A magnificent replica of the steps, exterior and garden of Haddon Hall will be presented at the Grand Opera House, on Saturday night, when Miss Blanca West appears as Dorothy O' the Hall.

CAPTAIN WILLIAM PARKER POTTER.

CATARRH BLOOD UNHEALTHY SYSTEM DERANGED

The entire inner portion of the body is covered with mucous membrane; this membranous tissue is abundantly supplied with blood vessels, veins, arteri, and capillaries. Each of these is constantly supplying to this tissue or lining, blood to nourish and strengthen it and keep the system healthy. When the blood becomes infected with catarrhal matter it is not able to furnish the required amount of healthful properties, but feeds the parts with impurities which disease the membranes and tissues so that they become irritated and inflamed, and Catarrh, with all its disagreeable and dangerous symptoms, is established in the system. There is a constant ringing in the ears, a thin, watery discharge from the nostrils, the breath has an offensive odor, slight fever often accompanies the disease, and gradually the entire health becomes affected and the system upset and deranged. In its earlier stages, when Catarrh is confined to the nose and throat, sprays, washes, inhalations, etc., are soothing and in a way beneficial, because they are clean and usually antiseptic, but such treatment has no curative effect, because it does not reach the blood. To cure Catarrh the blood must be purified, and this is just what S. S. S. does. It goes down into the circulation and attacks the disease at its foundation; it removes the cause and makes the blood pure and healthy. The blood vessels are filled with fresh, oxygenated blood, which is carried to all the mucous surfaces and linings, the inflammation and irritation are corrected, the symptoms all disappear, the health is improved and Catarrh is permanently cured. Book on Catarrh and any medical advice free to all who write.

Sporting Gossip.

Pitchers come close to being the decisive factors in baseball, after all is said and done. Batting by the teams is so much a matter of the form shown by the opposing pitchers that it is hard to arrive at a balance between the effectiveness of the pitcher and that of the batters. The only way to judge of the real batting ability of a team is by the work it does against pitchers of known efficiency, as teams and batters which hold good records with the stick in some cases do not do good pitching, but fatten their records against that of the weaker kind. That pitching holds the preponderance in the game over batting is shown by the fact that the best batters are doing well when they get one hit out of three times at bat, and that when a pitcher is going at his best even the best batters fail to hit them successfully. One of the troubles in reaching a true balance in the relative importance of pitching, betting and fielding is that there is not always good pitching when the number of hits are small. There are two reasons for this. One is that the pitcher does not work with his fielders, and not a few errors are really due to bad pitching. The other is that pitchers do not always play their part in stopping base running. The catcher plays an important part in this latter respect in throwing to bases, but the pitcher is, if anything, of more importance still. The catcher must depend to no small extent upon him to hold men close to base, and he can prevent the batter from helping the base runner to advance by using the right kind of delivery. When a pitcher is twirling good ball, not only in the way of holding down the hits, but also in helping his fielders and catcher along, and doing his share in preventing base running, it is a poor team indeed which is not able to win.

If experience counts, Tom Brown the new American league umpire, should make good easily. Brown worked in the Tri-State league until the season ended, when he was appointed by Ben Johnson and officiated in a few games before the season closed. Brown played baseball, starting out with Providence in 1882 and finishing the season with Baltimore sent an intimation of the frame of mind of our players to the conservators of the code, the rules committee of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, Scotland. In the friendly reply the chairman said that a draft would be sent to the American committee for amendments and new suggestions. Furthermore, a member of the St. Andrews club in this country has been elected to the rules committee. Many of our golfers believe that it will be idle to tinkering the old code again. Originally framed to suit conditions on a few Scottish links, the revisions of every five or ten years have not clarified the rules, and in some instances have created a conflict of judgments. "The rules have been added to, subtracted and divided enough," to quote an American player, "and it is time for a new set." But there must be no change in the old golf!

WANT A PUGILIST TEACHER.

Fighting Son of a Preacher is Licked in Calhoun School.

Marshall, Mich. — "Wanted — A pugilist capable of teaching a rural school of ten unruly farmer boys, who need a good thrashing," is an advertisement that School Commissioner Miller would like to place in the city papers if he dared. The school in Leos township in which the teacher, Clarence Schamehorn, of Battle Creek, son of a Methodist preacher, taught, is in need of just such a teacher. Schamehorn started to clean up the entire bunch the other day, but there were too many of them, and he claims he can't stand for a ten to one shot anyway, and so has resigned.

Schamehorn says he is the fighting son of a preacher, and stood the ill treatment as long as he could, and when he whipped one of the boys too severely he was too angry to realize what he was doing. The school has worn out three teachers in a year and a half. Any pugilist who can secure a certificate to teach and wants a little training, together with plain food of the farm, apply to the commissioner of schools and get a job at most any price.

Pain Kills Some People

Pain kills many people from the simple fact that it wears them out, robs them of peace of mind by day and rest by night. All the opiates in the world will not cure it. The condition calls for a nerve tonic that will give strength and resistive power to the nervous system, and enable it to throw off the troubles. Dr. A. W. Chase, of 105 Granger St., Syracuse, N. Y., tells you clearly just how she obtained a positive result in her case. She says: "I was always nervous, but of late years I could not sleep, was intensely nervous, ringing sounds in the ears and sharp noises and pain in my head at night. My strength was very decreased, had attacks of vertigo when I was so dizzy I had to catch hold of something until it passed off. This condition certainly needed attention as it was growing steadily worse. Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills were recommended to me and I used them. The results were splendid—the nerves became quiet—the noises, pain and ringing in the head together with the dizzy spells disappeared completely and I began to sleep well again. The general strength came back and as a result I feel well every day again." See a box at all dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase's Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. TOM BROWN

He played with Columbus in 1883 and 1884, and then graduated into the National league, playing with the Boston Nationals in 1885-9. In 1890 he was a member of the Boston Brotherhood team, and a year later he associated himself with the Boston American Association Reds. Since 1892 he has played with Louisville and St. Louis, managed Washington, Springfield and Denver clubs, until 1902, when he branched out as a National league umpire. In 1903 he was an Eastern league official, and in 1904 handled the indicator in the Pacific Coast league. He put in an idle year in 1905, but last year and this season he did excellent work in the Tri-State league.

American golfers are yearning for a simplification of the rules. They want to walk the links in calmness and serenity, untroubled by the complications of a mixed and confusing code. Not long ago the executive committee of the United States Golf association
