered close to the body. No clothing was on the body save an undershirt.

REVIEW OF TRADE CONDITIONS.

GENERAL BUSINESS IS MAKING GOOD PROGRESS.

SECURITIES HAVE FALLEN

To the Lowest Point Since 1904—Many Contemplated Undertakings Await More Normal Financial Conditions—Business Failures.

New York, Oct. 12.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: A larger volume of business is being transacted than at this time last year, although conditions in 1906 were most favorable, and there is now the handicap of almost prohibitive rates for commercial paper. Many contemplated undertakings await more normal financial conditions, and securities have fallen to the lowest point since 1904, but general business throughout the country makes fairly good progress.

Retailers report a very brisk movement of seasonable merchandise and jobbers continue to forward supplementary consignments, but reports of collections are irregular.

In agricultural districts the marketing of the crops at high prices makes the payments satisfactory, but at many eastern centers there is complaint of delay in settlements.

Several strikes are still retarding progress, but most industrial plants are well occupied and are assured of continued activity up to the end of the year at least.

Consumers anticipate more attractive terms in the pig iron market and consequently defer the placing of orders, but most furnaces are still sold up to the end of the year so that few concessions are offered. It is evident that there is no fear of over-production, as the number of furnaces in blast increased on October 1.

In some divisions of the steel market there is an increase of volume of new business, but other plants find much delay in the placing of contracts, although a considerable tonnage is under consideration.

Cotton mills continue well occupied. There is still much idle machinery at woolen mills, men's wear products being the most uncertain section, while the statistics of the worsted manufacturer is practically determined.

New England shoe factories benefited by the strike at St. Louis, which sent many orders to the east. Business failures in the United States for the week ending October 10 numbered 192, against 177 last week.

Boston, Oct. 12.—The local American league team won its fifth successive victory over the Nationals Friday, 6 to 3. Lindeman was hit hard in spots, but poor support was mainly the cause of his defeat.

AGAINST CHILD LABOR, EVIL

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY EPIS-COPAL CONVENTION.

MARRIAGE OF DIVORCEES.

Utmost Vigilance in the Church in Securing Safeguards for the Sanctity of the Marriage
Vow is Urged.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 12.—Greater activity in restricting the marriage of divorcees, a more widespread movement against the child labor evil, the adoption of the much mooted phrase "this American church" in a preamble to the constitution, and the question of providing for suffragan bishops as against missionary bishops were among the matters argued in Friday's proceedings of the triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America. Both houses were in session and a number of the auxiliary organizations held meetings.

The constitutional preamble was voted on by divoices and adopted by the house of deputies after an hour's discussion. The preamble was the subject of a very vigorous controversy among the clergy and lay delegates, the advocates taking the position that the phraseology "this American church" does not involve a change of name and the opponents claiming to the contrary.

In the house of deputies the report of the committee on marriage and divorce was read, it being practically the same as that presented to the house of bishops several days ago in which the activity of all Christian bodies in restricting the marriage of divorced persons is highly endorsed. It urges the utmost vigilance and discipline in the church in securing the most perfect safeguards for the sanctity of the marriage vows.

The house of bishops adopted the following resolution presented by Bishop Greer, of New York: "Whereas, the evil of the child labor law is apparently on the increase in the United States and it is known that the employment of children in factories, mines and shops reduces wages to the child's standard, degrades the family, deprives the child of natural rights to a period of training and depresses the human stock; and whereas, we realize the profound responsibility of the church for our ethical as well as our spiritual standards, therefore,

"We call upon employers and parents to exercise their influence toward better legislation and better enforcement of the laws; to the end that the exploitation of the labor of children shall become impossible in this Christian country."

The resolution will be presented to the house of deputies to-day.

ACCIDENT ON A BOAT.

Steam Pipe Bursts, Causing Death of
Two Men and Badly Scald-ing Another.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 12.—The propeller City of Naples, of the Gilchrist fleet, came into port Friday night with two of her crew dead and one of her officers badly scalded. The dead are:

Louis Hornbushe, a fireman, of Milwaukee.
James Planagan, a coal passer, of Buffalo.

Injured: First Engineer Louis Fittinger, of Buffalo, badly scalded about feet and legs.

The City of Naples was off Long Point about 3 o'clock Friday morning. There was a stiff, cold blowing and the sea was running high. Hornbushe and Planagan were stoking and Fittinger was in charge of the engines. A 5 1/2 inch steam pipe between the boilers and engine burst, sending a cloud of scalding steam and water down into the boiler room. Deprived of her power, the Naples swung into the trough of the sea and began to roll heavily. The coal in the bunkers where Hornbushe and Planagan had fled to escape the boiling steam, suddenly shifted burying the two men. The boiling water poured in upon them, scalding them to death.

First Engineer Fittinger, who went below to rescue his two men, stepped into a foot of boiling hot water. He managed to return to the deck unaided.

The City of Naples drifted helplessly until daylight, when she was picked up by a propeller and towed into port.

Columbus, O., Oct. 12.—Secretary of State Thompson, as state supervisor of elections, has made the general ruling that October 21 will be, this year, the last day upon which petitions nominating candidates may be filed. WENT IN WRONG DIRECTION.

Young Man's Meddling With Auto
Might Have Proved Disastrous.

A young man in Springfield, Mass., recently learned a lesson on the wisdom of leaving an automobile alone when knowing nothing about it, and by good luck an accident was averted which might have been checked up to the dangers of motoring. An automobile with two occupants stopped at a market at the brow of a hill, and while one of the young men entered the store, the other, who was plainly a novice in handling a machine, began to work at the various levers to see if he could start it. He succeeded, but instead of going forward the car proceeded to go backward, and before the meddling one realized it the car had gathered considerable momentum down hill. Not knowing how to work the brakes, and afraid to try any of the other levers, he cried for help. Three or four men in the road saw his plight, and by their efforts managed to stop the car just as the driver emerged from the store. When he discovered the missing car he delivered a sharp lecture to his companion who tried to learn what made the wheels go round and jumping in, drove rapidly away.

SENT IT TO THE BAR.

Orchestra Leader Misread Request for Schubert's Serenade.

While dining at one of the hotels recently a Washington girl said to her escort, "I wish that orchestra would play Schubert's 'Serenade.'" "All we've got to do is to have the waiter tell the orchestra leader," said the man. "But you'd better write it. The waiter will be sure to get the message wrong if you don't." So on the back of an envelope the young woman wrote, in a beautiful angular hand her request for Schubert's "Serenade," and told the waiter to take it to the leader. The waiter was gone a long time, but at last he appeared with a foaming beaker. "It took some time," he said apologetically. "I understood you to tell me the message was for the orchestra leader, so I took it to him. He read what you wrote and then laughed and told me to carry the order to the bar, for that was the place to get a seltzer lemonade." And angular writing had scored another triumph.

Gallion, O., Oct. 12.—Albert Leppert, aged 16, was killed Friday morning by a Big Four train which backed upon him at a crossing.

HAS A MECHANICAL FACE.

French Surgeon Exhibits Subject of Remarkable Operation.

Paris, France.—In consequence of the bursting of a gun while out shooting, a man had his chin, the lower part of his jaw, a portion of his tongue and the whole of his upper jaw and nose blown away. Dr. Delafaye of the French Academy of Medicine, has replaced the missing organs by artificial parts, and his work, which is considered a marvel of mechanical ingenuity, has been exhibited before the academy.

From 10 to 15 feet distance, even in a well-lighted room, the mechanical face appears quite natural, and the man is able to masticate his food and speak with comparative ease. Every day he takes off his artificial face and washes it with soap and water. This face consists of four parts. The first is a silver groove, into which some of the lower teeth are fixed. This is attached to a dental apparatus of tin, into which are fixed the remaining teeth. The second piece consists of a dental apparatus in vulcanite and gold for the upper nine teeth. This is fitted in two small protuberances, which fit into the nasal cavities. This also fills up the right sinus, which was smashed in. At the back is a piece of gold mechanism with hooks, used to fasten on the face pieces. The third piece of the mechanical face consists of the chin and lower lip. This is of India rubber, painted to resemble nature.

Over the chin a false beard is fixed. At the back are a couple of small bolts, which pass through holes of the teeth and fix the lip to the artificial lower jaw. The fourth and last piece of the apparatus consists of the upper lip and goose, also in India rubber, and painted, to which is attached a false mustache. At the back are two small clasps, to which the upper piece and jaw are fixed.

MEN IN BEAUTY SHOW.

Japanese and a Jamaica Negro
Among the Competitors.

London, Eng.—Folkstone has just done something original in the line of beauty shows. Under the auspices of the town council 1,500 spectators gathered at the Victoria Pier pavilion to vote on the handsomest man among the 60 competitors exhibited on the stage. Among the 60 were a Japanese, a Hussar and two big men of the Fifty-fourth battery, R. H. A., two stately visitors from Cornwall, Isle of Man, and Norwich, and a Jamaica negro.

The competitors regarded the situation very seriously and without coquetry. When the curtain went up the audience beheld a pale young man standing in a velvet frame. He was very serious—indeed, the more serious a competitor appeared the merrier grew the audience. Occasionally the gallery became personal and called attention to what it considered physical shortcomings of the competitors. When all was over the prizes were awarded with much hilarity, five young women having in the meantime kept account of the votes. The first prize winner was Serg. W. T. Hodgetts, Seventh Hussars, School of Musketry, Hythe. The second prize went to Bernard Fudge of 5 Elm terrace, Constantine road, Hampstead, and the third prize was won by Herbert Pudell of 75 Lupus street, Pimlico.

Haunted House is Sold.

Chicago.—Haunted by the gruesome memories of wife murder, the home of Adolph Luetgert, scene of one of the greatest murder mysteries of Chicago, has been sold.

The building, which formerly stood at 207 Hermitage avenue, in rear of the factory where Luetgert is said to have disposed of the remains of his wife in the sausage making vats has been moved to Diversey Boulevard, near Paulina street, by August Blain, its purchaser. A new coat of paint and a thorough renovation is believed to have so changed it that not even the ghost of Mrs. Luetgert, which once was said to haunt it, will know it again.

For years after the murder the house was vacant, and when tenants appeared they remained only a short time. Even after Luetgert died at Joliet penitentiary no one could be found who wanted to live in the house. The factory itself was partly destroyed by fire. It is now used as a woodworking plant.

Eight Suffer for Boy's Fault.

Norfolk, Va.—Blazing away with a shotgun at a boy who was robbing his melon patch, R. T. Powell, a farmer near here, injured eight employees of the Jamestown exposition, who were en route for the fair grounds on a trolley car.

The boy jumped from the car when it halted on a switch to wait for signals. In the fusillade which followed his raid on the melon patch he escaped uninjured.

The victims were shot about the face, one of them, a young woman, is in a serious condition. The farmer will be arrested.

BACON A HERO

He Saves Two Harvard College Young Men From Watery Graves

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 12.—Assistant Secretary of State Robert Bacon yesterday afternoon rescued two Harvard students from drowning in the Charles river.

Secretary Bacon has been in Cambridge visiting his son at Harvard. Yesterday afternoon he was in a launch following the varsity crew, which was out on a practice row.

On the return, just after leaving the Cottage Farm bridge, a canoe was seen in which were two Harvard students. Just as the varsity launch came abreast of the canoe the latter capsized. One of its occupants clung to the overturned canoe but the other, who was unable to swim, sank twice, and was on the point of going down again when Mr. Bacon stripped off his coat and plunged into the river to his rescue. J. R. Reid, a sophomore, who is a candidate for manager of the crew, also jumped to the assistance of the helpless student. They had to swim about 30 feet before reaching the man and succeeded in keeping him afloat until the varsity launch could be brought alongside.

COULD USE ANOTHER ONE.

His Attention Called to Matter, Inebriate Felt Chilly.

J. N. Barr, director general of the Jamestown exposition, said last month of a proposed addition to the exposition's rules:

"I am against this addition. I am sure it would be worthless. In fact, it would be as worthless as the drunken man's request."

"There was, you know, a drunken man who threw himself, one chilly autumn night, under a cart to sleep off his debauch."

"A watchman approached, prodded the drunkard with his stick, and said: 'What are you doing under that cart, you poor fellow?'"

"Just sleeping," was the calm reply.

"But," said the watchman, "isn't it cold?"

"The other shivered."

"I do feel rather chilly," he said.
