PLAYS & PLAYS

No melodrama more thoroughly depicts a thrilling episode from real life than "A Desperate Chance" which the Majestic Amusement Co. will present at the Grand Opera House on Friday evening, October 31. The theme of "A Desperate Chance" has been evolved from the sensational murder, escape and recapture, in which the notorious Biddle Brothers figured as principals. This material in the hands of no less dramatist than Theodore Kremercombins in making a play that is thrilling in the extreme, one that holds the audience breathless from the rise of the curtain to the final climax.

"BLACK CROOK, JR." Illusions of beauty are realistically portrayed in the offering of "The Black Crook, Jr.," the merry meritorious attraction holding the boards of the Grand Opera House tomorrow night.

Much has been said about the lavishness of this production and it is hardly necessary to give the numerous prominent features depicted

The flight and pursuit are accurately portrayed as is also the subsequent capture of the desperately wounded convicts. In the End,

Y. M. C. A. HAPPENINGS

At volley ball in the Y. M. C. A. gym last night Geran's team defeated Sycks' crowd and Brady's aggregation went down in the dust before Clark's last five. The games were very interesting and the play was fast and furious. The scores: Geran 18, 18, 12; Sycks, 16, 16, 18. Second series: Brady 18, 13, 6; Clark 5, 18, 18.

The entries for the Association single and the two-man bowling tournament, which is to be pulled off next week, are coming fast and it promises to be one of the biggest bowling events ever held in the city.

BOBBY QUINN VISITS MARION

Wants Release From Local Team.

THINKS WELL OF O'DAY

Who Will Probably be Chosen Manager.

Quinn Says That an Outlaw League Will be Formed—Release Not Granted.

"O'Day is a great ball player, a good manager, and a great judge of a player should make a first class manager for the Lime Burners of 1908," was the statement made by Bobby Quinn, the popular center fielder of this year's club this morning at the Majestic hotel.

Bobby came over from Zanesville to call on the directors of the local club in regard to his release. Bob wants to be released from the local team because he has an opportunity to play for a much larger salary in another place. Just where he intends to sign is not stated, but it is believed to be with a club in the east.

Quinn states that he is not acquainted with Charles M. O'Day who will probably manage the Marion club next year, but that he has seen him play on a number of occasions and is acquainted with a number of ball players who have played with him. He thinks that with a few changes the Lime Burners will have an excellent opportunity to cop the rag in 1908 and the chances are that Bob will be a member of the team for the directors have not yet consented to give him his release and it is hardly likely that such action will be taken.

Quinn is authority for the statement that an effort is being made to organize an outlaw league throughout the eastern part of the state with probably one or two cities in Western Pennsylvania included. The movement is said to be far underway and the thing will be sprung on the public within a short time. In the event that the league is organized it will be a dangerous rival of the Ohio-Pennsylvania league and would probably raid the league taking along its star players.

Quinn does not believe that the O. P. and the P. O. M. leagues will be redistricted, although the talk through the eastern part of the state is very much in favor of such a move. He believes that both leagues will start the next season with the same clubs.

KILLS HIS BROTHER IN DEFENSE OF FATHER

Tell City, Ind., Oct. 30.—Firing in defense of his father, Charles Hughes aged 20, last night shot and instantly killed his brother, Martin Hughes, 30 years old.

Marth Hughes had been drinking, and after reaching home attacked his father, Captain James Hughes a civil war veteran. Charles Hughes entered the house as his elder brother had his father prostrate on the floor, and seizing a shotgun, the boy fired the load of shot taking effect in Martin Hughes' head, causing instant death. Charles Hughes was placed under arrest.

The father of the boy is in a serious condition as the result of the fight with his elder son.

Edwin's Explanation.

Edwin, aged three, who fuddled his small cat overnight and unwisely, appeared before his mother one day, his little face guiltily pained and a scratch upon his hand.

"What happened?" she asked.

"I beat the kitty a little," he said, briefly.

Married in Sackcloth.

In order not to lose a legacy of $25,000 left to her by an eccentric aunt, a young lady was, in France, some little time ago, married wearing a wedding dress which, though of fashionable cut, was made of sackcloth.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON A SAFE HOME TREATMENT

In S. S. S. nature has provided a certain, safe, home cure for Contagious Blood Poison. It is a medicine made entirely of roots and herbs of recognized blood-purifying value, and is the one medicine which is able to get down to the root of the trouble and remove every particle of the virus, and at the same time benefit and build up the system and general health. No harmful effects ever follow its use, as is so often the case when strong mineral medicines are used. As soon as the system gets under the influence of S. S. S. the disease begins to improve, and when the remedy has thoroughly purified the blood and driven out every trace of the poison, no signs of the trouble are ever seen again. The general manifestations of Contagious Blood Poison such as falling hair, copper-colored spots, ulcerated mouth and throat, sores and ulcers, etc., are merely symptoms of the poisoned condition of the blood, and in most cases respond quickly to local treatment, while S. S. S. is doing the necessary work of cleansing the blood. Our "Home Treatment" book is of great assistance along this line. It is a complete guide for treating the trouble, containing instructions for the different stages of the disease, and also valuable suggestions about the local treatment that will be most helpful in effecting a cure. We will be glad to send a copy of this book, free of charge, to any who desire it, and if special medical advice is wanted our physicians will take pleasure in supplying it without cost to the patient. If you are suffering with Contagious Blood Poison you can cure yourself in the privacy of your own home by the use of S. S. S., an absolutely safe remedy.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

QUIET EVENING AT HOME.

Man Relates Some Surprises His Family Prepared for Him.

"You don't know what trouble is when you're just merely married," snapped the head of an East End family, as he sat in his office looking over a bunch of newly arrived bills.

"No sir," he declared with the air of a man who knows just a thing or two of what he's talking about, "a married man isn't really in trouble until he has a big family party grown.

"Here's a bunch of little forget-me-nots about the folks at home the mail carrier just handed to me. And when I get home I'll probably run into something else to make me sweat.

"Night before last when I got home I found my two oldest girls were putting over some sort of a social affair, and it didn't look like any cheap skate sort of an affair, either. Before I got to our bedroom two of the younger girls called me in to see the presents they had bought that afternoon to take to some birthday party they were invited to the next afternoon. A minute later my wife called me in to see a new dress that our oldest daughter had bought that day. It wasn't much of a garment, either. Just a little measly $64 outfit at that. While we were looking at that my youngest girl—she's just turned eight years—came buzzing in and wanted some money to run up to the corner after some ice cream. She wasn't in on the party down below and wanted some entertainment.

"Well, my wife remarked about that time, 'you'd better hurry and get into your dress suit. You know we are going out this evening.'

"No," I says, 'I guess I'd better sneak back to the office and get to work again.'

"Nice, jolly evening of it, wasn't it?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

TWO STRANGE TREES.

The Mojava Yucca a Vegetable Freak—The Creeping Oak of Monterey.

California has one tree which is the personification of mystery. Found nowhere else in the world, it had a mysterious origin and thrives in a region of mystery.

The Mojava yucca is a vegetable freak which has developed into a species. It has the characteristics of several plants to which no relationship can be traced.

It is an endogen, yet its bark shows concentric rings such as characterize the exogenous stems. It lives and thrives in great numbers in a region early devoid of vegetation, in a land of heat and thirst and barrenness.

Another tree in California which has a peculiar personality is the creeping oak of Monterey.

Nowhere in the vegetable kingdom can be found so true a representative of monopoly. The tree is of gnarly growth, its limbs, like those of the sycamore, bending and twisting in all directions.

Wherever a branch touches the earth it takes root and becomes, as it were, another trunk, though still a branch of the main stem, drawing nourishment both from the parent stem and from the new source. In this manner the tree is spread till it has taken possession of five acres of ground, and it is still advancing.—P. E. Magazine.

She Meant a Mantle.

Thomas A. Edison was discussing at Atlantic City the various devices for increasing the brilliance and diminishing the cost of a gas jet.

"Many of these devices have for base a mantle," he said. "You know what a mantle looks like? Then you'll appreciate a remark I overheard in a hardware dealer's.

"A young woman entered the shop and said:

"Have you got those things for improving a gas light?"

"Yes, madam," said the dealer. "Here is a complete set, fittings, chimney and mantle, all for—"

"Oh, I don't want the set," said the young woman. "I've got the metal part and the chimney, but the little white shirt is busted. It's only one of them I want."

Those Feelish Questions.

"Our train struck a bear on the way down?"

"Was he on the track?"

"No; the train had to go into the woods after him."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

To Get $223 for Cat's Board.

Boston.—As payment for the board bill of an Angora cat Mrs. Elizabeth B. Myrer was offered $223 in the municipal court. Mrs. MYRER testified that the cat was brought to her by Martha W. Merrill in April, 1903. She was to care for cat at two dollars a week. The cat, unless he had cream three times a day, tenderloin twice with a side order of salmon, until 1905, when his board bill was $308. Partial settlement was made and judgment was entered for the rest.

WITH THE JACKASS BATTERY.

Men and Mules Required for Work in the Mountains.

One of the most interesting organizations which took part in the maneuvers at Camp Tacoma, Washington, of western troops under Gen. Frederick Funston was the 11th battalion, field artillery, Maj. C. A. Bennett commanding.

The battalion consisted of the seven-teenth and eighteenth batteries, sometimes referred to as "jackass" batteries, says Leslie's Weekly, because of the use of mules. The battery pieces are transported in sections on the backs of mules, the guns and carriage being divided into four parts, making four packs for the same number of animals.

This enables the batteries to be transported through the most difficult regions accessible to troops, and the guns can be brought into action in mountainous country. In the United States army these batteries are comparatively new, but they received their baptism in the Philippines and have proved their practical value in many skirmishes upon the cotas and forts of the Moros.

It is surprising how rapidly the mules are unloaded, the parts of the gun thrown together and the gun loaded, sighted and ready to be fired. At a test of the eighteenth battery the men ran the mules back fifty paces, unloaded and assembled the gun and fired in 15 seconds. This was a world's record.

The work requires not only intelligent but powerful men. The gun itself weighs 26 pounds and the trail the same, but the men handle the pieces with ease.

The mules, too, are familiar with the drill and perform their parts in a very intelligent manner. They know their respective positions, and when the load is lifted they immediately jump forward, so the piece can be placed directly on the ground.

The gun used in these batteries has a range of from 3,500 to 4,000 feet. It fires a large shell, but has a lower muzzle velocity than the larger field pieces. In design the piece is somewhat similar to the "screw" gun of the British army.
